hes of Warsaw rising leader turn to Poland

RSAW, Poland (AP) ashes of Gen. Tadeusz Komorowski, the comder of the heroic 1944 saw uprising against the s. were returned to his eland to be buried ng his fallen soldiers. Bor-Komorowski, who ied the underground e army resistance move-50 years ago, lived in until 1966, when he died ondon and was buried in nersbury Cemetery. On rday, his ashes will be to final rest with state urs at Warsaw's Powaz emetery. The ceremony part of commemorations e dramatic insurgency cost more than 200,000 n lives and was ruthlesly ed by German troops commander's call to on Aug. 1, 1944 was an to liberate Warsaw folg five years of German dation at a moment Soviet troops were ng the capital. Howere revolt was doomed to oviet leader Joseph Stadered his troops to stop et the insurgents, loyal oland's London-based nment-in-exile, bleed After signing the incy capitulation. Gen. omorowski was taken er of war by the Gen and after World War II in London, where he

in social ps welcome est ban in 1989.

ictive among Polish

: cricles. He never re-to his homeland. Durand's 44 years as part

Soviet Bloc. some

w-backed Polish politiconsidered Gen. Borowski a "war crimin-

o sent thousands to

eath in what they cons-

a political game.

to bring the comman-shes to Poland were

after the fall of com-

DELHI (R) — Indian ctivists rejoiced after ent's lower house pasaw to ban misuse of tests which have led sands of abortions of foetuses. "I think it is rtant step which will ool in the hands of ection groups." said iva of the Voluntary Association of India. ve been campagining this since 1982. The oha, or lower house. manimously to regulation d ultrasound tests. said they expect the ouse to clear the law a hitch. The lesis. re meant to track cy disorders. have d to detect and abort dren, widely consibe a social liability in here parents must ige sums in downes neir daughters martrasound tests are ly used in China for purpose. "Dowry is extent the problem someone called de c fundamentalism. said. "Sex tests are our social fabric of "said Communist" lalini Bhattacharva orders compulsory g of genetic count entres. which will re if there are com-abuse. It stops doc.

disclosing the sex of ildren and advertis-

Peres wraps up Cyprus visit

NICOSIA (R) — Israel's Foreign Minister Shimon Peres wrapped up a three-day official visit to Cyprus on Saturday spending the whole day in the resort town of Paphos, Cypriot officials said. Mr. Peres, who signed cultural and agricultural agreements and discussed bilateral relations with his counterpart Alecos Michaelides during the trip, was due to depart for Tel Aviv from Paphos Airport late Saturday. Tight security surrounded the Israeli foreign minister following bomh attacks against Jewish and Israeli targets in London and Argentina but he managed a couple of walk-abouts in Nicosia and in Paphos, where he viewed ancient mosaics. Both Mr. Peres and his Cypriot hosts played down suggestions that he would hold secret talks with Syrian officials while on the holiday island, which he described as a potential economic and political Switzerland of the Middle East. Cyprus, divided since a 1974 Turkish invasion, has offered to host Middle East peace talks.

PLO panel to collect businessmen's taxes

GAZA (R) — The Palestinian National Authority (PNA) took steps on Saturday to speed up the collection of taxes by enlisting the help of Palestinian husinesses and Israeli tax authorities, a Palestinian Liberation Organisation (PLO) official said. Mr. Taych Abdul Rahim said the authority at its weekly meeting in Gaza named a committee headed by Jamil Tarifi, in charge of civil affairs coordination with the Israelis, to obtain Palestinian businessmen's tax files from Israel. "The Palestinian authority will have ack every hysinessmen to submit a report on learned in reconstruction." businessmen's tax files from Israel. "The Palestinian authority wilt also ask every businessman to submit a report on Israeli products he imported since May 17 to enable the authority to ask the Israeli government for VAT taxes paid by them," he said. Israel imposed high taxes on businessmen in the West Bank and Gaza. The economic accord signed between the two sides in Paris in April allows the Palestinian authority to levy taxes from husinessmen. "The amount of taxes will be determined by the finance ministry and businessmen at a later date," Mr. Abdul Rahim said. He said the authority to set up a committee headed by Abraed Occasion. the authority also set up a committee headed by Ahmed Qouries, who holds the economics portfolio, to follow up on implementation of their May accord for self-rule in the Gaza Strip and Jericho.

Volume 18 Number 5675 July_ 3+

Price: Jordan 150 Fils

5 hurt in Ramallah clashes

RAMALLAH, occupied West Bank (AFP) — Israeli troops fired rubber and hullets tear-gas during clashes with Palestinians in the occu-pied West Bank town of Ramallah Saturday, wound-ing five of them, Palestinian sources said. The troops later declared the town centre a closed military area. Ramallah, north of Jerusalem, is west of the Palestinian selfrule enclave in Jericho set up in May under the peace deal between Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organisation

Woman nominated to Oman's council

MUSCAT (R) — A woman has for the first time been nominated to sit on Oman's Consultative Council, which was set up in 1991 to widen representation in government by debating proposed laws. Officials said on Saturday that the woman, whose nomination still had to be approved by the government, was among names being put forward at selection meetings in the sultanate's 50 provinces. The nomination process for the 80-seat consultative council, which resumes meetings in January, began a week ago and will continue until Ang. 15. In the Bushehr area four women attended a meeting to select candidates and one of them was nominated, officials said. The govermnent is due to consider all the nominations

Mandela meets with union federation

JOHANNESBURG (AP) -President Nelson Mandela met with powerful labour leaders Saturday, calling on workers to support his reconstruction and development programme. Mr. Mandela as criticised members of the Congress of South African Trade Union, saying strikes that have swept the country since he was elected in April will frighten away foreign investors. "Industrial peace in our country is extremely important," Mr. Mandela told reporters Saturday. He needs investment for an ambitious project to put South Africans tn work building much nceded houses, schools and roads. The federation, known as COSATU, has snapped back, demanding that the country's first blackled government stand with the black workers who helped it gain power. But both sides strove for a conciliatory note Saturday.

Bomb damages French tax office

HENDAYE, France (AP)-A homemade bomh hlamed on Basque militants heavily damaged a tax office before dawn Saturday, a day after a car-bomh linked to militants killed three people in Madnd. No injuries were reported from the bomb that went off at about 1 a.m., but the blast was heard throughout this port on the Spanish border. The explosive, planted on a window of the office, was made from a fire extinguisher filled with 50dium chlorate and wired to a timer, authorities said.

Zia opens S. Asian ministers' meeting DHAKA (AFP) — Bangadeshi Prime Minister Khaleda Zia Saturday opened a two-day meeting of South Asian foreign ministers, calling for a collective effort among member states to help the region's 1.5 billion poor. The South Asian Asso-Ciation for Regional Coopcration (SAARC), founded in 1985 at a summit meeting of regional leaders in Dhaka, groups Bangladesh, Bhutan, dia, Nepal, Pakistan, the Maldives and Sri Lanka. The creativity of the regional leadership needs to address the socio-economic ferment within our societies and lingening psycho-political reervations among member countries," said Ms. Zia.

Jordan reiterates its non-political stand on shrines in Jerusalem

PLO to send delegation to Amman

By a Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — Prime Minister Abdul Salam Majali on Saturday expressed dismay over the controversy sparked by Israel's acknowledgement of Jordan's religious role in the Islamic holy shrines in Jerusalem and said the Kingdom was only exercising its historical rights in the Holy City.

Dr. Majali was speaking to Jordan Television upon his return home from Washington after attending the June 25 summit between His Majesty King Hussein and Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin at the White House

The King and Mr. Rabin signed a document, the Washington Declaration, ending the state of war between Jordan and Israel and setting ont measures towards reaching a peace treaty. In the third clause of the declaration, Israel said it would give "high priority" to Jordan's historical role in Islamic holy sites in Jerusalem.

This was interpreted by the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) as undermining its quest for political sovereignty over Jerusalem, and despite Jordanian reaffirmations that the Kingdom's role in the Holy City had no political bearings, the organisation is pressing campaign to assert what it on Friday issued a statement sees as its right.

By P.V. Vivekanand

with agency dispatches

AMMAN — The U.S. Congress has approved the first installment of debt relief for

Jordan by incorporating a provision to the 1994 budget that would allow the Clinton administration to write off up to $220 million in debts to

The actual write-off for Jordan is expected to be around $194 million, sonrces said. Further details were not immediately available.

President Bill Clinton has asked for nearly $700 million in debt relief for Jordan to help alleviate the Kingdom's foreign deht hurden and maintain stability following the breakthrough in Jordanian-Israeli peace nego-tiations. The relief is expected to be spread over two

Jordan owes the U.S. $951

million, but the actual amount eligible for write-off

under American parameters is around the figure that Pres-

for Jordan came in the form of an additional $99 million for debt relief in the 1994

budget. Under American procedures, this meant authorising the administration

The authorisation for relief

ident Clinton asked for.

to three years.

Washington.

Dr. Majali told Jordan Television: "Jordan has exercised its right to the religious custody over the holy places in Jerusalem even before 1948," when the state of Israel was created.

Jordan maintained this role even after the 1967 war when Israel occupied the West Bank along with Arab East Jerusalem, and the Kingdom was seeking to "keep the link between the holy places and their Islamic and Arab identity," the prime minister said.
"The Washington Declaration did not establish a new fact, but only reaffirmed Jordan's full rights to the cuslody of the Islamic shrines in the Holy City," Dr. Majali

"There is no conflict between the Palestinians' political rights in Jerusalem and Jordan will continue to support their quest to regain their rull rights" from Israel, the prime minister said.

in response to a question about the possibility of a referendum on peace referred to by King Hussein in a meeting with journalists on Thursday, Dr. Majali said that such a move and its positive ontcome "will be the answer to all those who donbted the outcome of the peace pro-

assuring the Palestinians of U.S. Congress clears way for Jordan debt write-off to offer a write-off of debts

up to $220 million, said the sources, who are familiar with workings of the Amer-million, which enables the administration to write off np to $220 million of debts during fiscal 1994," said one of the sources, adding that the actual write-off for Jordan is expected to be around $194

The U.S. congressmen also stressed that further debt rehef for the Kingdom would depend on progress towards a peace agreement between

Jordan and Israel, reports from Washington said. Finance Minister Sami

Gammoh said Friday that

'unofficial" information available to him indicated

around the same amount of debt relief this year and that debt relief for fiscal 1995 was expected to be $252 million.

to Jordan, both economic and military aid, during fiscal 1994 is $24.5 million. An increase in the amount and regular contributions to the Kingdom's budget is being studied by the administration, officials said Friday, No

lief for Jordan came late Friday at a joint session of the

The approval for debt re-specifics were available.

Direct American assistance

"They appropriated $99

ican legislature.

snpport for their political claim to the Holy City. "There is no contradiction between maintaining Jordan's administration of the holy sites in East Jerusalem and the restoration of political sovereignty over the city through the Palestinian-Israeli negotiations," it said. In an interview with the Cairo-based Sawt Al Arab radio, Information Minister Jawad Al Anani meanwhile denied that there was any problem between Jordan and the Palestine National Au-

Jerusaiem. Dr. Anani emphasised that the Jordanian role in the Holy City was confined to maintaining and preserving the Islamic shrines there.

thority (PNA.) in autonomous Gaza and Jericho over

"Jordan does not have any political or territorial ambition in Jerusalem," Dr. Anani said, pointing out that the Washington Declaration did not refer to Jerusalem as a whole but only to Islamic holy places and that the issue of refigious custody as well as the political and geographic issues related to the Holy City would be discussed in the "final status" negotiations as called for in the Israel-PLO declaration of principles signed on Sept. 13.

In Gaza, a spokesman for the PNA said the authority tion headed by Faisal Hus-

(Continued on page 12)

of Representatives and Senate after a heated debate over authorising President Bill

Clinton to waive anything in the bill in national interest.

Debate on the $13.7 billion spending bill cathe close to collapse when at 3 a.m. nearly 12 hours after the conference began, the House members unexpectedly accepted a Senate amendment that would cut off aid to the Palestinian authorities in the West Bank and Gaza if the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) fails to amend its covenant calling for the destruction of Israel.

Sen. Patrick Leahy, the head of the Senate side, said the language, which climinates a clause saying the president can waive the restriction

in the national interest, crippled the president's ability to

Mr. Leahy agreed to continue the conference only after language was put in saying that the president could waive anything in the bill in the national interest. He said he reconsidered his inclination to walk out because of the urgency of getting aid to

The bill gives the West Bank and Gaza some $80

(Continued on page 12)

Rwanda.

heip the peace process.

King receives cables voicing appreciation Saturday.

AMMAN (J.T.) — His Majesty King Hussein has received a number of cables from heads of state expressing appreciation for His Majesty's wise leadership and cherished the latest steps which aim at establishing bases for peace and security in the Middle East, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, said

The cahles came from Tunisian President Zine Al Abidine Ben Ali, Italian President Oscar Luigi Scalfaro and Bulgarian President Zhelev,

Their Majesties King Hussein and Queen Noor arrived in Britain on Friday for talks on the Middle East peace process.

The King is expected to meet Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd to discuss an historic agreement he signed in Washington this eek with Israel.

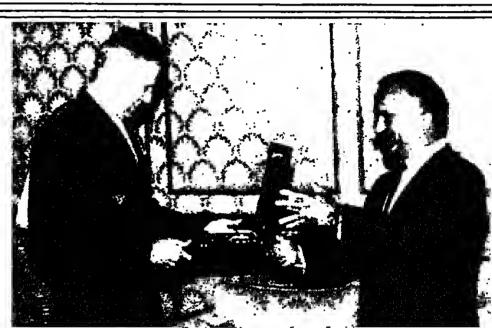

The King was met by Foreign Office officials af-ter his private jet touched down at Heathrow airport. Late Friday he is expected to fly home early King Hussein, and Israeli Prime Minister Yilzhak Rahin signed an agreement in Washington on Monday that ended the 46-year-old state of war between their countries.

Jordan honours Hoar

HIS ROYAL Highness Crown Prince Hassan, the Regent, on Saturday presented General Joseph U.S. Forces in the Eastern Mediterranean region, with the Jordanian Istlhqaq Military Medal of the First Order. The decoration, which was made in the presence of Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff General Abdul Hafez Mira'i and U.S. Ambassador to Jordan Wesley Egan, marked Gen. Hom's end of his tour of duty in the region (Armed Forces photo)

Anani: Peace treaty possible Fahd and when all agenda issues solved of Information Jawad Al Anant said in remarks broadcast Saturday that Jordan aspires to a comprehensive Arab-Israeli peace even though it is ready to make eace with Israel when all issues on the common agenda are

"If.... the common agenda between Jordan and Israel is finished, yes, I think we'll be ready to sign a peace treaty," Dr. Anani told Israel army

Israel and Jordan began peace talks on both sides of their border two weeks ago to discuss an agenda for resolving disputes over their border ine and water resources.

His Majesty King Hussein

Yitzhak Rabin signed a declaration on Monday in Washington ending a 46year-old state of war between their countries.

meetings as often as required with the aim of concil peace treaty. An Israeli official confirmed an Israel Radio report that King Hussein had asked Mr. Rabin on Friday for another meeting soon. The King said on Thursday he would send a future peace treaty with Israel to parliament for ratification and bold a referendum if needed. U.S. Secretary of State Warren Christopher said on Thursday that Jordan, which would not get advanced weapons until it signed a full peace treaty. Dr. Anani said Jordan They also agreed to hold aspired to a comprehensive peace in the region. You can't have peace without Syria or without the Palestinians or without Lebanon," he said. "We should remember that peace, real peace, is a comprehensive Dr. Anani said he believed peace moves between Israel and Jordan would spur Syria to move forward in talks with the Jewish state.

Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres said on Saturday he thought the Syrians were interested in continuing peace talks.

Iran 'ready' to cooperate

TEHRAN (Agencies) -

"Iran is ready to cooperate at the international level to comhat and eliminate terrorism around the world," the Iranian mission at the United Nations said, qnoted hy Tehran Radio.

Council condemned the carbombings in Buenos Aires and London, and called for closer international cooperation to "prevent, combat and eliminate all forms of terror-on July 18 killed at least 100 people, while bombings in London on July 26 and 27 targetted the Israeli embassy and a Jewish charity, injuring laration of the Iranians... told reporters in the resort town of Paphos. "They are just words.

But Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres was sceptical of Iran's offer to help curb international terrorism.

Iran has denied Israeli and U.S. charges that it instigated identify those responsible. Iran on Saturday branded the United States as an "in-ternational ontlaw" and sup--porter of Israeli "state terror-

Foreign Ministry spokes-man Mahmoud Mohammadi said Washington's "support for the Zionist regime's aggression and state terrorism has made the U.S. the source of state terrorism, an enemy of peace and an inter-

Mr. Mohammadi, guoted by the official Iranian news agency 1RNA, said Iran opposes and condemns every kind of terrorist move. He said Iran was "the main victim of terrorism," referring to the main armed Iranian opposition group, the Mujahedeen-e-Khalq, which has offices in several Western

(Continued on page 9)

military aid after ending its and Israeli Prime Minister against international terrorism has been promised U.S.

Iran said Saturday it was ready to cooperate in the fight against terrorism, after the U.N. Security Council ealled for international efforts to prevent attacks such as the Buenos Aires and London bombings on Jewish

"As a member of the United Nations, Iran stronglycondemns all attacks on innocent persons of whatever nationality or religion." On Friday, the Security

The attack in Buenos Aires 20 people.

"I don't believe the dec-They think they can hluff, cheat and lie," Mr. Peres, on an official visit to Cyprus,

What is needed from Iran is concrete proposals."

the bombings, while investigators have said there was so far no conclusive evidence to national outlaw."

Lebanese on alert against possible Israeli attack

BEIRUT (Agencies) -Lebanon kept up its guard on Saturday against a feared Israeli onslaught after guerrilla attacks on Israeli troops in Sonth Lebanon and bombings of Israeli and Jewish targets in Buenos Aires and London.

Beirut newspapers said most officials feared a "severe" blow after Israeli threats of "painful revenge" for recent guerrilla raids and a U.S. statement that the pro-Iranian Hizbollah must be defeated after the bomb-

Syria, the main foreign l'power broker in Lebanon, accused Israel on Saturday of preparing to launch a military attack against Lebanon. possibily within the next few hours," to force it to agree a peace deal.

Syrian government newspapers said Israel was planning to use the recent attacks on Jewish targets in Argentina and Britain as the excuse for hitting Lebanon although there was no proof of Lebanese involvement.

It was no longer a question of whether, but where and when Israel would strike. Lebanese commentators

Other officials were quoted in Beirut newspapers as the French-language saying an Israeli onslaught was unlikely because it would disrnpt the Middle East peace process and force U.S. Secretary of State Warren Christopher to delay a planned visit to the region early in

But hundreds of residents have fled southern villages fearing a repeat of Israel's week-long blitz a year ago which killed 150 people in South Lebanon, mainly civilians, and destroyed thousands of homes.

The coming days or hours will show if these apprehensions are justified,"

Lebanese daily l'Orient-le Jour said.

Sources in the south said residents feared Israel might act after the end of the Jewish Sabbath on Saturday. They said only three or four per cent of residents remained in villages like Kafra and Yater near Israel's border occupation zone, and 20-30 per cent of inhabitants of other villages left their homes at night.

Parts of the south — the lasi Arab-Israeli baltleground in the Middle East were almost permanently lit np during the night by military flares, the sources said. Lebanon's 40,000-strong army was on alert, under orders to fight back if Israel attacked, and Hizbollah's 2,000 Iranian-armed and trained fighters were lying low in the south after fortifying their outposts with antircraft guns. The leader of Hizbollah said Saturday his men would kill every Jew who comes to Beirut even if peace is brokered between Lebanon and 'We will continue the resistance and we will assassinate any Jew who comes to Beirut. We will fight normalisation by the gun, the word and every available mean," Sheikh Subhi Tufeili told the l'Orient-le Jour.

His comments were in response to a question about whether he opposed the Hizbollah leadership's pledge to stop guerrilla operations against Israelis if Israel pulls out ils occupation troops from South Lebanon.

Sheikh Tufeili and his supporters were linked by press reports in Beirut and Buenos Aires to the July 18 bombing "Again and again we de-

(Continued on page 12)

Mubarak discuss state of war with Israel. peace process JEDDAH (Agencies) --Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak discussed the Middle East peace process with King Fahd of Saudi Arabia here Saturday during a brief visit to the kingdom.

Egyptian officials said the two leaders examined the progress made on the Jordanian-Israeli track of the peace talks and the problems in reviving Israel's talks with Syria and Lebanon. Mr. Mubarak was accompanied by Egyptian Foreign Minister Amr Musa, Information Minister Safwat Al Sherif and Political Adviser Osama Al Baz.

The official Saudi Press Ageney (SPA) said Mr. Mubarak's visit was part of "ongoing consultations be-tween the two heads of state in the interests of the Arab Nation." He later left Saudi Arabia.

The Egyptian leader is due to meet Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rahin in the Egyptian Red Sea reson of Taba Sunday to seek ways to give new impelus to the Israeli-Syrian talks.

Egyptian officials said Mr. Muharak's hrief Saudi trip was to discuss with King Fahd the Israeli-Jordanian agreement signed in Washington and its reference to granting Jordan religious jurisdiction over holy sites in Arab East Diplomats said King Fahed and Mr. Mubarak also were expected to consult about Israeli charges that Iran is masterminding terrorist operations worldwide to derail the Middle East peacemaking process, and mounting reports of a likely Israeli attack on Iran-backed Hizbollah bases in Lebanon.

Mr. Mubarak in the past had also charged Iran was fomenting a tide of radical Muslim fundamentalism in Saudi Arabia, along with its Gulf partners, has been seeking improved ties with Iran after the 1988 death of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. But the two sides are in dispute with the government of Hashemi Rafsanjani over three strategically located Gulf islands claimed by the United Arab Emirates, and over the Haj.

Sudan peace talks end without accord

NAIROBI (R) - Talks between Sudan and southern rebels on ending one of Africa's longest-running civil wars bave been inconclusive, a Kenyan mediator said on Saturday.

Science and Technology minister Zachary Onyonka said the 10-day talks ended on Friday after Khartoum and rebels of the splintered Sudan People's Liberation Army (SPLA) wrangled over self-determination and the status of religion.

The SPLA has fought since 1983 against what it sees as domination of the mainly black, Christian and animist southern Sudan by the Arahised Muslim government in the north.

"in order to make headway in the peace talks, the mediators pleaded with the negotiating parties, in particular the government side, to be flexible and show more commitment and seriousness," Mr. Onyonka said in a

"After 10 days of intensive negotiations, mediators felt there was need for further consultations," Mr. Onyanka

Mr. Onyonka said another round of negotiations has been called for Sept. 5.

Diplomats said the two factios of the SPLA — one led by the movement's founder, John Garang, and another by Colonal Garang's former aide. Riak Machar — bad pushed for self-determination for the south and also wanted religious institutions separated from the state.

The two positions were unacceptable to Khartoum's Islamic fundamentalist-backed government.

The rebels had demanded that Khartoum should at least government of Lieutenant- tourn.

General Omar Hassan Al Bashir rejected this, saying Sudan was already a Loeral

On religion, Sudan's chief negotiator, Ali Al Hag, said the government saw no difficulties because southerners would be allowed freedom of worship despite a govern-ment bias towards Islam. He added Khartoum had shown willingness not to app-ly strict Muslim laws to south-

"It's the same old argument, said right positions and so in the end nothing was achieved," one Western one Western amhassador said.

Another diplomat described the talks, opened by Kenyan President Daniel Arap Moi on July 19, as a complete waste of time. Mr. Onyonka said negotiators welcomed unilateral ceasefire declared by the Khartoum government but expressed deep concern that neither party had bothered to honour .it.

The 11-year conflict has killed some 500,000 people. displaced many more and sent tens of thousands into

The latest peace bid was held under the auspices of the Inter-Government Authority on Drought and Development (IGADD) which groups Djibouti, Ethiopia, Eritrea, Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, Sudan and Somalia.

Sudan is Africa's biggest country, sprawling up the River Nile from the borders of Egypt to the heart of Rebel troops fighting the government have returned relief supplies they had looted from a barge heading for war-affected areas in agree to a referendum on sonthern Sudan, a govern-southern autonomy, but the ment official said in Khar-

MAJALI RETURNS: Prime Minister Abdul Salam Majat who returned home on Saturday after attending the July 25 summit between His Majesty King Hussein and Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin (see page one), is received upon arrival by Deputy Prime Minister Thougan Hindawi (right) and Interior Minister Salameh Hammad (Petra

Palestinian journalists fear ban on Al Nahar forerunner of crackdown

By Mariam M. Shahin Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — Restrictions imposed by the new Palestinian National Authority (PNA), that led to the closure of two Jerusalem-hased publications are being described hy some Palestinian journalists and human rights activists in the occupied territories as violation of the freedom of the

"There have been cases of Palestinian journalists being harassed or pursued on several occasions," hy the PNA said Bassem Eid, a Palestiman journalist who is one of few Palestinians to publish articles in left-wing Israeli newspapers. A columnist for the daily Al Nahar that folded Saturday on orders of PNA President Yasser Arafat, Mr. Eid said that the Palestinian journalists community was "hracing itself"

devastating bomb attacks in Buenos Aires and London

U.S. Secretary of State

Warren Christopher made a hlistering attack on the Lebanon-hased organisation,

which is financed by Iran and supported politically by

Syria, the main foreign pow-that wreak havoc and bloodshed must be defeated." Mr.

Christopher told a U.S.

Honse Committee on

"And Hizbollah's patron,

Officials in Washington and Tel Aviv say they are convinced that Hizbollah is behind acts of violence aimed at undermining the Middle

But nobody has produced

any tangible evidence against

Hizbollah, which denied involvement in the July 18'

bomhing of a Jewish charity

East peace process.

Iran, must be contained," he

"Groups like Hizhollah

er-hroker in Lebanon.

Thursday.

added.

for which it was hlamed.

for a battle for press freedoms with the new authority. "This is the beginning and the war for press freedoms is part of the process. The new government comes from environments which are oppressive and undemocratic. Thus they bave brought with them their experience of the Arab tor for B'etselem — an Israeli human rights organisation that gathers information in the Al Nahar was ordered closed by the PNA Friday.

journalist and director of distribution. "Al Nahar is published in Jerusalem and Jerusalem is not under the PNA jurisdiction yet — thus Mr. Arafat may confiscate our paper in Gaza and Jericho it he won't be able to do so in Nablus and Ramallah nor in Jerusalem," Ms. Shaaban said, in a telephone inter-any existing anthority."

At the moment there are only 'two Arabic, language dailies in the occupied territories and self-rule areas. The two, Al Quds which was traditionally seen as close to the PLO and Al Nahar which was seen as closer to Jordan, are in Argentina that killed at least 100 people and bomb attacks in London Tuesday and Wednesday that left 20

To counter the relatively independent line of the existing press which also includes almost a dozen weekhes, a new daily, Al Aqsa, has been founded under the direct auspices of the PNA.

"The Al Aqsa is the mouth piece of the PNA. It is like a government statement every morning," said Mr. Eid. "We don't mind if such a newspap-er exists but not to replace all the other papers."

"Even Al Quds has been under PNA pressure and the anthorities are trying to squeeze it out of circulation." said Ms. Shaaban.

To counter the closure of Al Nahar for what the PNA describes as contradicting "the national interest of the Palestinian people," Al Nahar and Al Quds plan an aggressive marketing cam-paign in the occupied terri-

"We have decided on a distribution and marketing campaign that will include Gaza as well," said Ms. Shaaban who was recently appointed director of distributions in addition to her job as reporter.

Palestinian journalists say they will urge Palestinian buman rights organisations as well as international nongovernmental organisations to pressure the PNA into a more "democratic" stand regarding press freedoms.
"We will use all methods to assure that we have a chance to live in the freedom we fought for so long," said Ms.

Several Palestinian weeklies were closed down by the Israeli authorities in the past, and now Palestinians fear that the Palestinian authorities will "merge the undemocratic tendencies of both the Arab governments towards their home press and the Israeli repression of Palestinian freedom of opinion, said Mr. Eid.

"We are getting ready for a parallel fight, the fight for independence and the fight for democracy,"
The Paris-based press defence group Reporters Sans Frontieres (Reporters Without Borders - RSF) protested on Friday against the

"We are shocked by the unjustified measure taken against the daily Al Nahar ... and demand it be rescinded," RSF said in a communique. The measure also affected

the weekly Akhbar Al Balad but RSF made no mention of

NEWS IN BRIEF

Yussef Islam stopped at Amman airport

AMMAN (AFP) — Britain's former pop star Cat Stevens. known as Yussef Islam since he converted to Islam, complained Saturday that border police had held him up. for interrogation at Amman airport. Police questioned him for half an hour on Thursday before allowing the Muslim activist into the country. "They asked personal questions regarding my origin, name and my father's name and profession," Mr. Islam told AFP. Mr. Islam said he had. turned down a police order to appear at the nearest police station within three days. But after contacts with a British vice consul, a police officer came to his hotel to apologise, over the case of "mistaken identity," the former singer. said. The official extended a "warm welcome." Mr. Islam said his only similar experience was when he arrived in 1988 with one of his children at Tel Aviv airport to celebrate the feast of Al Adha with the Palestinians. He was now in Jordan, accompanied by his wife and their five young children, for five days of tourism and seeing friends. Mr. Islam visited Amman several times during the 1990-1991 Gulf crisis, when he also travelled to Baghdad and Riyadh, as part of efforts to find a peaceful solution to the Iraqi invasion of Knwait. He is a member of the London-based British Muslim Conference and the organisation Muslim aid, which sends relief aid to Afghanistan, Bangladesh and several African countries.

ويسيون المتو

in Hold for a

|| Ada

O yea

22700 grav Nac bestellt

医细胞 医环状性

Migart Alec:

The party

2007 145 17 17

Obj. P. Ast. 13

Des 51 12 d

TA K (Not a

allan ment

Platture V

fermina the 2420 1 100

TO MORTHUR IN

a Edramatica

医腹部畸胎 、

≥ adurai | lac

auche General

In Water nic!

and Palace

a finday. Mini te Jumaa [].

≥sed the conf

and where

and the state of t

of Tholos

there is her

ambered show

and beams return

My (Petra)

Bismu tern

same a long

The Survey

including the

g journey dental 1 pl

i Mpulahon gr.

Chorities sc

ROA (Petra)

Chinese PM meets Egyptian defence minister

HONG KONG (AFP) - Chinese Prime Minister Li Peng said Friday Beijing wants to develop all-round cooperation with Egypt, Xinhua reported. Mr. Li made the remarks during a meeting with visiting Egyptian Defence Minister Field Marshal Hussein Tantawy, who is also commander-in-chief of his country's armed forces, China's official news agency said in a dispatch monitored here. The two men expressed the hope that their talks would enhance cooperation both in the military and economic fields, the report said, without giving details. Also present at the meeting was China's Minister for National Defence Chi Haotian, Xinhua said.

Turkey changes tactics against rebels

ANKARA (R) - Turkish security forces, fighting Kurdish rebels in the southeast, are adopting new tactics to disrupt the guerrillas' supply routes, Armed Forces Chief of Staff General Dogan Gures said on Saturday. "We have changed the concept. We are now implementing area domination. There is no advancing on the terrorists," Anatolia news agency quoted Gen. Gures as saying. "We now apply 'let them stay without logistical support - go hungry and surrender' strategy," Gen. Gures told members of the security and judicial correspondents' association. Gen. Gures said the new tactics were forcing the separatist rebels of the Kurdish Labour Party (PKK) to surrender in large numbers. He gave no figures.

Turkey to make Gallipoli green again

ISTANBUL (R) - Turkish political and husiness leaders are embarking on a project to plant millions of trees in the Gallipoli peninsula after a buge fire devastated the area this week. "The hills, now shronded with sorrow, will be green again, with the use of advanced technology," President Suleyman Demirel was quoted as saying by the Anatolian news agency after touring the World War I battlefield on Saturday. The project is to take 10 years, Mr. Demirel said. Turkey's popular Milliyet newspaper bas started a campaign to collect funds to restore the forest and firedamaged war cemeteries. The forest fire, which was brought under control on Wednesday, consumed 3,000 hectares of pine forest in an area mde famous by a costly allied failure to capture the Dardanelles Strait. The flames damaged some of the 50 military cemeteries and memorials in the area where Ataturk, founder and first president of the Turkish republic, led the Turks' successful defence against an invasion force composed mostly of Australian and New Zealand troops under British command in

Kuwait, U.S. to stage war games

KUWAIT CITY (AFP) - U.S. and Kuwaiti forces are to hold joint military exercises near the Iraqi border on the fourth anniversary of Iraq's invasion of the emirate, Kuwaiti military sources said Saturday. Giant U.S. B-52 bombers are to take part in the exercises on Tuesday, the sources said. Live ammunition was to be used in the land manoenvres in the Adri Al Khilla border zone. The sources gave to details on bow many soldiers would be involved. The Kuwaiti and U.S. armies have held regular joint exercises since the two countries signed a defence pact in September 1991, following Iraq's defeat in the Gulf war. Iraqi troops stormed Kuwait on Aug. 2, 1990 hut were driven out by a U.S.-led coalition seven months later.

Arson attack on Turkish family's house house lived in by a Turkish family overnight in Sinzig, in western Germany, but nobody was hurt, police said on Saturday. Police said the building was empty at the time of the attack, around 3.15 a.m., because the family was away on holiday. A passer-by called the fire service after seeing the flames. He told police he had seen two young people running away. Investigators said the arsonists appeared to have broken a window with a stone and then hurled a hurning object into the bouse. Structural damage was estimated at over $30,000. Police were unable to determine whether the attack was motivated by a settling of scores or by a racist attack, such as those that have left about 20 dead in the country since January 1992.

Lamaca (CY)

... Cairo (MS)
.. Beiru (ME)
. Istanbul (TK)

Spoonbender turns to art

TEL AVIV (R) — Israeli psychic Uri Geller, who has captivated audiences around the world with mysterious feats of spoon bending and watch stopping, has turned his mind to art.

Mr. Geller, who features in a new film about bis life by British movie director Ken Russell, has covered his cherished Cadillac with 5,000 pieces of contorted cutlery some apparently once used by famous personalities such as scientist Albert Einstein.

The artwork, he says, is a symbol of peace — particularly in the turbulent Middle

"One morning I woke up and I had this vision of my Cadillac riddled with bent spoons and forks," said the 48-year-old Geller, who lives in Britain.

"We are trying to show peace and the only way we can show peace, excluding the fact that the car has 'peace' written on it, is to hring Arahs and Jews together," he added. The new art work is a joint

Mr. Geller said he bent about 20 per cent of the cuttery with hrain power. Israeli artist Avi Pines, 31, bent the rest with his hands and spent six months attaching all of them to the 1976 shiny black car.

On Thursday, after shipping the car from Britain, they unveiled their handiwork on the patio of the israel museum. The car will be parked there for two months during the showing of Mr. Russell's "mindbender," a movie about Mr. Geller which has its world premiere at the said he himself appears at the end of the film to fix their watches, using his mind. He said 100,000 people called in once when he did the stunt on U.S. television.

poor in Tel Aviv, bought the expensive car in 1976, as a ternational success.

will auction it," he said. "The money will go to a good Jewish and Arab children. That's our dream.'

Passers-by could not help own first public showing at Jerusalem.

carved into other spoons in several languages, including children donated 1.000 of them. Others belonged to Einstein, boxer Mohammad Ali, actress Whoopi Gold-berg and Artist Salvador Dali.

Mr. Geller said one was a 500-year-old spoon from Tibet. The car's hood mascot is an ancient crystal ball.

The pair hope to show the car at other museums before auctioning it for charity.

Mr. Pines, a street vendor Christian cross, a Muslim

The word "peace" is Arabic and Hehrew.

museum on Wednesday. Movie posters will invite audiences to bring their broken watches. Mr. Geller

Mr. Geller, who grew up symbol of his new-found m-

'In the end bonefully we enemy number one following hut smile as the car got its the museum in occupied

- a Jewish star of David, a Buddba.

Some of the spoons have a

BEIRUT (AFP) - The Iraman-backed Hizbollah, Israel's long-standing foe in cause. I'd like it to go to both South Lebanon, has also become the West's public when Mr. Geller discovered him in Tel Aviv three years ago, sculpted some of the spoons into religious shapes crescent and one shaped like special story. British school-the occupied territories. "We hoped this would not happen but we almost expected it," said Mr. Eid after

"We will fight this closure order on all the levels," said Ikram Shaaban, Al Nahar

The closure order, say Palestinian journalists, will only increase sales of the paper — since "Palestinians are traditionally opposed to governments in their dealings both threatened by the PNA, with the press," said Mr. Eid according to journalists from wounded.

Hizbollah looms into focus after bombings making headline news after the formation of a political leadership, the Majlis Al

> Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres told AFP during a visit to Cyprus that his country had "indirect proof" of Hizbollah's involvement in the bombings.

Hizbollah, the Party of God, has been led by Sheikh Hassan Nasrallah since 1992, when his predecessor Sheikh Abbas Mussawi was killed along with his son in an Israeli air raid.

It emerged as a force to be reckoned with after Israel's 1982 invasion of Lebanon, when several hundred Iranian Revolutionary Guards (Pasdaran) entered the eastern Bekaa Valley. There are now around 50 Revolutionary Guards there.

Hizbollah set up its base in Baalbek, alongside the Pas-daran, and gradually began attracting large numbers of Muslim fundamentalists who shared the same desire to crush the "Zionist enemy" in Israel's self-declared "security zone" in South Lebanon. In 1985 Hizbollah began Shura, and the first attacks claimed by its military wing, the Islamic Resistance.

Western intelligence services accused Hizbollah of playing a major role in kidnappings of Americans and Europeans in Lebanon in the 1980s, but the movement always denied any links with the hostage-takers.

Over the years Hizboliah's operations have ranged from suicide car-bombings and large-scale guerrilla attacks to more recent deadly hitand-run attacks on Israeli positions deeper within the 'security zone." In 1993, Hizbollah operations killed 26 Israeli soldiers - twice as many as in the previous year. In recent weeks the guerrillas have also used more sophisticated weapons to strike at Israeli soldiers and their proxy Sonth Lebanon Army (SLA) militia.

According to unofficial estimates, Hizbollah has between 3,000-7,000 full-time

642362

JORDAN TIMES DAILY GUIDE AND CALENDAR

mobilising many more volun-

In 1992 Hizbollah won a major political hattle when eight of its representatives secured seats in legislative elections for the first time. But last month Hizbollah was dealt one of its worst blows when 32 trainees were killed in an Israeli air raid which devastated a training base near the border with Syria in the Bekaa Valley. Two weeks earlier Israeli commandos abducted from his Bekaa home Mustafa Dirani, a guerrilla chief close to Hizbollah, to obtain information about Israeli airman Ron Arad, whose plane

was shot down over Lebanon

in 1986. Syria, which the United States is trying to woo back to peace talks with Israel, continues to support Hizbollah and rejects Washington's calls to dishand the guerrillas.

The Lebanese government disarmed all militias after the 1975-1990 civil war, but maintains that the guerrillas have a legal right to fight the guerrillas, but is capable of Israeli occupation forces.

SINZIG, GERMANY (AFP) - Arsonists set fire to a

JORDAN TELEVISION Tel: 773111-19

PROGRAMM	ETWO
17: 00 F	ontomes en Heritage
18:30	News in French
	Fault Pas Rever
	News in Hebrew
	News in Arabic
	You Bet Your Life
	Stolen Lives
2.00	News in English
CCDI	The House of Eliott
43:39	The Second Half

PRAYER TIMES

16:23

CHURCHES Swelfich, Tel. 810740
Assemblies of God Church, Tel. 632785. St. Mary of Nazareth Church

St. Joseph Church Tel. 624590. Clarch of the Annunciation Tel. De la Salle Church Tel. 661757 Terrasancia Church Tel: 622366 Anglicas Church Tel. 630851, Tel. 628543.

Armenian Catholic Church Tel. 771331. St. Ephraim Church Tel. 771751. Amman International Charch Tel. Ammon Internation 652526. German-spenking Evangelical Con-gregation Tel. 684195 The Latter-Day Saints Tel. 654932 Church of Nazarene Tel.675691. The Evangelical Local Clowels in

Tel. al 1295

WEATHER

Normal summer weather conditions will prevail with clouds appearing at low altitudes and winds northwesterly moderate to active. In Agaba, winds will be a Orthodox Church Tel.

Min./Max. temp. Yesterday's high temperatures: Amman 28, Aqaba 35 Humidny readings: Amman 43 per cent. Aqaba 33 per cent.

supplied by the Depart-Meteorology.

. 24/36 15 /31

USEFUL TELEPHONE NUMBERS NIGHT DUTY Dr. Fakher Bilbeis 664312

Dr. Issam Al Asmar Dr. Nidal As ad Fires pharmacy
Ferdows pharmacy
Al Asema pharmac 778336 637055 Nairoukh obarmac . 623672 Al Salam pharmacy Yacoub pharmacy . 636730 . 644945 . 637660 Shmeisani pharmacy Nairoujh pharmacy 847632 RBD:

ZARQA: Dr. Ratib Atzilah 984424 Khalifeh pharmacy 985417

EMERGENCIES Food Control Centre Civil Defence Department 661111 Civil Defence Immediate

.. 617101 .. 775121 Public Security Department Hotel Complaints Price Complaints Water and Sewerage 897467

Amman Municipality 787111 121 Repairs
Abdali Telephone Repairs 623101 661101 773111 Jordan Television

Electric Power HOSPITALS

Khalidi Maternity, J. Amn

Akilch Maternity, J. Amn. 642441/2

Medical Centre 813813/32

... 644281/6

AMMAN:

Amai Hospital 674155 ZARQA: Zarqa Govt. Hospital (09)983323 Zarqa National Hospital (09)900560

Ibn Sina Hospital (09)986732

Al Hikma Modera Hospital (09)990990

IRBD: Princes Besma Hospital (02)275555 Greek Catholic Hospital (02)277275 Ibn Al Nafees Hospital (02)247100 Princess Haya Hospital (03)314111

labal Amman Maternity

QUEEN ALIA INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

FOR THE TRAVELLER

5. where it should always be veri-

Royal Jordanian (RJ) (Terminal 1)Bangkok (RJ) Damascus (RJ) Jeddah (RJ) Madrid (add) (RJ) 89:45 Aqaba (RJ Dubai, Abu Dhabi (RJ Lamare (R Beiru (RJ Madrid (add) (RJ 18:00 New York, Amsterdam (RJ

ARRIVALS

18:25

Frankfurt (R Vienna (R.) . Rome (R.) Rome (add) (RJ) 94:20 New Delhi (add) (RJ) Other Flights (Terminal 2) 04:20 Analolia (TK) · 13:30 Abu Dhabi, Muscal (GF) 14:25 Moscow (SU1

London (R

Damascus (RJ)

New Dethi (RJ)

Abu Dhabi, Dubai (RJ)

Singapore, Jakarta (RJ) Bangkok (RJ) Other Flights (Terminal 2) 05:15 . ----- Anatolia (TK) Doha, Muscal (GF)
Moscow (SU)

DEPARTURES

(Terminal 1)

12:00

Royal Jordanian (RJ)

----- Madrid (add) (RJ)

------ Aqaba (RJ)

...... New Delhi (add) (RJ)

······ Aqaba, Cairo (RJ

12:00 Vicana (RJ) 12:55 Rome (add) (RJ) 12:30 Amsterdam, New York (RJ)

HIJAZ RAILWAY TRAIN Dep. Amman ... 8:00 a.m. every Monday Arr. Demascus 5:00 p.m. every Monday Dep. Damascus 7:30 a.m. every Sanday

MARKET PRICES

Arr. Ammen 5:00 p.m. every Sunda

140 / 80 240/160 180/ 100 100 / 50 Cauliflowe 200 / 120 160/ 100 800/600 Grapes

350 / 220 450 / 350 150 / 100 140/70 Okra 950/ 650 500/ 300 Orange Onion (dry) ... Sweet Melon 240 / 160 240 / 200 . 420/ 300 . 700/ 500 .. 120/ 60 370/ 240 120 / 70

A per

JERASH in theater . a the Valence pr of Elife, of the gai Deater

High population growth rate required Investment firm projects to hire borrowing to meet needs — minister

'AMMAN (J.T.) - Jordan's tion and Development." population growth rate, currently at 4.5 per cent and one of the highest in the world, is to blame for the Kingdom's past borrowing practices that were implemented to narrow the gap among different social classes and create jobs for the unemployed by promoting services and conducting infrastructure-building schemes, according to Minister of Planning Hisham Al Khatib.

The grawth rate has drained already meagre naturai resources and adversely affected the development achievements of the past few years, added the minister at the opening of a four-day workshop entitled "Pupula-

Organised by the planning ministry in cooperation with the Amman office of the U.N. Fund for Population Activitics (UNFPA), the workshop is attended by participants from government agencies who will discuss demographic changes and their relation to development.

A report released by the National Population Com-mission last September predicted that Jordan's populatinn would reach 5.2 million by the end of the century. It said the fertility rate among women aged 15-49 stood at 5.6 per cent, one of the highest among developing na-

ly preparing for a general census later this year which will provide detailed information on the population's basic needs, said Mr. Khatib. The census will be the fourth conducted in the Kingdom, the others were taken in 1952, 1961 and 1979. Referring to the waves of migration to Jordan in the last four decades, the minister said they occurred wbcn Jurdan was facing critical economic circumstances and the added numbers of people resulted in a compounding of burdens on the country's economy and resources.

Mr. Khatih said he appreciated the UNFPA's belp in conducting surveys studies nn the country's population, resources and de-

U.N. Resident Representative in Jordan Othman Hashem said at the meeting that population changes should be taken into consideration when drawing up national strategies on socioeconomic development.

Such a policy, he said, is of vital importance to ensuring sustainable development, dealing with poverty and providing a better standard of living for the populatinn. Referring to the World

Population Conference to be held in Cairo in September, Dr. Hashem said it would help define measures to be taken at the national levels to meet the needs of individuals

200 people from southern regions

AMMAN (J.T.) — The Regent, the newly-formed lordanian Company for Investments and the Development of the Southern Regions of Jordan will soon start projects which will employ at least 200 people from the south of the Kingdom, according to Mazen Nasser, the company's general mana-

The JD 1 million company is completing feasibility stu-dies on establishing plants for manufacturing glass containers, snap and uniforms, among others products, said Mr. Nasser in a statement

Saturday. Created upon directives from His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan, the concern is owned by the Jordan Phospbate Mines Company (JPMC), the Arab Potash Company (APC) and the Jordan Cement Factories Company (JCFC).

According to Mr. Nasser the JD 1 million capital will be increased as projects are implemented, adding that fu-ture schemes planned by the management would involve the employment of up to 1,000 people, primarily from

Company sources said the initial projects will be im-plemented in Karak and Tafileh, and others will be located in several other areas in the south

Mr. Nasser said the company, which was established four months ago, aims at improving economic conditions in the soutbern governorates via these projects and the employment of local workforce.

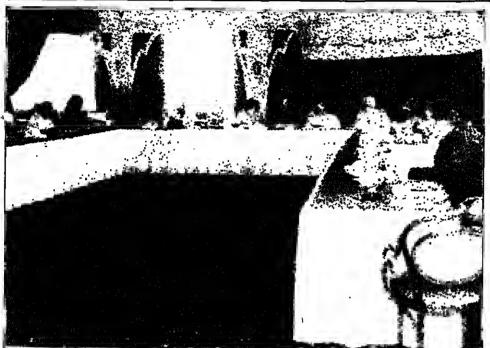

Referring to other pro-jects, Mr. Nasser said that feasibility studies are being conducted on the prospects of establishing tourism, tex-tile, shoes and leather, traditional crafts, agricultural and food processing projects.

After these projects are initiated, the company plans to set up subsidiary companies at every project in order to open the door to different investors, said Mr.

At present, the company is secking coordination and cooperation with the Queer. Alia Fund for Social Development (QAF), the Jordan Cooperative Organisa-tion (JCO) and the Jordanian Investments Cooperation to carry out these schemes.

With reference to tourism. Mr. Nasser said the company plans two major projects at Afra and Barbitah mineral springs in Tafileh Governorate and 'Ain Sara in Karak Governorate. He said the Karak Mnnicipality and the Social Security Corporation (SSC) have promised assistance and cooperation in implementing these schemes.

Members of the General Union of Arab marking the 40th year of publication of Al Writers Saturday convene at the Regency Adab magazine (Petra photo) Palace Hotel for a two-day symposium

Al Adab magazine marks 40 years on news-stands

By Angham Tamimi Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN - Al Adab magazine "was faithful to our Arab problems and crises at a time when many other Arab forums were funded by foreign agencies aiming at killing any attempt to build Arah minds," according to Ali Uqla U'rsan, president of the Arab Union of Writers

Celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Arab literary magazine at a twoday symposium meant to clarify the monthly's role in Arah cultural life, mem-bers of the General Union of Arab Writers met at the Regency Palace Hotel

Saturday. During the opening session on Friday, Minister of Culture Jumaa Hammad addressed the gathering and asked, "where are the unity anthems and the onenation motos?" Still he said, there is hope and those gathered should not giants of Arab poetry and hterature because the Arab nation will certainly give birth to other giants.

Secretary General of the General Union of Arab Writers in Jordan Fakhri Kawar talked of the pub-beation's colourful history, saying that the magazine (first published in 1953) never failed to achieve its plans. This, he said, proves how deep-rooted the magazine is among its read-

"It is a symbol for us to introduce other such publicatinns." said Mr. Kawar.

Mr. U'rsan said that he believes that Al Adab is a forum for the Arab identity. It is a bridge linking the old with the modern, he said, adding that "it did us a favour as readers, writers and publishers."

Finally, Subeil Idris, founder of the magazine, thanked the audience and promised to continue confronting this "rotten age," inside our people by some Arab systems," which he described as "traitors."

Al Adab magazine is a reknowned Arab periodical. Throughout its 40 years it has appeared continuously on news-stands in the Arab World and abroad. Its impact is evident in modern Arab literature.

The magazine has played a major role in introducing Arab authors to the rest of the world, including the rich works of writers from Egypt, Syria, Iraq, Yemen and Bahrain.

Many acclaimed Arab writers participated in the sympnsium, including: Subeil Idris, Samah Idris, Yumna Al-Ied, Ilias Khnuri, Abdul-Wahah Bayati, Tarrad Kubeisi. Hatem Scgar, Said Gbneimi, Hanna Mina, Nabil Suleiman, Sabri Hafidh, Mn'nis Razzaz; Wasini Araj, Abdul-Ilah Abdul-Qadir and Radi Boiovitch.

Spanish T.V. team completes filming

Minister sees tourism as pillar of peace, security

By Rana Husseini Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN - During a twoweek period that witnessed Isracli officials meeting their Jordanian counterparts on Jordanian soil and the signing of the Washing-ton Declaration between His Majesty King Hussein and Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rahin, a Spanisb televisinn team concluded its film making mission in the Kingdom with words of optimism and ennerete plans from Minister of Tourism Mobammad

"We have great and many challenges and opportunities, and we bave to work fast with determination and proper planlenges," said Dr. Adwan, during a video-taped interview with the Television Espanola (TVE) who were documentary programme on Jordan.

"I am very optimistic because so many possibilities are open for all parties in the region including Israel," Dr. Adwan added. The minister stressed on the future of the tourism industry pointing out that it is essential not only to Jnrdan, but to the entire region, because "tourism is the main pillar for sustained peace and security," and "it fusters human understanding and interac-tion in the lnng run. By the same token, peace is the foundation for the development of the tourism industry which depends on the creation of an environment conducive to investment and development," added

In addition to increasing the number of tourists in the region, the minister said, job opportunities are expected to multiply as is regional cooperation in the field of tourism marketing. According to Dr.

Mohammad Adwan

Adwan, the ministry is preparing a master plan for priority tourism development regions including Pct-ra, Aqaba, the Dead Sea ernment will then work towards providing the infrastructure in order to attract private sector investments, the minister added.

As for the TVE documentary programme which is expected to be broadcast in Spain in the. next few months, the minister said that it is a great opportunity for the Spanish population to get exposed to Jordan's tonristic sites since "we both have similar cultures and traditions, and enjoy good relations in many spheres."

The five-person TVE team arrived in Jordan on July 11, on two missions, to cover the peace talks and to produce a documentary programme on Jordanian historic sites.

They extended their stay because of the Jordanian-Israeli talks beld in Wadi Araba and the visit to the Kingdom of Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres. Spain, with a population of 42 million, has more than I3 local and govern-ment channels. TVE is a governmental channel and employs more than 13,000 people. It is one of two main channels in Spain.

The documentary is intended to capture Jordanian touristic sites to a background of music and natural sound effects. The film will be aired once in the next few months.

Adnan Ali Jaber, the production manager and translator, on the TVE team said the group was pleased with its accomplishments during their stay.

"I wish all the best for my country and I hope that tourism will flourish here." said Mr. Jaber, a Jordanian residing in Spain for the past 35 years.

Arab engineers plan 2 meetings

tion of Arab Engineers (FAE) Saturday opened a two-day meeting in Amman under the chairmanship of the federation's Vice President Hosni Abu Ghaida and with the participation of delegates from Jordan, Sudan and Iraq.
The delegates will work out arrangements for convening a meeting of the federation's higher council in Amman in September and pave the ground for a pan-Arah engineering conference to be

By Angham Tamimi

Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN - In an atmosphere of gaiety. The Sound and Light Theatre lit up to the warmth and universal sounds of The Family International Group Thursday and Friday nights.

The family, as they like to call themselves, is a commonwealth of independent volunteer communities which believe that sincere and ontgoing love towards feilnw man/wnman can provide the answer to the most complex problems of Music plays a very important role in their work and activities, and, the them, is a fundamental form of modern com-

Besides entertainment. the family's purpose is to convey a positive message. All their songs are sung with meaning, attracting listeners with catchy tunes

"We are a volunteer

gronp," Olfa Atalla, a

Tunisian singer of the group, told the Jordan Times. The group, formed about 20 years ago, includes 3,000 members from all over the world. Twelve of them have been in Jordan for five months and they are the ones who took to the stage at the Jerash and magical melodies.

munication.

AMMAN (Petra) - The ex- held in Sudan in February ud Mr. Abu Ghaida Mr. Abu Ghaida, who is also president of the Jordanian Engineers Association (JEA), said that the participants will discuss engineering issues facing the federation and the role of engineering unions and scientific research centres in promoting the professinn in the Arah World. The, FAE, which was established in 1963, aims at pooling Arab engineers' re-

Refugee host countries agree to urge more concern for Jerusalem issue AMMAN (J.T.) — The Arab countries hosting Palestine refugees concluded a weeksupport the plan. Mr. Ghosheh said that the meeting in Damascus and bave agreed to step up efforts at the international level to pressure Israel not to pursue its policy of changing. the character of Jerusalem. according to the head of the Palestine Affairs Department Asem Gbosbeh.

Mr. Ghosheh, who returned from the meeting Friday, said that delegates from Jordan, Palestine, Syria, Lebannn, Egypt and the Arab League said their gov-said Mr. Ghosheb, called on Arab states to adopt a unified plan that would secure continued material and moral aid to the Palestinian e people, helping them to protect their homes, lands and other property and abort Israel's attempts to seize Arab-owned property.

He said that the plan envisages financial assistance from the Organisation of Islamic Conference. (OIC) which operates the Jerusalem Fund and calls on Islamic states to statement stressed that Arab

ral part of the occupied West Bank and urged Arab states to discuss the future of Jerusalem at the Arab League in Cairo to formulate a collective Arab policy regarding

The delegates discussed social and economic conditions in the occupied Arab lands and recommended that a study on stimulating the work of a Palestine fund for development be prepared and submitted to the Arab

Princess Basma returns from Stockholm meeting

AMMAN (Petra) — Her Royal Highness Princess Basma returned to Amman Saturday after leading a Jordanian delegation to an international roundtable meeting held in Stockholm, Sweden, to discuss world social developments. The U.N.-sponsored meeting convened for four days during which partici-pants focused on sustainable development and achieving a balance between resources and population growth

Authorities seize unlicensed

ZARQA (Petra) - Health and public safety pipes.

teams in Zarqa Saturday announced the seizure of unspecified quantities of unlicense drugs. Quantities of medicines worth 10040,000 were found in a store which was shut down by the authorities.

Gas station fire injures youth

AMMAN (Petra) — A fire at an old gas station in Ras Al Ain district in Amman caused the injury of a 14-year-old boy and material damage, according to the Public Security Department (PSD). The boy tossed a lit cigarrette near a fuel tank causing the fire to ignite and burst one of the station's fuel

NEWS IN BRIEF

WHAT'S GOING ON

JERASH FESTIVAL

- ☆ Concert by Ali Abdul Sattar of Oatar at the South Theatre at 20:30.
- ☆ Performance by the Dead Sea Fishing Club at the Artemis Theatre at 19:00.
- Monodrama "Anthology of Martyrdom and Exile" at the Artemis Theatre at 21:30.
- ☆ "Poems and Musical Dialogue" at the
- Garasia Theatre at 20:00. ☆ Monodrama entitled "The Danger of Smoking" at Garasia Theatre at 20:45.

☆ Film entitled "The Cowboys" at the American Center at 5:00 p.m. (128

A Play in Arabic entitled "A Black Comedy" by Majd Al Qasas at the Royal Cultural Centre at 8:30 p.m.

EXHIBITIONS

- * "Happy Prince" play at the Sound and * "A one-painting exhibition" (about 15-Light Theatre at 19:00 p.m. metre long which took two years to com-* "Poems and Musical Dialogue" at the Gallery for Culture and Art (Tel. 695291). One-day flower exhibition at the Jordan
 - Inter Continental Hotel (5:00 p.m. 9:00 D.M.). ☆ Exhibition of Arabic calligraphy at the Royal Cultural Centre.
 - ★ Exhibition of Chinese products at the Royal Cultural Centre.

sources and their efforts to ernments would follow ap advance the development of League Council, the Arah World.

The Family International Group performing a Jordanian folklore piece as part of their repertoire at the

the family performs in schools, hospitals, and to victims of disasters to offer people a hope that life is worth living. "We also use music for educational purposes: to teach students good values. We hope to make positive contributions to help people sense the world better," added Ms. Atalla.

Festival of Culture and During Thursday's performance, The Family In-ternational Group pre-Although music has a sented songs in English on various topics: "Smile," major role in the group's work, it is used only as a "Peace in the Middle of a Storm," "Avnid Argu-ment," "Keep Up Fightmeans to convey a mes-With a quiet smile on her face, Ms. Atallah said that ing." They also performed other uplifting songs, among which were: "Latin Beat," and "Looking at the Bright Side of Life." They concluded their 10-song repertoire with an additional two Jordanian folklore pieces.

"Around the world, there are many problems, and different influences, so we try to make them positive." Canadian singer Norman James told the Jordan Times. "We've been to 50 or 60 countries, and we felt welcomed. People like our style. In fact they need it and appreciate

Because it is a volunteer

Jerash Festival of Culture and Arts (Photo by Yousef Al 'Allan)

effort, the group does not make a living out of their performing. They depend upon some sponsors here and there, Mr. James explained. "There are many companies around the world interested in financing our programmes," be said. "We are indigenous, independent, but we correspond with each other, and we always meet friends around the world," added

Ms. Atalla. Asked how she became involved in this voluntary work, Ms. Atalla said, "I always wanted to help others. And when I was working in Japan, I met some of The Family International Group. I ain really happy doing this, especially when I see people happy when listening to us."

As for Norman James. be "met a family in Canada a long time ago, who used to give a hand to people in need. I admired them, and wanted to do the same."

The Family International Group expressed sincere appreciation for His Majesty King Hussein's attempts to achieve peace in the region. They said they hoped to bave enough power to help people as much as King Hussein does.

مكنا منه للمل

Aristide clears way for Maiti invasion resolution

cies) — Haiti's president. Jean-Bertrand Aristide, called for quick and decisive action to end the suffering of his people, thereby clearing the way for a resolution allowing a U.S. invasion.

In a letter to the United Nations Friday Mr. Aristide said he believed the moment had come for the international community "to take swift and decisive action under the authority of the United Na-

Asked if the letter had received a favourable reaction, U.S. Ambassador Madeleine Albright said "uhsolutely.

Security Council nego-tiators late Friday reached is oud agreement on an American-initiated draft resolution and sent it to their respective capitals for Council President Jamsheed Marker of Pakistan said members would inform him when they were ready to vote. He set tentative meeting dates for Saturday and Sunday but most delegations thought Sunday was more likely.

Russia still had some objections and Brazil's ambassador said his government still needed to study the

Mr. Marker said Mr. Aristide's letter was "central, was Without that letter there would be no resolution, there would be no action."

The letter had been sought by most delegations, particularly Latin American and Carribbean states, all of whom except Argentina are uneasy about a possible U.S. invasion in the Western hemisohere.

At issue is a resolution seeking approval for a multinational force to use "all necessary means" to bring about the departure of Haiti's military. If the United States invades, it expects to use more than 15,000 troops.

The U.S.-led force would be monitored by a small group of U.N. military observers, and the United Nations is also to field peacekeepers after the invaders leave. The resolution asks for 6,000 peacekeepers. Russia and some other delegations insist U.N. officials first brief the Council on what these troops would do, believing the number is too

igh. Mr. A*r*istide said in his lener the Haitian military had increased the suffering of the country's citizens and forced many to flee.

He called the military leaders, who overthrew him in a September 1991 coup, arrogant and provocative in their continued defiance of the international community.

NEWS IN BRIEF

"This attitude has contri-

fundamental." adding: buted to the alarming deterioration of human rights in Haiti and to the dramatic increase in the suffering of the Haitian people who bave been forced to search for refuge outside their national borders," he said.

Mr. Aristide did not directly mention an invasion or use of force. He is forbidden by Haiti's constitution to call for an intervention by foreign

Meanwhile, some 935 U.S. Marines and navy forces Friday carried out a landing exercise on a Puerto Rico beach, a short distance away from blockaded Haiti, informed sources said.

The exercise, involving live ammunition, included the search of mock housing and infra-red detection opera-

The men involved in the exercise were from among the 2,000 Marines and 1,700 sailors deployed aboard landing sbips cruising off the blockaded Caribbean island nation of Haiti.

U.S. President Bill Clinton has warned of a possible U.S. intervention in Haiti against the military regime there.

"If the Marines go into Haiti, we're the first ones to hit the ground," Marine Lt. Col. Dave Yoong said. The commander of the landing battalion said he knew of no plans for a Haitian invasion. The assault provided furth-

There is virtually no chance pro-Aristide groups will participate and Haiti's er saber rattling to intimidate broke the monotony of weeks at sea for the marines.

Haiti's military-backed government pressed ahead Friday with discussions on new elections this year even though most groups here say they will boycott any poll.

Officials said the government of Interim President Emile Jonassaint, which is not recognised by world community, was still uncertain whether to hold elections just for parliament or for the presidency as well.

"We have not taken any final decision and we are consulting the different parties," a government adviser told speaking on condition that he not be named.

Well-informed sources said the army commanded by General Raoul Cedras, which was behind the installation of Mr. Jonassaint as temporary president in May, had not made a final decision.

With the junta under pressure to step down in favour of deposed President Aristide or face a possible U.S. invasion, officials here announced plans Tuesday to hold elections in early

But most political groups in Haiti bave declared their intention to boycott the elections, no matter what form they take.

two socialist groups, the National Congress of Democratic Movements and the Nationalist Progressive Revolutionary Party, will also stay away. The country's former centrist prime minister, Marc Bazin joined the boycott Friday, saying: "The question is not how to use the elections to get out of the crisis but bow to get out of the crisis to have these elections."

Mr. Bazin said he saw only one way out of the situation: Peaceful compromise on the basis of reciprocal sacrifices." One of the few yet to take a stand on the elections in

Leslie Manigat, the former Christian-Democrat president who is in favour of keeping both Mr. Aristide and Gen. Cedras out of

Most observers bere see few signs of an end to the political impasse at a time when the impoverished Caribbean country is increasingly feeling the pinch of a total economic embargo imposed by the United Na-

Relief workers and church sources say the international embargo, which bas been considerably tightened since May, had led to the deaths of at least 12,000 people, mainly women, children and the elderly.

U.N. officials say another 3,000 people have been killed in the political repression inflicted on the country.

While the United States considers military action here, pro-Aristide groups have come out against an invasion and are counting on apopular uprising to overthrow the junta — a possibility seen as remote. One merchant here, who asked not be named, called bimself a political "hostage" in the crisis. "We are condemned to suffer in silence while the international community waits for the re-sults of the sanctions," be

In Washington, French Defence Minister Francois Leotard said that an iovasion did not seem imminent but that he had discussed a possible U.S. intervention" with U.S. Vice President Al

Mr. Leotard also added that France was willing to approve in principle a proped U.N. resolution the United States has presented to the U.N. Security Council which effectively would give the nod to a U.S.-led multinational force in Haiti.

and its people."

their president.

reassert control.

people.

The Moscow government's statement, issued after three years of indecision over

Chechnya's attempted secession effectively called on the Chechen people to topple

The statement, which followed a much softer line

taken by President Boris

Yeltsin earlier this week, seemed to indicate that the Kremlin was ready to act to Chechen leadership bas become the main destabilising factor in the north Cancasus... organised criminal groups permanently infiltrate

from Chechnya... to commit dangerous crimes," it said, accusing Mr. Dudayev of supressing opposition by force and killing hundreds of

"The Russian government

declares with determination that if violence is used against

Russia's citizens in Chechen

Republic, be they Chechens or Russians, it will be obliged to protect them in accordance with the Russian constitu-

The pobcy of the current born 3 years later

Maria Maria

Red that

RE SERVICE OF THE SER

N SHEET !

(jenośni nadbet

zistike katale tel

owers IX

MILL N

July 1

93. Ru . . .

general S

POST FOR LAND

governor have to 28 coup No.

DM & WARR

2 North 201

in move and

Displacement and the Bill 2 West van

Z≓ I kw h-r-

235 pp: n

THE PLANT OF THE PARTY.

Batter war to die

We remained it to a

1960 - di 1960 -

oforer on action

Temporary and an according

ed femer Anne ku or Rodania

g by ciumcini ...

in manager ...

ik dedamen

Botto - with are and German entille ff c a projound 1021

Serbs had theil

Ter called an

ja geip felbiffil

ern reconsider

gate and to be conti-budowil ..

ie minister, "i.

and equal to a second gainglind of

gacasipe mist. 110

tak nego dad

om Bunnia

pe une comi

mber seen and

* Seile canna

seed angula in a

e pacies mineral

Factorial spicio

" ge to diabe the

Sorte and

Standard Lines

Andrea Korra (V.)

2 water part

Said Meaning

Tankling ini:

dell of the sect.

to Deleter Min

Caber mi a deci:

ambo

 $\mathcal{M}_{0M/p_{1}MH}$

 $\mathcal{A}_{\{0\}}^{\mu_{\alpha}} \mathcal{A}_{\{1\}}^{\mu_{\alpha}} \mathcal{A}_{\{1\}}^{\mu_{\alpha}} \mathcal{A}_{\{1\}}^{\mu_{\alpha}}$

Back Conference

Literature 1

by form the 141.

Signature of the state of the s tapreved our dieace plan

en ithi phat.

'Time-warp' triplet

LONDON (AFP) — A baby boy conceived at the same time as bis twin sisters was born last week, three and a balf years after their arrival. the press reported Saturday. Peter Hudson, 46, a builder, took out a £10,000 ($15,000) loan to pay for in-vitro fertilisation. Doctors took 20 eggs from his wife Deirdre, 30, and produced 15 embryos. Three were implanted and twin daughters Imogen and Robyn were born in 1991. The rest of the embryos were frozen. Two years later, the couple decided they wanted a third child and asked the doctors to "defrost" the remaining embryos and implant Three were successfully implanted and sadly they were all lost," Peter Hudson was quoted as saying. "We simply bad to try again and the remaining embryos were used." 'Again, two were lost," he said, but one survived and Gny was born last week. Peter Hudson said in the struggle to have a family, the couple fell behind with their bills and had to sell their house. "Now we are totally broke, but totally happy. A friend got in touch and said he had heard about our plight and did an amazing thing — he gave us his cottage in Deal (soutbern England) where we live now," he told The Times newspaper. A report in the Daily Telegraph quoted test tube fertility expert Dr. Peter Brinsden as saying that "time-warp" triplets would become more common as increasing numbers of babies are born from frozen embryos. He added that the triplets are not identical as they came from separate eggs, although from the same batch of embryos.

211,000 young people take a vow of chastity

WASHINGTON (AFP) - A total of 211,163 young Americans of both sexes took a public vow_of chastity before marriage Friday by planting signed cards proclaiming their sexual abstinence on the lawn of the Mall in Washington. President Bill Clinton received a delegation of young people at the White House who had responded to 'The True Love Waits" movement launched by Bantist congregations in the southern states. The move-Christian organisations and denominations. The signed cards bore the legend: "Bebeving that true love waits, I make a commitment to God, myself, my family, those I date, my future mate and my future children to be sexually pure until the day I enter marriage." Three quarters of all young people in the United States have sexual intercourse before leaving secondary education and 40 per cent are sexually active when they enter ninth grade, at age ways of suspending Russian television broadcasts throughout Chechnya as they were waging a "psychological war against the Chechen state

14 to 15, according to a study published in 1990 by the Centres for Disease Control. Chinese province battles rampant sex

HONG KONG (R) - The fight against a rising tide of prostitution in China is being thwarted by complacent officials who consider it a necessary evil that coold improve the investment environment, Chinese newspapers reported. Years of communist puritanism had greatly reduced prostitution and drugs in China, but newly rich coastal provinces say they are now fighting a relapse. Booming Guangdong province, whose exports accounted for over 30 per cent of the national total, recently announced a campaign against "the seven social evils", the term China uses for crimes including prostitution, "Some (regional) party leaders think these evils are inevitable... or harmiess, and can even improve the investment environment," said the official Guangzhou Daily received Friday. The daily Nanfang Ribao reported police in Foshan arrested over 30 prostitutes and more than 20 customers after a raid on an entertainment centre highly popular for its all-in-one service - namely alcohol, sex and gambling. The Guangzhou Daily said Haizhou district police sentenced two women to 15 days detention for taking part in a striptease show. The women were part of an eight-women troupe touring the province charging customers 10 yuan ($1.20) per ticket. This latest crackdown is just the latest in a series of on-again off-again anti-vice campaigns.

Chechnya almost 'out of control'-Russia called for investigations into

MOSCOW (Agencies) — Unrest inside Chechnya has plunged the Russian separatist republic into a virtual state of lawlessness, the Russian government charged Friday. In a statement to the ITAR-TASS agency, the government said Chechnya was raging "almost out of control," directly blaming the North Caucasus republic's President Dzbokbar Dudayev for the deteriorating situation.

The statement came hours after the bloody end to the fourth mass-hostage-taking in southern Russia in eight months, all of which have been linked with the tiny Muslim state.

Mr. Dudayev's "ambitious" pobtical strategy which tried to present Russia as the enemy of the Chechen peo-ple" had led to the republic's isolation and was "the principal factor in the destabilisation of the North Cancasus," the statement said.

Sources elose to the Chechen opposition say armed pro- and anti-Dudayev factions have been embroiled in clashes for the last 10 days, with the latter taking control of several regions.

Mr. Dudayev proclaimed the republic's independence at the end of 1991 and dis-

Moscow called for constructive dialogue between the rival camps, warning that it would be "obliged" to protect Russian citizens in the republic if they fell victim to the unrest. Russia also stressed there had been a "strong upsurge in criminality" in the region.

In each of the four mass kidnappings in southern Russia since December the kidnappers have either been identified as Chechens or bave sought to flee with their. ransom to the mountainous

The four attacks bad several other elements in common: Well-armed gunmen seized a busload of hostages, demanded millions of dollars ransom and a get-away belicopter. A spokesman for Russia's counter-intelligence service acknowledged Friday that each of the four incidents bore similarities and said they might bave been masterminded by a single group.

A senior official in Mr. Dudayev's intelligence services. Khamid Dzbamaldayev, countered Friday that the Russian Secret Service had been behind the four attacks.

Mr. Dudayev, meanwhile, told a cabinet meeting in the capital Grozny that be had separatist groups have warned that the indefinite strike would last until the release of their leaders. They have also demanded the witbdrawal of Indian troops from a sacred Muslim shrine in

JKLF leader Yasin Malik,

Shakeel Ahmad Bakshi,

leader of the banned ISL, and 11 other Muslim separatist leaders were arrested

Thursday during a protest at Kashmir's holiest Islamic shrine, the Hazratbal Mos-

They were protesting against the bunkers erected

by Indian paramilitary troops strike inside the mosque to demand the dismantling of the security pickets around the lakeside shrine. Indian troops erected the checkpoints in November following a month-long army siege of the Hazratbal Mosque to flush out several dozen Muslim guerrillas boled up inside.

Although the mosque remains open, most Kashmiri Muslims have refused to visit it until the Indian troops leave the area. Around 200 to 250 faithful pray there every India accuses neighbouring Pakistan of arming and trianing the Muslim militants battling Indian rule. Islamabad denies the charge, but gives moral support to what it describes as a legitimate struggle for self-determination.

Nearly 10,000 people have

Senate explores suicide of Clinton lawyer

The U.S. Senate is kicking off its Whitewater hearings by exploring a topic that was taboo for the House: The suicide of White House lawyer Vincent Foster.

After opening statements Friday, the Senate Banking Committee is to hear from police and forensics experts who ruled that Mr. Foster who handled Whitewater legal matters for the president — took his own life.

Mr. Foster was found dead of a gunshot wound on July

The second secon

outside Washington.

bípartisan decision to review the matter. Republicans because of the attacks on the findings — face the greater danger of political backlash if the public thinks that consideranon of this matter is unseemly.

information, but was extraordinary for the 10 top White House aides who sat together at the witness table.

Over a span of 12 hours. under investigation.

their response: "Nothing bappened."

Breyer confirmed to Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AFP) - The Senate bas overwhelmingly confirmed President Bill Clinton's nominee Stephen Breyer

to the nine-judge U.S. Supreme Court. Reflecting broad bipartisan support, the vote was 87-9 in favour of the -year-old Boston Judge who will be sworn in next week. He replaces retiring Justice Harry Blackmun. President Bill Clinton introduced Judge Breyer to a Boys Nation gathering at the White House. Judge Breyer is his second nominee to the bigh court after Ruth Bader Ginsberg, a women's rights advocate who joined the court last year. Indge Breyer and Judge Ginsberg on the Supreme Court, Mr. Clinton said, "shows we can have excellence on the Supreme Court that unites the American people rather than divides them.' Judge Breyer will be the 108th justice to sit on the court, the top legal authority in the United States which rules on many of the leading controversial issues before the country. Both Democrats and Republicans voiced strong backing for him, with Senator Edward Kennedy, a Massachusetts Democrat and Orrin Hatch, the ranking Republican on the Senate Judiciary Committee praising his honesty and integrity.

Salladur is ahead in polls

PARIS (AFP) - French conservative Prime Minister Edouard Balladur would beat all potential rivals on the left if a presidential election were held now, according to an opinion poll to be published Sunday. In a contest with Jacques Delors, the Socialist outgoing European Commission president, Mr. Balladur would score 57 per cent against 43 per cent for Mr. Delors, the poll by the IFOP institute showed. He would also beat former Socialist Party leader Michel Rocard 66 per cent to 39. But Mr. Delors would defeat neo-Gaullist leader Jacques Chirac, 52 per cent to 48

Armenians protest against government

MOSCOW (AFP) — Some 50,000 Armenians demonstrated calmly in Yerevan late Friday to protest continuing economic misery under President Levon Ter-Petrossian, ITAR-TASS news agency said Saturday. The rally was organised by the National Democratic Union, made up of former Ter-Petrossian allies, turned opponents. No violent incidents were reported, but speakers called for the resignation of the government, elections and a new constitution. Achot Mannutcharian, a former presidential advisor on internal security, said Armenia had become a police state and accused the Interior Ministry of having links to organised crime. About 25,000 people attended another National Democratic Union rally in Yerevan on July 1. Armenia's severe economic crisis has been sharpened by the government's support for Armenian separatists in Nagorno-Karabakh, a mountainous enclave inhabited mainly by Christian Armenians in Muslim Azerbaijan. The Yerevan government officially denies involver grt in the war.

Emergency declared in Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, Puerio Rico (AP) — Gov. Pedro Rossello declared a state of emergency and called out the National Guard Thursday to help Puerto Rico deal with its worst drought in more than 30 years. Mr. Rossello also asked U.S. Agriculture Secretary Mike Espy to declare this U.S. commonwealth's farming industry in a state of disaster and allocate federal funds. "I submit this urgent pention with regret, after concluding, after many months of determined effort and careful evaluation, that the government of Puerto Rico must now seek aid to fight the devastating impact on our territory of the most severe drought in more than 30 years," Mr. Rossello said in a statement. A drought that began last September has cut into agriculture and forced water authorities to begin rationing in May. It has also hit tourism and industry on this caribbean island 1,000 miles (1.600 kms) southeast of Miami. Puerto Rico has received only 64 per cent of its normal rainfall this year. The water level at the major reservoir that serves the San Juan area is more than 20 feet (9 meters) below capacity. Compounding the problem, the 31-year-old Carraizo Reservoir is so clogged with accumulated silt that it has only 35 per cent of its original capacity.

Kok to form new Dutch government

THE HAGUE (AFP) — Queen Beatrix of the Netherlands on Friday asked socialist Vice-Premier and Finance Minister Wim Kok to form a new government made up of the Labour Party and two liberal parties, it was announced here. Mr. Kok, who had been asked by Queen Beatrix on July 6 to look into forming a new coalition, handed over his report to her Friday and was immediately told to go ahead. Following consultations with the country's four main political parties. the PvdA (Labour Party), the VVD (right wing liberals), D66 (left wing liberals) and the CDA (Christian Democrats) Mr. Kok proposed what he called a "violet" coalition comprising the PvdA, VDD and D66. Mr. Kok said the three parties were all willing to take part in a coalition

although they reserved the right to discuss and carry out further work on his proposed government programme, in particular on Mr. Kok's proposed budget for 1995.

U.N. creates post of inspector general

UNITED NATION (R) - The 184-member General Assembly created an inspector general's Friday to probe mismanagement and waste in the United Nations after months of vigorous lobbying by the Clinton administration. The new post, called the Office of Internal Oversight Services, has the authority to initiate and carry out investigations into all U.N. programmes, including peacekeeping, after growing criticisms of waste and abuse. Whistle-blowers will be protected. With the United States already in arrears to the United Nations for more than $1 billion in dues and peacekeeping costs, the U.S. Congress last year threatened to withhold more money unless an inspector-general was appointed. "The passage of this resolution constitutes an storic step forward for the United Nations," said U.S. Ambassador Madeleine Albright in her speech to the assembly. "It establishes a mechanism with the independresources and clout to make a real difference in how this institution operates. And it will be good for those — our taxpayers — who pay the U.N.'s bills," she said.

Bhutto orders Karachi cleaned up

KARACHI (AP) - Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto spent this week getting reacquainted with her troubled hometown of Karachi, a city where few people have electricity but most own guns. A week of feuding between militant Shifte and Sunni Muslim groups has given rise to sectarian bit squads. At least six well-known Shiite or Sunni activists bave been gunned down. Profit-driven crime is also soaring. On Thursday, heavily-armed bandits pinned down dozens of police in a three-hour gunbattle. One police officer was killed and several were wounded, but all the criminals escaped, according to police officials. If that weren't enough, unusually heavy monsoon rains have left the city's poorest wading waist-deep in water. Sewage lines have backed up, mountains of rain-soaked garbage are crawling with rats, and authorities are trying to stave off a cholera epidemic. An estimated 1.5 million illegal immigrants, mostly from Bangladesh, Iran and India, bave flooded into this city of nine million searching for jobs. Many have brought their old

2 ex-ministers arrested in Gambla

DAKAR (R) - Gambia's new head of state Lieutenant Yayah Jammeh said Friday two army captains who were sacked from the cabinet had been arrested on suspicion of planning to sabotage bis coup. Lt. Jammeh told Senegalese Television Captain Shamsudeen Sarr, sacked Wednesday from the Trade Ministry, and Captain Omar Cham, the former information minister, had given information to the former government of ousted President Sir Dawda Jawara. Lt. Jammeh said they had given army uniforms to ex-soldiers who planned to set up illicit road blocks and carry out looting. They were sacked from the cabinet Wednesday in the second reshuffle since young officers led by Lt. Jammeh ousted Sir Dawda last Friday. Vice-President Sana Sabally Thursday denied talk of a counter-coup and said Lt. Jammel had wanted to put more civilians in his government. In the Gambian capital Banjul, police said Sir Dawda's Local Government Minister Yaya Ceesay had been arrested trying to flee to the neighbouring Senegalese province of Casasmance disguised as a woman. They said six former cabinet ministers were now in detention. A Gambian delegation led by Foreign Minister Bolong Sonko visited Senegal Friday and pleaded for the outside world to have patience and judge the army-led government by its actions rather than rush to

MX missile hit by gunfire

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif (R) - An unarmed MX nuclear missile being shipped in a railroad boxcar was hit by random gunfire, causing at least $11 million in damage, the air force said Friday. The $70 million missile, also known as the Peacekeeper, was hit by one bullet each in its first and second stages on its way last month to Vandenberg Air Force Base from F.E. Warren Air Force Base near Cheyenne, Wyoming, said First Lieutenant John Dorrian. The damage to the MX, part of America's stockpile of intercontinental ballistic missiles, was discovered June 20 during a routine inspection, the Vandenberg spokesman said. The two stages were "rendered inoperable" and have since been shipped to a missile silo in Utah to be destroyed, Lt. Dorrian said, The Federal Bureau of Investigation and air force officials were investigating the incident but so far have not determined where the disassembled missile was hit along its route, he said. "Right now they're treating this as a random act and not something that was calculated," Lt. Dorrian said. "The total estimate of damage would be at least $11 million."

solved parliament in April tion," it added. Indefinite strike hits Kashmir

SRINAGAR, India (AFP) - An indefinite strike ordered by Muslim militants to protest the arrest of their top leaders paralysed normal life Saturday in Kashmir, officials said.

Meanwhile, seven people died and 20 houses were gutted Saturday during a fierce gun battle between Muslim rebels and Indian troopers in the Kashmiri town of Spore, 55 kilometres north of Srinagar, police said.

In Srinagar, government offices, banks, shops and schools shut Friday in line with the strike called jointly by the outlawed Jammu and Kashmir Liberation Front (JKLF) and the Islamic Students League (ISL).

Private vehicles went off the streets and residents stayed indoors as the general strike took hold in Srinagar, Kashmir's summer capital and urban hub of anti-Indian rebellion raging in the Himalayan region.

The JKLF and the ISL

around the shrine, which houses a sacred hair which Kashmiri Muslims believe came from the beard of the Propbet Mohammad. The Muslim separatist leaders were driven away in a bus to an unknown destination by Indian troops. Police say Malik, who returned to Kashmir in May after four years in prison, had wanted to launch a hunger died in Kashmir, India's only Muslim-majority state, since 1989 when the anti-Indian rebellion in the Himalayan territory turned violent.

WASHINGTON (AP) — 20, 1993, in a Virginia park

Even though there was a

The House Banking Committee conducted its second Whitewater hearing Thursday. It produced little new

Republicans insinuated these top-echelon officials - and an earlier witness, former White House Counsel Bernard Nussbaum - acted improperly once they learned that President Bill Clinton's former land venture was

Counselor to the president Mark McLarty summed up orn 3 years later NDON (AFP) - A bab, Onceived at the same as his twin sisters was

n last week, three and a years after their arrival press teported Saturday, er Hudson, 46, a builder, k out a £10,000 ($15,000)

n to pay for in vitro fenj.

n to pay 101 III-vitro ferti-tion. Doctors twok 20 eggs n his wife Deirdre, 30, produced 15 embryos, eee were implanted and daughters Imogen and

yn were born in 1991

rest of the embryos were

en. Two years later, the ple decided they wanted

d child and asked the tors to "defrost" the re-

ning embryos and implant

n. "Three were success.

implanted and sadly were all lost, peter dson was quoted as ng. "We simply had to try in and the remaining bryos were used."

ain, two were lost, he

, but one survived and was born last week, Pe

Judson said in the sing.

to have a family the le fell behind with their

and had to sell their

c. "Now we are totally

e, but totally happy A d got in touch and said

ad heard about our plight

did an amazing thing—ave us his cottage in Deal thern England) where we now," he told The Times paper. A report in the Telegraph quoted test fertility expert Dr. Peter sden as saving that

e-warp triplets would me more common as ining numbers of babies

born from frozen

yos. He added that the

ets are not identical as came from separate

although from the same

of embryos.

.000 young

ple take a

v of chastity

HINGTON (AFP) - A

of 211,163 young Amer-

of both sexes took a vow of chastity before age Friday by planting

d cards proclaiming sexual abstinence on the

of the Mall in Washing-

President Bill Clinton

ved a delegation of people at the White who had responded to

True Love Waits"

nent launched by Bapern states. The move is now supported by 26

ian organisations and ninations. The signed bore the legend: "Br that true love waits. I a commitment to God.

my family, those | ny future mate and my children to be sexually intil the day I enter ge." Three quarters of ing people in the Un-

ates have sexual inter-

before leaving seconducation and 40 per

e sexually active when

iter ninth grade, ai age

5, according to a study

ed in 1990 by the Cen-

ese province

KONG (R) - The

gainst a rising tide of ition in China is being

ed by complacent offi-

10 consider it a necesil that could improve estment environment.

e newspapers re-Years of communist

ism had greatly re-prostitution and drugs

a, but newly rich coas.

vinces say they are ighting a relapse.

ig Guangdong pro-

whose exports ed for over 30 per

the national total.

announced a cam-

gainst "the seven sols", the term China

or crimes including tion, "Some (region

y leaders think these re inevitable... or

s, and can even im-

the investment en

nt," said the official

hou Daily received

The daily Nanfang

reported police in arrested over 30

es and more than 20

rs after a raid on an iment centre highly

for its all-in-one ser-

namely alcohol. sex

ibling. The Guang-

ily said Haizhou dis-

lice sentenced rwo

o 15 days detention

g part in a striptease

ie women were part

ight-women troupe

he province charging s 10 yuan ($1.20)

t. This latest crack-

just the latest in a

on-again off-again

campaig⊓s.

es rampant

r Disease Control.

World News ime-warp' triplet

U.N.: Rwandan 'graph of death' goes down

GOMA, Zaire (R) — The daily toll from cholers in the grammed Rwandan refugee camps of eastern Zaire is going down, the United Na-tions said Saturday.

But as the threat from cholera waned, dysentery was spreading and could pose an even greater danger, the French medical agency Medecins Sans Frontieres MSF — Doctors Without Broders) said.

The number of reported cases of cholera is continuing to rise but the percentage of deaths of reported cases is decreasing quite rapidly now," Ray Wilkiuson, spokesman for the U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), told reporters. "We estimate the number of cases will increase in the next few days but the graph of death is going down," he

Doctors estimated the death rate among the 1.2 million refugees around Goma declined in the past few days from as many as 1,800 per day to 1,200, with cholera the main killer, he

Mr. Wilkinson and aid workers said the reason for the decline in deaths was that the cholera epidemie was big problem. Five cases of meningitis doesn't mean... an epidemic. It's normal," said Kadri Tankari of the World Health Organisation. "There is cholera in Rwanda but it is were improving.

Citing the threat from dysentery, MSF spokeswoman Samantha Bolton

said: "The mortality rate for cholera when it is treated is one per cent while dysentery is seven per cent. Not as many have it as cholera but it is increasing."

Aid officials said five re-ported cases of meningitis in the camps this week were not yet a cause for alarm. Similarly the threat of cholera spreading across the border

into Rwanda with refugees returning home was not yet a not a major problem."

Mr. Wilkinson said the UNHCR was stepping up efforts against a campaign of harassment and intimidation by thugs trying to stop refugees of Rwanda's Hutu majority from returning

"The majority of people are still not convinced it is safe to go back," be said. Supporters of the ousted Hutu government-in-exile in Zaire are roaming the camps, telling refugees that any who return will have their throats slit and bellies cut open by members of the victorious Totsi-dominated Rwanda Patriotic Front (RPF).

Jonrualists bave been threatened and driven out of the camps by stone-throwingmen who accuse the media of siding with the RPF in its three-month war for control of the central African conn-

Hutu extremists have also handed out bundles of New Rwandan francs to their henchmen and former gov-ernment soldiers who fled the Tutsi-dominated rebels.

running its two-week course have been tranmatised... but and conditions in the camps the degree of lies being the degree of lies being spread by these people is barassment," Mr. Wilkinson said. "I expect intimidation to increase as they lose their constituency."

Some 2.7 million Rwandans fled to neighbouring countries to escape the rebels after more than 500,000 people, mostly from the minority Tutsi tribe and Hutu opponeuts of the government, were massacred by Hum militiamen and government sol-

Mr. Wilkinson said the UNHCR was urging Zairean authorities to stop the coer-cion and U.N. field officers were going into the camps to explain to the refugees that the agency considered it safe for them to return to Rwan-

The UNHCR estimates that some 70,000 Rwandan refugees have returned across the border since it reopened a week age, but expects a hard core of former officials and killers and their families to stay long after most return. U.S. President Bill Clintou asked Congress Friday for an extra $323 million for the Rwanda rebef operation and is considering whether to create a base for U.S. troops in the Rwandan capital Kigali to lure refugees home.

France, which sent 2,500 troops last mouth to set up a safe zone for refugees in southwest Rwanda under a U.N. mandate; began pulling out its forces Friday despite appeals from aid agencies to

The United States will start sending up to 200 troops into Rwanda as early as this weekend to increase the number of aid flights into Kigali and to help distribute supplies. But U.N. officials said operatious were being severely hampered by a shortage of aircraft fuel that forced the cancellation of 14 flights Friclared the east of the country, swamped by 1.7 million Rwandan refugees, a disaster region.

A statement by Information Minister Masegabio Nzanzu said the government was setting up an emergency task force to monitor the situation in the border towns of Goma and Bukavu. The unit would include officials from the Health, Interior, Defence, Social Affairs, Transport and Foreign ministries, be said.

Struggling to cope with a ebrouie economie erisis, Zaire's government has admitted its mability to cope with the mass influx of refugees into its eastern Kivu province.

It has largely banded the problem to the international community, while calling for private donations and volunteers to work in Goma and

The Lebanese community, which dominates commerce in Zaire, has sent 40 tonnes of food to the refugees and U.S. oil company Chevron said Friday it was donating $100,000 worth of fuel to non-governmental organisations flying in aid.

U.S. Defeuce Secretary William Perry flew to Africa early Saturday for a personal look at the U.S. military effort to aid over a million Rwandan refugees who bave fled to Zaire, Uganda and other countries.

Mr. Perry's plane left Andrews Air Force Base and was scheduled for brief refueling stops in Brussels to pick up U.S. Army General George Jonlwan and in Cairo before arriving in Entebbe, Uganda, Sunday.

Mr. Perry will meet with U.S. military officials in Uganda and in the town of Goma.

dent Yoweri Museveni. .

He will also briefly visit Kigali before returning to Uganda for talks with Presi-

A Rwandan volunteer lays bodies of Rwandau north of the Zairean town of Goma (AFP children, victims of cholera, on a stretcher at the Katale refugee camp, some 60 kilometres

We realise these people Goma (AFP photo) against Bosnian Serbs Powers to tighten sanctions

GENEVA (R) - Foreign Ministers from the United States, Russia and the European Union agreed Saturday to move to tighteh sanctions against rump Yugoslavia over the Bosnian Serbs' refusal to approve a new peace plan. The ministers also agreed on "vigorous action" to prevent sanctions violations in the region but, according to a text of a joint declaration after a four-hour meeting, did not approve any immediate military action against the Serbs.

But they warned that if the Serbs continued to stall over the plan — drawn np by a five-power contact group the lifting of an arms embargo on former Yugoslavia in favour of Bosnia's Muslimled government "could become unavoidable." The declaration said the ministers - with Britain, France and Germany representing the EU - "expressed their profound regret" that the Serbs had not accepted the peace plan.

They called on the Bosman Serb leadership to argently reconsider their response and to provide a clear acceptance of the contact group proposal," it said.
The ministers also warned the Serbs "against any re-newed effort to effect the strangulation of Sarajevo" and expressed commitment to strengthening and extending safe areas and exclusion zones in Bosnia.

The one contact group member seen as sympation to the Serb cause, Russia, member seen as sympathetic reacted angrily to the Serbs' intransigence on the eve of the foreign ministers' meeting, accusing them of decep-

"We've done all we can for the Serbs... and they have not taken even balf a step to reciprocate." Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev told Russian journalists on arrival in

He said Moscow had launched namerous initiatives on behalf of the Serbs and had sent Defence Minister Pavel Grachev on a special mission this week, "but we feel essentially that we bave been deceived. In any event, we see no movement whatsoever."

A Rwandan mother suffering from cholera breast-feeds her child at the Katale refugee camp, north of the Zairean town of

A member of the Serb to the possibility of having to leaders bip, Vice-President to firmer military action," Biljana Playsic, insisted that the Serbs' response to the Sarajevo, the United eace plan had not been one of defiance.

"I cannot believe that there are no sensible people in the contact group who cannot or will not understand that our declaration is not a war cry but an explanation of wbat we want, and all we want is what the other side got - our own state and its right to function." she said on Serbian radio.

The Bosman Serbs' selfdeclared assembly turned down the plan Thursday for the second time this month, saying it was willing to negotiate further but reiterating demands for major amendments, including the right to secede from Bosnia. Bosnia's Muslims and Croats have reluctantly approved the plan, which awards 5I per ceut of Bosnia to their federation with the rest going to the Serbs, who hold about 70 per cent.

British Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd called for tough action against the

"We have to give a firm response to the Serbs since they are ones who have rejected the plan and we bave to prevent the reigniting and spreading of the war in Bosnia," he said.

U.S. Secretary of State Warren Christopher said be was working to maintain unity with Russia and European allies whose differences over tactics could undermine the

"I think it's important that we maintain the unity of the contact group and more importantly, the progress that the contact group has achieved," he said.

European Union mediator Lord Owen said tongher sanctions and military measures may be used against the

"The Bosnian Serbs are showing an intrausigence which is forcing the interna-tional community to face up orted continued shelling on Muslim and Serb fronts across Bosnia over the past 24 hours.

Around the eastern Muslim enclave of Gorazde there were 35 ceasefire violations, some of them believed to be the result of Serb forces testing new assault rifles, U.N. spokesman Major Dacre

Another violation of the U.N.-imposed heavy weapons total exclusion zone around Gorazde, was recorded at dawn Sunday, when a mortar was fired southwest of Gorazde town. The U.N. has been embarrassed by the discovery of a number of Serb heavy weapons within the zone in

In Sarajevo, snipers wounded two tram passengers Friday afternoon as civilians dodged bullets and French U.N. soldiers shot back at suspected Serb sniper positions.

U.N. officials betd talks with Bosnian Serb leaders to try to persuade them to allow the reopening of main commercial route into the city, but teft the meeting in Pale empty-handed.

Bosnian Serb soldiers believe they have called the West's bluff by rejecting the latest peace plan and are publicly playing down the possibility of any major military action against them by the big powers.

"We do not expect anything spectacular, at least not in the immediate future," a senior Bosnian Serb army officer, who asked not to be identified, told Reuters.

He was speaking in Grbavica, in a shell-gutted house on the front line Miljacka River which divides the Muslim and Serb-held areas of

Ponitive military measures against the Bosnian Serbs could include the expansion of weapons exclusion zones, strict enforcement of the nofly zone over Bosnia and the possible lifting of the arms embargo against the Mus-

The Serbs see this as direct involvement by NATO on the side of their rivals. But in public at least they do not seem too perturbed at the

"Should the Muslims attack us, as they have done so countless times before, the Serbs will go on a counteroffensive and then there is no power in the world that will stop us," the Bosnian Serb officer said.

His leader, Radovan Karadzic, told the Bosnian Serb Assembly two weeks ago that if it rejected the peace plan, the Serbs would have to launch a decisive attack on the Muslims to defeat them once and for all.

He also said they would have to down as many NATO planes as possible and capture their pilots - an apparent reference to borrific television images of a U.S. flier being dragged through the streets by a mob in Somalia.

"If NATO gets involved, then it bad better prepare its public to welcome back their troops in plastic bags," the Bosnian Serb officer said. But the Serbs; aware that their weaponry and air defence are no real match for sophisticated NATO equip-ment, are believed to be counting on being able to exploit differences among the major powers.

Ageing soldiers manning trenches at points only 20 metres away from their Muslim foes on Mount Trebevic overlooking Sarajevo say they could not care less.

What are they threatening as with? With war? Well 1 got news for them, son - I have been waging a bloody. terrible war for two years now and more of it could not make much of a difference,"

Scalfaro puts damper on Berlusconi plan

ROME (R) - Italian President Oscar Luigi Scalfaro has dented Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi's efforts to distance himself from his vast business boldings so the tycoon-turned-politician can on governing

Mr. Scalfaro, in a statement issued late Friday night, said that, while he appreciated Mr. Berlusconi's plan. constitutional restraints would probably prevent him from being its chief guaran-

On Friday morning, Mr. Berlusconi bad announced the deal under which his in-terests in the Fininvest empire would be frozen. He proposed it after insistent opposition demands that he had to make a clean break with $7 billion-a-year turnover group in order to avoid conflict of interest.

Mr. Berlusconi said he would submit a bill under which Mr. Scalfaro, the two speakers of parliament and anti-trust authorities would jointly appoint a committee to oversee Fininvest as long as Mr. Berluscom, who was elected in a dramatic victory in a general election in March, remained in office.

But the presidential palace statement said that "it does not appear probable" that Mr. Scalfaro could be involved directly in naming members of such a commit-

It added that Mr. Scalfaro would wait three jurists appointed by the government to propose anti-trust and conflict-of-interest legislation issued their report in the autunin before taking a stand on Mr. Berlusconi's propos-

It made clear Mr. Scalfaro believed the choice of the members of the committee a almost certainly to fall on parliament.

Mr. Berlusconi intends to present the plan as a proposed law to parliament, probably in September.

The prime minister, who heads a 10-week-old conservative government, has not yet reacted to the presidential statement.

Mr. Scalfaro expressed appreciation for Mr. Berlusconi's decision to resolve what the president called "the delicate problem of conflict of interest." Some political commentators said the presidential tatement was a defeat for Mr. Berlusconi because, although his proposal for the committee would most likely go forward, it would be less authoritative as Mr. Scalfaro would not be a guarantor.

"Scalfaro says stop to Berlusconi," read a headline in the Milan daily Corriere Della Sera. "Scalfaro freezes Berlusconi's plans," the Ro-man daily Messaggero said. Some newspapers saw Mr. Scalfaro's move as another sign of what some commentators bave called a scratchy retationship between the president and Mr. Berlusconi. But others, such as the Rome newspapers l'Informazione and l'Opinione, played presidential statement. Pressure on Mr. Berlusconi to break with Fininvest came to a head earlier in the week when anti-graft magistrates in

Milan issued an arrest warrant for his brother Paolo, who runs part of the family business. Paolo turned himself in Friday to face charges in connection with a probe into bribes alleged to have been paid to financial anthorities n return for lenient audits.

Mr. Berlusconi, announcing plans to freeze his ties to the company it took him 30 years to build, told a news conference: "Now no one will be able to cast aspersions ou the legitimacy of this gov-ernment." He added: "I intend to be governing for a long time... Italy ueeds a government capable in every sector of enacting great re-Meanwhile, Rocco Buttig-

lione, a Catholic philosopher close to the Pope, was elected leader Saturday of the Popular Party (PPD), successor of the disgraced Christian Democrats (DC) who once dominated post-war Italian politics.

"This is a victory over an old logic that no tonger exists, that of the old oligarchy of the party," Mr. Buttiglione said.

But the narrow margin of his victory over former In-terior Minister Nicola Mancino, with only 56 per cent of detegates' votes, underscored divisions in the party which is down the significance of the trying to rise, phoenix-like, from the ashes of the DC. Mr. Buttiglione, 46, a lead-er of the right and centre of the party, wants to lead the PPI, currently part of the opposition, to closer relations with the conservative parties that make up the coalition of

Mr. Berlusconi. "Those who want to become part of the government have won," a distraught Mr. Mancino said, adding that the . election could provoke a schism in the party. But Franco Rocchetta, a . leader of the Northeru League which is one of the key parties in Mr. Berlusconi's coalition, welcomed Mr.

Buttiglione's election. "He is an intelligent and . proper person, one you can deal with," Mr. Rocchetta .

Supporters of Mr. Buttiglione want the party to make a clean break with the scandal-tainted past.

As he read his victory speech at a Rome hotel, his supporters chanted "De Mita out, De Mita out." Ciriaco De Mita, a former party secretary who served as prime minister in 1988-1989. did not run for parliament in the March elections after party leaders told him he was too much as symbot of the past. The left wing of the party. led by Mr. Mancino and Mr. De Mita, favoured a pact with progressives including the ex-Communist Democratie Party of the Left, which lost to the Berlusconi-led Freedom Alliance in landmark general elections last

Fresh strike call puts pressure on Nigeria rulers tical leadership for virtually Congress and Nigerian work-

LAGOS (R) — Nigeria's military government faced more pressure Saturday after the country's biggest labour federation called a general strike to back a prodemocracy campaign. Workers in the oil industry, Nigeria's economic life blood, launched the campaign four weeks ago with a crippling strike to demand the release of detained politician Moshood Abiola and a return to democratic rule. A general strike called by the Nigerian Labour Congress (NLC) from Wednes-day could bring Nigeria to a halt if it gets significant back-ing from the 3.5 million members of its 41 affiliated un-

The NLC said Friday night its effors to persuade the military government to free Mr. Abiola and other political detainees had failed.

our conviction that an inuusirial action has become inevitable, Congress calls on all its affiliates, state councils of ers to, as from Wednesday Aug. 3, 1994, embark on a sit-at-home protest action and await further directives," it said in a communique. The strike by the oil workers' unions NUPENG and PENGASSAN to try to force the release of Mr. Abiola, undeclared winner of an army-organised presidential elections in 1993, has disrupted domestic fuel supplies, transportation and nor-decades deepened after Mr. Abiola, a wealthy southern businessman, was arrested last month and charged with treasons for declaring himself president.

There is rising concern that the crisis could degenerate into ethnic chaos as southern resentment grows at what political leaders there see as the determination of the northern ruling elite to retain

The mainly Muslim north has provided Nigeria's polithe entire period since independence from Britain in 1960. The predominantly Christian south wields economic power. The north-south divide was at the root of the civil war over breakaway Biafra, in which more than a million people died in the late 1960s. Muslim and Christian communities have been holding round-the-clock prayer vigils for peace throughout the country. NLC's President Pascal Bafyau told reporters Friday that if Abiola was freed before Wednesday, the congress' central Working Committee would meet to reconsider the strike call. Mr. Abiola is due to appear again in a court in the inland capital Abuja Tues-

On Thursday hundreds of his supporters clashed with police outside the courthouse, where at least one protester was killed and more than 100 were arrested.

Scattered anti-government protests have persisted, particutarly in Mr. Abiola's Yoruba-speaking southwest, Nigeria's leading commercial region.

The NLC communique said a 10-man delegation had met both military ruler General Sani Abacha and Mr. Ahiola seeking a solution. The government had refused to respond positively to labour's demand that detainees be freed and closed media oreganisation reopened, it added. Gen. Abacha hinted that his administration is ready to free Mr. Abiola on condition that he renounces his claim to the presidency.

But Mr. Abiola, backed by an alliance of politicians, retired generals and prodemocracy activists, has insisted on the validity of the election process which former military President Ibrahim Babangida, a northerner, annulled just as Mr. Abiola appeared to be '. headed for certain victory.

Cambodia condemns barbarous train attack the train," a government PHNOM PENH (AFP) statement said.

The government strongly condemned the Khmer Rouge Saturday for ambushing a train in southern Cambodia where some 16 people were feared killed and turee foreigners abducted. Police said they had no leads on the fate of the missing foreigners and that uo ransom notes had been received for their release. The Royal Government of Cambodia vehemently and Strongly condemns the Khmer Rouge for their wan-

ton and barbarous attack ou

A Khmer Rouge "rebel group" attacked the Phnom Penh-Sibanoukville train Tuesday as it was passing through southern Kampot province.

The guerrillas "looted all valuables and ordered the survivors off the train and marched them to the bush where they were held bostage," the statement said.

This attack proves yet again that the Khmer Rouge bave continued to commit crimes against the Cambodian people as well as foreign nationals," it said. "This... should amply justify the request for external military assistance of the Royal Government of Cam-All but 30 Cambodian bostages had been freed, it said. But police officials quoted a report from the governor of Kampot saying that only the three foreigners and three ethnic Vietnamese were still Police officials said they believed the three foreigners identified as Australian David John Wilson, 29, Britou Mark David Slater, 28, and French Jean Marie Braquet, 27 - were tourists. Their respective embassies, however, have not cou-

The Kampot report also firmed their identities.

updated the casualty figures from the raid, saying that 13 people bad been killed in the attack, including five sol-diers, two train militia and six civilians, police said. Railway director Pich Kimsreang earlier said that the feared dead.

"Consequently, in view of three hostages were also mal business. Nigeria's worst crisis for

This is a second of the contract of the contra The state of the s

The decision is positished daily except Fridays. the same according rates are available from the by I have been covertising department.

Description of disparates

Edition and the highest office in Michael Nizon, resigned in the highest office in the h This is how powerful the Found: Erit of has a democratic society. I material societies, however, the marile, both most and electronic, is normally in the factor of the regime or the "sole all region recently to muzzle in the "global village."

In Dallatia the media, which Che civil war period, has the government of the Rose Rolls Ad Heriri. Mr. Hariri, is supported by both is suppor government stations. The prime grantiness states. The prime station in parliament for little in parliament for little in parliament for vine minister's move, remained broadcasts on lat's not over, though. The lateruland to curb the little.

Talustrian National

Falminian National two fars to silence two Limit and the Al Nakar are all likely weekly. The de main Deutsen Els Majesty Lorsell Prime Minister

, decided to beat distribution

1 25%-rule areas of Gaza and

Clad decided to close in TNA has still little say

West Zank, the message the part lies two newspapers

inited disappointing. lotte medic for a fresh start. no proise for the Lebanese are the civil war, the in the training arrange little for the a cham-

. Colectinian and in it hope that the emerging the stand would be the foundation for Yet, it seems in the second tracers of the Middle East and the comparate only dreams that still ment to be included the reality.

Design of Ambiguets and in the server of Ambiguets formed in the security occupation of Arab lands Israel is and equality against defenceless people. in 12 Paris dutily, israel's killing of the state of acts of terrorism practiced granted cately, he said. We condemn all forms of terrorism, and they are directed against innocent people and we are affective the terrorist bomb blast at the Jewish centre in Baches / ir.m. said the writer. But he added that the world generative, which expressed horror and condemnation of in and in augment ought to condemn and end Israel's the sold providing too. The writer said that it was Israel's professed expendation of Arab lands that bred violence in the stickly first and other parts of the world and could range triggered the blassic Argentina.

personal MAD MAWASH, a columnist in Al Dustour, new acts of aggression to he States tempst Labanon 1.5. Israeli accusations that the space of the space of the space of in the Markette alliance, is clearly intended to the second product israeli aggression on Lebanon but the read the mession would not be that easy for the Israelis i. 'Blad'; of weapons and militin planted

Foreign policy: In defence of Clinton's cautious line

By George McGovern

INNSBRUCK, Austria -The continuing criticism of U.S. President Bill Clinton for indecision in the conduct of foreign policy rests on the assumption that prompt, decisive action is a better course than delay and caution.

More often than is generally recognised, however, foreign policy has suffered from harried judgments based on oversimplifications, inadequate informa-tion or lack of consideration for the consequences of intervention.

The Clinton administration's foreign policy is not beyond criticism. But simply calling for more "de-cisiveness" may make matters worse. Decisiveness is not a virtue if the decisions are wrong, nor is "indeci-sion" a failing if the course ahead is not clear. It has not been obvious what should be done in the violence-racked former Yugoslavia or in parts of Africa, or in Korea or in Haiti — to say nothing of Iran, Iraq, Eastern Europe, China and the former Soviet Union. But the Clinton administration has not gone to war in any of these places. Perhaps that deserves a measure of appre-

It should not be assumed that decisive intervention ahroad is always preferable to deferred judgment. Consider the following examples of "decisiveness" in the formation of U.S. foreign policy:

— Three months into his

Desident administration, President John Kennedy ordered the invasion of Cuba at the Bay of Pigs. It is now difficult to recall a more ill-conceived idea or one so poorly plan-ned and executed. A little more ambivalence and deferred judgment could haveserved America well.

 President Lyndon Johnson in August 1964 moved decisively to bomb Vietnamese naval facilities in the Gulf of Tonkin, allegedly in answer to unprovoked attacks on two American destroyers. This incident was used to secure quick congressional approval of a sweeping resolution that the administration later claimed represented a virtual declaration of war against North Vietnam. It was only later that the Gulf of Tonkin incident seemed to have been manufactured by the White House as an excuse for the bombing attacks and the ill-advised and perhaps most members of Congress came to regret having supported.

Tonkin resolution, which I

- President Ronald Reagan acted quickly and decisively in ordering troops into Grenada, supposedly to stop a Cuban or Soviet takeover. It later became apparent that there was no real prospect of a Soviet or Cuban threat to the island, nor to any possible American security interest. There are grounds for believing that the invasion of Grenada was ordered partly to take the spotlight off another "decisive" Reagan action, which had led to the deaths of more than 200 American days before. - President George Bush acted quickly and decisively against Panama by bombing it and sending in 25,000 soldiers because of President Manuel Noriega's alleged drug operations, his criticisms of U.S. policy and his possible threat to the Panama Canal. It has never been clear that this military action was justified.

marines in Lebanon a few

Today's complicated post-cold war world calls not so much for snap judgments in foreign policy as for painstaking long-range efforts to deal with intractable global issues: the building of a more effective international collectivesecurity capability (perhaps a U.N. police force and a strengthened world court): the reduction and control of armaments: the discipline of population growth; the protection of the environment; the repatriation or relocation of refugees; the alleviation of poverty, disease and illiteracy; and the establishment of constructive trade and investment policies. The Clinton administration is at least partially attuned to these fundamental, long-range con-siderations; it was probably elected in 1992 partly because it understood that a strong economy and a healthy society are the pre-conditions for American influence and leadership in the world.

Like most Americans, I am distressed when I see on television Serbian shells being lobbed into the cities of Bosnia, or Haitian refugees trying to flee from their military dictators, or the people of Rwanda slanghtering one another. I suspect that no one is more anguished over these awful events than Bill Clinton. But an American president must look beyond his anguish to the complexities of situations and to the limitations of U.S. power and responsibility.

I do not hlame the president for believing that his first order of husiness is to deal with the guns and gangs of America before he goes after guns and gangs abroad. Neither do I blame him for resisting the implied suggestion of some of America's affluent allies who have long had universal health care that the United States defer such benefits for Americans in order to take the lead (and pay the costs) in settling other people's political and

Recently, there was an especially ominous tone in the words of some commentators about the alleged danger posed by North Korea. Every day someone suggested that America must intervene to check a possible threat from Pyongyang. The visit of former President Jimmy Carter with Kim Il Sung seems to have quieted some of the interventionist talk.

military affairs.

It is difficult to imagine a more disastrons mistake than another American war in Korea. Nor would such a hloody costly venture hold public support.

Instead of backing into a corner where another war awaits, the United States should clearly offer to North Korea - if it agrees to abandon nuclear arms diplomatic recognition, trade and modest international assistance.

And if Pyongyang gives proper assurances against further nuclear development. America should, at last, phase out its troops from South Korea. The South is fully capable of defending itself. The United States could back up such a defence hy naval and air power off shore.

Let's not rush to war in Korea or Haiti or anywhere else simple to avoid "indecision." It is worth noting that the last time an American president intervened in Haiti to restore democracy and order, U.S. marines stayed for 19 years, with no apparent improvement in Haitian democracy.

The writer, a former U.S. senator from South Dakota and the Democratic nominee for president in 1972, is currently a guest professor at the University of Innsbruck. This comment is reprinted from the International Herald Tri-

By Dusan Stojanovic The Associated Press

BELGRADE - Bosnian Serbs hope that by rejecting an international peace plan they can drive a wedge hetween Russia and the West and retain most of the territory they now control.

But their latest attempt to test international resolve to end the bloody war in Bosnia could in fact escalate Europe's worst postwar conflict, engulfing other countries in the region.

Once international consensus collapses, Bosnian Serhs helieve Radovan Karadzic and other Serb leaders will be in a better bargaining position to achieve a more advantageous peace deal.

Negotiators of the contact group comprised of the United States, Britain, Germany, France and Russia — Serbia's traditional ally have described the plan as the last chance for peace. But Bosnian Serb leaders, who have rejected all international proposals to date, do not seem to mind, even if this entails "a battle for life and death," as Mr. Karadzic pointed out.

The latest plan envisages the Muslim-Croat federation and Serb-controlled Bosnia joined in a confederation with existing borders under a central government.

That would thwart Serb ambitions to unite with Serb-held parts of Croatia and Serbia proper, the main component of what remains of Yugoslavia, in a "Greater Serbia."

Even before his selfstyled Bosnian Serh assem-hly gave their inconclusive response, Mr. Karadzic said the map was unacceptable. It calls for Serbs to give up 21 per cent of the 70 per cent of Bosnian territory they now control.

What infuriates the Serbs even more is a provision of the plan that narrows a key northern corridor so that it could easily be attacked and occupied by Muslim forces. The latest map would also cut their territory into three enclaves Serbs say are not still harbour dreams of uni-

Bosnian Serbs seek to drive wedge between Russians and the West

Serbian Renewal Party.

A day after the Serbs

failed to give a positive re-sponse. Bosnia's Muslim

President Alija Izetbegovic

suggested the Sarajevo government was no longer obligated to ahide by its decifying all Serb-population lands in former Yugoslavia, called the latest Bosnian Serb manoeuvre a brilliant move that would certainly disrupt the shaky alliance between the United States, which supports the Muslims, and Russia, a long-

leagues on the five-nation

group in Geneva in dismissing the Bosnian Serbs'

answer to their proposed public trough. The news brought on a sort of national fury, and Mr. Berlusconi rode the public outrage to

Now, the decree is allow-

Mr. Berlusconi, citing international criticism, said it was unfair to jail white-collar notorious. The ministry said

1,165 suspects in all have been freed. More than 60 per ing many of them to walk out power in last March's elec-map Wednesday.

time ally. Russian comments on the Serhs' response indeed have been ambiguous. Russian envoy Alexei Nikiforov went alongwith bu U.S. and European col-

Serh nationalists, who

But in Moscow, Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev voiced support for Russia's traditional allies. "There is a positive element (in the Serb's stance)," Mr. Kozyrev told Russian Independent Television. He said the Serbs had the right to consider all elements of a peace package and not just the map.

world by its nose. "The Bosnian Serh leadership is ridiculing the whole world," said Vuk

Draskovic, the leader of Serbia's largest opposition

Some opposition leaders in Serbia said Bosnian Serbs were again pulling the valid." he said. "By playing a chess game against the world, they are playing with the destiny of sion to accept the peace deal.

"Our unconditional agreement has ceased to be the whole Serbian nation." he said. The Sarajevo government's ultimate goal is to be allowed 10 huy weapons freely. Unlike European powers, the United States has supported the idea, and it is generally agreed that this would force U.N. peacekeepers to withdraw rather than risk Serb

A full-scale war would almost certainly lead to the withdrawal of U.N. peacekeepers from Bosnia and greater Western military involvement in the most volatile region of Europe. U.S. Defence Secretary William Perry warned this week that if the peace plan was rejected, the Bosnian war could spill over to other

Baikan states. "I believe and I fear it will be a more intense conflict with an increased danger of that conflict spreading," Mr. Perry said during a visit to Bulgaria.

Before he went to Gene va, Mr. Karadzic himself called on his people to brace for all-out war.

"If the international community launches an attack on the Serbs' existence, we (will) proclaim a state of war and total mobilisanon... (and) hring the enemy to its knees so that we can get the peace we

Berlusconi scandal decree — behind the uproar

By Daniel J. Wakin The Associated Press

ROME — Jailing suspects accused of non-violent crimes when trial could be months or years away might seem unduly harsh, even a violation of civil liberties.

But rather than being hailed for doing away with just such pre-trial detention, Premier Silvio Berlusconi's decree last week unleashed a political uproar, divided the cahinet and led to talk the government might fall. What caused the stir was the decree's inclusion of Italy's highest-profile detainees: hundreds of politicians in jail on charges connected with the "tangentopoli" (kickback city) scandal. Since the scandal broke in February 1992, prosecutors

have implicated more than suspects before trial in a legal system where cases can drag on for years.

The Justice Ministry said Sunday 124 corruption suspects have been released, including some of the most tions.

of prison.

3,000 political and husiness figures. The cases laid hare inmates are awaiting judgsystemic corruption that for ment, it added. decades let politicians feast on billions of dollars at the The question of civil liberties is not the most obvious point in a country where so many crimes go unsolved and corrupt officials reigned with impunity for so long. "Behind this matter are serious problems in the Italian justice system," said Alberto Ahruzzese, a sociology professor at Rome Uni-

Only a small number of poiticians charged in 'tangentopoli" have been convicted, hut prosecutors sent hundreds to jail under the pre-trial detention law. Italy has no system of hail. The law allowed detention for those considered a risk to flee, tamper with evidence or go on with their crimes. In effect, prosecutors used the jailings as tools to induce the defendants to give evidence. Critics suggest Mr. Berlusconi has other motives in striking the law.

"The government's objective was to disarm prosecutor's offices." Editor Eugenio Scalfari commented Sunday in the left-leaning Rome newspaper La Repubblica, Mr. Scalfari's implication was that Mr. Berlusconi was trying to protect his friends.

The decree came less than a week after a court indicted Mr. Berlusconi's brother, Paolo, on corruption charges involving pension funds. Prosecutors also have been investigating members of the premier's corporate empire, Fininvest. -

The decree also means prosecutors can't extradite from Tunisia former Premier Bettino Craxi, who is wanted on a raft of corruption charges. Mr. Craci and Mr. Berlusconi were friends in the 1980s, and the then-Socialist premier was credited with helping the industrialist build his television empire.

Mr. Scalfari asked rhetorically: Would Mr. Craxi have spilled the beans about Berlusconi if extradited.

The way Mr. Berlusconi went about the reform imposing a decree rather than introducing a hill in parliament — also raised eyebrows. Parliament reviews decrees after three months. Until jumping into politics this year, Mr. Berlusconi was a highly successful corporate titan used to making singleminded decisions. That approach doesn't work so well in politics.

The political war over the work out."

Mr. Berlusconi demanded that Interior Minister Roberto Maroni resign or apologise for his comments in newspaper interviews. Mr. Maroni said he was "fooled" by his fellow cabinet members, and led to believe the worst cor-decree heated up Sunday.

ruption defendants wouldn't be released before signing off on the decree. Umberto Bossi, leader of Mr. Maroni's Northern League Party, rejected the demand and called on Mr Berlusconi to withdraw the decree. National Alliance leade Gianfranco Fini, whose part is in Mr. Berlusconi's coali tion and is usually his stalwar supporter, said the decre supporter, would not stand. convinced everything wi

And if Pyongyang gar-proper assurances agar further nuclear develo-ment. America should last, phase out its tron-from South Korea, 7s South is fully canabi. South is fully capable; defending itself. The t ited States could back to such a defence by naval at power off shore

Let's not rush to war Korea or Haitt or anywig. else simple to avoid inte else simple to avoid inge cision." It is worth notes that the last time on Ame-ican president interceden Haiti to restore democraciand order. U.S. managestayed for 19 years, with warparent improvement in Haitian democracy.

The writer, a former U.S senator from South Dakota and the Democratic nominee for president w nommee for president in 1972, is currently a guest professor at the University of Innsbruck This conment is reprinted from the International Herald In-

GREATER SERSIA END OF ACT I

West

"I believe and I feat i vill be a more intense of lict with an increased day er of that comflet spiess ng," Mr. Perry said dumi visit to Bulgaria Before he went to Gene a, Mr. Karadzie himeli alled on his people 10 race for all-out war "If the international comunity launches an anias n the Serbs' existence.

will) proclaim a state of ar and total mobilise on... (and) bring the nemy to its knees so that e can get the peace we oar

cree heated up Sunday Mr. Berluscom demands at Interior Munister Rober Maroni resign of apologis r his comments in newspap interviews. Mt. Maron id he was "tooled" by he low cabinet members, and to believe the worst cor ption defendants wouldn't released before signing of Umberto Bossi, leader of

F. Maroni's Northell ague Party, rejected hit mand and called on his riusconi to withdiaw the National Alliance leade anfrance Fini, whose part and in Mr. Berlusconis n and is usually his specie pporter, said the uld not stand. I'm si Nevertheless. winced everything

History provides ample ex-

By G. H. Jansen

planation why a huge wave of people is surging out of Rwanda and threatening to sweep over and swamp and "drown" the next door neighbours. Around a million persons are involved. The numbers are explained by the fact that Rwanda and. its twin territory Burundi (fot long known as Rwanda Urundi) are the most densely populated areas in Africa. And this demography in turn was the product of the area's topography. neither desert nor tropical forest but high, open, hilly country sustaining agriculture and the raising of

Which led to a feudal social system based on a racial divide: the peasants and herdsmen, eighty-five per cent of the population, belonged to the Hutu tribe, short, stocky and Negroid. The landowners were Tut-sis, tall and sometimes very tall, lighter skinned and with fioe Hamitic features. The Tutsis or Watusi migrated into the area four to five centuries ago and be-came the feudal overlords of the down-trodden Hutu

When the Kaiser's Germany appropriated the area during the imperialist carve-up of Africa at the end of the last century, it retained the feudal structure because it was convenient to rule through existing rulers; and the Belgians did the same when they succeeded the defe-. ated Germans in 1919. The Belgians, who were trustees of the League of Nations and then the United Nations, were so paternalistic that they kept the whole country under curfew for years on end and not because of unrest but, as they thought, because it was good for the inhabitants to go to bed early. It was only in 1959-60 that the Hutus in Rwanda challenged Tutsi domination so that when independence came in 1962, and with it democracy, the Hutu majority in Rwanda displaced the Tutsi ruling minority, killing 100,000 of them in the process. In Burundi in 1972 the opposite happened, the Tutsis being better placed there because they control-led the army through Tutsi officers.

An elderly Rwandan man hit by cholera sits next to hundreds of dead bodies in a refugee camp, north of Goma (AFP piacto)

A land where angels fear to tread

They decided to "solve" their Hutu problem hy eliminating Hutus - to massacre every Hutu with education, a government job or money. In three months in Burundi more than 200,000 Hutus were slaughtered, without benefit of bullet. So when the world today expresses horror at the massacre of half a million Tutsis by the Hutu militia, it is being both naive and ill-informed because mass killings are, as we have seen, a well-established practice in Central Africa, and the Hutus are motivated by not decades but centuries of persecution and oppression. Which explains hut does not excuse the killings. To take sides in such a situation is a foolish business because today's killers are yesterday's victims and vice-versa.

The present cycle of violence began on April 6 when the presidents of both Rwanda (a Hutu) and of Burundi were killed in a mysterious air crash, widely believed to be an assassination plot. In revenge for the killing of "their" president Hutu militia in Rwanda began killing Tutsis. At this point the problem of the Tutsis in Rwanda seemed to have been solved because after the post-assassination killings there were said to be few Tutsis left in Rwanda. That would have been a final solution, which, in a way, was all very well and good. But then just at that point a new and complicating factor came on the scene from Uganda. This was the Rwanda Patriotic Front (RPF) which, just to confuse matters, is organised and led by Tutsis who fied into Uganda in the 1960s and 1970s but many of whose soldiers are Hutus, "moderate Hutus", it is said. Though this is a well around the town of Goma. The commander of the RPF, a Tutsi, has promised a ceasefire after the victory he has achieved. He has appointed Hutus as both president and vice president in what he hopes will be-come a government of national unity. But will he and his Tutsi officers be believed by the Hutu population, which is now gripped en masse by panic fear of their ancient feudal masters and former rulers, and despite all their fine words? It is difficult enough to trained and disciplined force which has behaved itself, mostly, so far, the ordinary Hutu was not prepated to believe that, with

Tutsi officers the RPF was not going to take revenge for the killing of Tutsis that followed the assassination of the Hutu president. So when the RPF militia advances the Hutu people - and there are a lot of them in Rwanda — flee before them. And since the RPF has moved north to south right across the country, most of the population of northern and central Rwanda, in a huge human wave, is now hacked-up against the frontier with Zaire or is just over it inside Zaire

try and explain the Rwandan situation — with Hutus chasing Tutsis and Tutsis chasing Hutus — hut dealing with it, especially by outsiders, is unimaginable. Yet the French, rushing in where Angels fear to tread, have created a "safe bayen" have created a "safe haven" in south-western Rwanda. Will they defend it if it is attacked by the RPF or by Hutu militias, or would the attackers be Tutsis?

The only sure and lasting solution for Rwanda has to be based on Hutu and Tutsi trust in each other. The RPF, is attempting to achieve that but the history of Rwanda does not encourage such a possibility.

World's biggest flood of refugees seeks peace

Agence France Presse

METANGULA, Mozambi-- By train, bus, boat and bicycle the world's biggest flood of returning refugees is making its way back to the world's poorest country for Mozambique's first elections after decades of

Along with villagers who remained in the country, they are unanimous on what the hope to achieve from the unprecedented experience of voting: "Peace."

"I'm very happy to be back," said Mohammad Adam, 68, who fled with his two young children by dugout canoe across Lake Malawi in 1983 as attacks by rebels of the Mozambique National Resistance (RENAMO) drew closer to his village.

"I want to vote and choose a president and have peace." He was picked up from Likoma Island off the Mozambican shore and taken the rest of the 80 kilometres across the Great Rift Valley lake to Malawi by boat.

After years in a refugee camp at Nkhata Bay, he re-cently returned to this village on the lakeshore of northern Niassa province in a boatlift organised by the U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees. The UNHCR says the re-patriation of some 1.7 million

Mozambican refugees from neighbouring countries is the biggest such operation it has ever handled - dwarfing the 390,000 who returned to Cambodia.

It is trying to get most of them back in time for elections scheduled for October in the wake of a peace agreement signed by the govern-ment and RENAMO in Rome in October 1992.

The two sides fought a 16-year civil war bard on the beels of an anti-colonial struggle against Portugal which ended in independence in 1975, bringing to power the then-Marxist Front for the Liberation of Mozambique (FRELIMO).

There are few signs of the approaching elections in Metangula, apart from a group of girls dancing to a lythmic drumbeat in the shade of a spreading tree near the white sand of the lakeshore, singing the praises of President Joaquim Chissano in preparation for a com-

But consciousness of the elections is strong in a country emerging from repressive

By Lawrence Bartlett colonialism and nearly 20 years of one-party rule. Asked how he would vote, Mohammad Adam pointed out firmly that his choice was a secret which he was entitled to keep to himself. Voter education in a country which has never before. had an election is carried out along with registration by mobile brigades in even the most remote areas of this huge southeast African nation of some 15 million people. In the village of Makasangilo some 40 kilometres east of Lichinga, capital of Niassa province, a mud hut sports a bright banner proclaiming it a temporary voter-registration

Although not far from the capital, the village lies in the middle of a vast plain ringed by distant mountains and can be reached only down a rough track through grass twice the height of a man. Outside the bnt, villagers line np at a ronghly-hewn wooden table to present identity documents, some dating from the colonial era and worn almost to illegi-

If they have no documents, two witnesses have to vouch. for them before their picture is taken with a Polaroid camera and they are presented with a voter registration card.

Isaac Matrese, 27, a village teacher, told AFP he was very happy because it is the first time in my life I have registered to vote and the first time in my life I bave known peace.

The people have been living in fear. Now it is peace that is most important and I bope the elections will help peace continue." Pressed on what else he hoped for from the elections, he said: "Later we would like to improve health and education and have a grinding mill, but basically it is peace we want.

Theresa Asima, who is not sure of her age but is the mother of three young children, also said she wanted peace and appeared surprised at the idea that she could wish for the vote to change anything more in her hard

The World Bank calls Mozambique the world's poorest country in terms of per capita GDP, and the World Programme (WFP) has this year been helping to feed around 1.9 million peo-

Ernesto Zedillo (left), coordinator of the political campaign of Luis Colosio for the Mexican presidency helps carry his casket March 24. Colosio was assassinated at a campaign

rally and Zedillo is considered to be one of the front-runners for the candidacy of president (AFP photo)

Suspicions linger in Mexico over presidential hopeful's murder

By Eduardo Garcia Agui-Agency France Presse

MEXICO CITY - With Mexico's presidential election set for next month, the March murdet of ruling party candidate Luis Donaldo Colosio remains a source of shadowy conspiracy theories and bitter controversy.

Miguel Montes, the special prosecutor investigating Colosio's killing, announced Tuesday he had wrapped up his investigation and found that Mario Aburto, 23, acted alone when he shot Colosio on March 23 after a campaign rally in the northern border city of Tijuana.

In doing so, Mr. Montes rejected his own early hypothesis that Colosio had been the victim of a plot and that Aburto had been aided by bodyguards whom the Institutional Revolutionary Party (PRI) hired as security for the event. The PRI, which has ruled Mexico since 1929, and five other parties represented in the Chamber of Deputies rejected Mr. Montes' final conclusion as nnacceptable. Several deputies alleged that a cover-up was in place.

Rumours bave flown since shortly after Colosio's killing that an old guard in the PRI opposed to democratic reform had been behind the shooting. The theory is widely believed in Mexico though no real proof has surfaced to support it.

But videotapes made by police and amateur photoraphers have appeared to show at least five former policemen hired as security helping Mr. Aburto get near the candidate. All were imprisoned for a time, and three remain in jail with their lawyers pressing for their re-

The Mexican press and some international reports have hammered on the numerous contradictions or inconsistencies in the case, especially the trajectory of the two bullets fired by the assassin or assassins and their Witnesses have given contradictory accounts of what happened, there has been talk of a mysterious, politically conservative group of fotmer police recruited for the rally called "Tucan," and questions about the actions of Colosio's top staffers at the

In the end, Mexican media treated Mr. Montes' final report with scorn, using such words as "cover-up," "man-ipulation" and "scandai." Even Colosio's replacement as the PRI's presidential contender, his former campaign manager Ernesto Zedillo, announced Wednesday that the PRI would name a commission of experts to pursue its own inquiry.

But that sounds similar to a 'Commission of Citizens' named by President Carlos Salinas that was made up of non-partisans such as journalists and lawyers.

The panel spectacularly dissolved itself shortly after it was formed, complaining bitterly that it had not been given access to information from the official inquiry and could not do its job.

A legislative commission was then created, hut it was later quietly disbanded without any official release of information concerning what it had done.

Diego Fernandez de Cevailos, the conservative National Action Party's presidential candidate for the August 21 vote, has described Mr. Montes' report as "harmful to public opinion."

And the press has been running stories on other tragedies for which official and government explanations are widely dispelieved. There was the killing of

Guadalajara archbishop Cardinal Juan Jesus Posadas, who authorities say was shot to death during a confrontation between rival drug gangs in May 1993; the assassination of journalist Manuel Buendia in 1984 and what has been described as an "erroneous" shootout between the army and judicial police in November 1991 in the state of Veracruz that left seven dead. The drug traffickers they were pursuing managed to Multiple cultures, pluralist development

By Yoro K. Fall

THE INCREASINGLY ca. counted with recent (global?) changes that the continent is generally forced to submit to, impose a new look at the link between culture and development there.

African societies have integrated a good many "modem" ideas and practices into their daily existence, their aspirations, their vision of the world and even into their languages. This reflects both the power of the dominant models of development and the diversity of the institutions that promote them, as much as the intrinsic openess of African societies to external influences. The desire for modernity is clearly manifest at state level, within national and international organisms, citizens associations and collective institutions, and at all levels of society.

This is why the most successful development expersisting are characterised oy a conjunction of external promopting and internal momentum. Private, public or family-run enterpris the popular savings and credit systems known as "tontines". and even the more elahorate forms of industrial activity. for example, are strongly marked by cultural practices that ensure an equitable distribution of goods produced. The obligatory solidarity. community conscience and even the weight of kinship makes itself feli noi only among the working classes of big cities, but also amonest the managerial sector ... through recruitment procedures, the management of goods as well as human resources, in arhitration and the solutions reached to industrial disputes. Whence, even in the most successful development experiences, the periences contradiction between the demands of competition and competitiveness, profitability or productivity that mark western socities and the traditional African tendencies of egalitarianism in the allocation of the means of production and the widespread distribution of consumer goods and profit. Using the same logic, most of African conflicts can be explained by the cultural and social repercussions of illconceived development: by the extreme sensitivity to the inequalities between different social levels or ethnic groups that this engenders. This is further aggravated by the political manipulation of these differences. These conflicts almost always reflect as. much the ravages of exclusion and marginalisation as the disfunction of social

In such a context, structural adjustment policies, and cuts in social investment only accentuate the ancient cleavages as well as the new ones. and multiply frustration. It could be considered that the exacerbation of political and social struggles in Africa today is an expression of the antagonism between the constraints imposed by the inequality of economic relations and the aspiration to develop-in the broadest sense of the word. This aspiration is part of African tradition, and is parucularly intense among the new cultural and social forces-women and youth. who make up the vast majority of the population. At the same time it generates a dynamic from which no sector of the society is spared.

However, the continent is not one. The countries of hlack Africa are characten'sed hy the cultural diversity and therefore the diversity of their traditions. Social diversity, cultural diversity: these two factors are the crux of any discussion on the perspectives for the Africa of the 21st century. This at a time when African societies are confronted by the challenges of social justice, rational management of the environment and the balance that musi be struck between demographic growth and production.

It would seem that now and in the future development, like culture, must be both plural and pluralist. From now on, when speaking of Africa, it would be wiser to talk of cultures and styles of development, with each sociely creating its own path accurding to its own rapport between cultural and development.

This alternative approach, which treats each culture with equal dignity, both conserves and enriches human heritage by offering to all the means to participate in cultural production and to express their capacity for creation and progress.

Without doubt, we run the risk of losing the comfort and the mental habits of uni-

The writer is a Senegalese historian and member of the World Commission on Culture and Development. This article is reprinted from the magazine UNESCO Sources.

Economy drive — Kuwait-style

IFUTH IT (R) — Kuwaitis, who sharp one of the world's most concrous state welfare systems, will no longer be allowed the luxury of leaving their air conditioners going while on holiday abroad and expecting the state to pay the

French aid to Africa to

ABIDJAN (R) — French Prime Minister Edouard Bal-ladur said Friday that his them up financially unless they signed accords with the International Monetary Fund economies.

favour growth, jobs

So said Kuwaiti Finance Minister Nasser Al Rodhan in outlining plans to introduce charges for state services that are now free or heavily subsidised in the oilproducing emirate.

Sheikh Rodhan told Al Seyassah newspaper Satur-day he would announce in large its financial capacities and regardless of its financial country's aid to west and central Africa would go in future to projects to create jobs and ensure long term

donors is not to subsidise state budgets. The crisis had led us in this unfortunate direction. I would like French aid in future to priorities

financing of projects that ensure long term growth and create jobs," he said in a speech to Ivorian business leaders.

The 13 west and central

African members of the CFA

franc zone devalued their currency by 50 per cent on

Jan. 12, sending shockwaves

through countries accus-

towed to the same parity

in to pay salaries of striking civil servants in countries

AUSE economies were paralyned by the high value of the TA franc, or came up with World Bank arrears at the

is: minute to save them from

varis first warned CFA

cone countries last Septem-

hat it would no longer prop zammunist-dominated parliament voted Friday to put an immediate ban on privatisa-

tions until the assembly

"We have to put an end to

i-national, ariminal priva-

thration, which is being con-directed in the interests of a "...y number of people," de-member of the Socialist Paror a resolution halting all types of privatisation until parliament reassembles in Egotember and decides which properties must remain in the

Cate Property Fund, which oversees privatisation, must

"stop the conclusion of agreements as to buying and

The resolution said the

r. teld the chamber. Deputies voted 180 to 62

irraed up the system.

Fir years, France stepped

Since 1948.

"The normal role of

October a list of state services to curb the budget deficit. "I cannot imagine how a family could travel abroad leaving its airconditioning devices working in the house to preserve the plants... those families ought to shoulder the expensive price for that," Sheikh Rodhan said.

Excessive use of electricity, which is subsidised will have to be paid for. Moreover, Kuwaitis can no longer expect guaranteed state jobs. "The state, no matter how and started reforming their countries must move away from dependence on aid and work to encourage private sector investment and greater integration with each other.

nomic recovery, you must also continue towards regional integration and the search for private investment," he said. "Much remains to be done but 1 am confident in the economic future of the

Mr. Balladur said the French development bank,

the Caisse Franchise de Developement, would make available an extra 1.5 billion

French francs ($276 million) in 1995 for investment financ-

Mr. Balladur promised

French support to guarantee regional financing to put to work some of the CFA that have flooded back into the region's banks since devalua-

It ordered the government to draw up a list of enterprises that were not to be privatised "because of their national significance" -- to include companies in the transport, energy, and com-

The 19-point resolution called for more state control over the privatisation process, including regular reports to parliament from the prosecutor-general, police

It included a vote of no-confidence in the head of the State Property Fund, and ordered the mechanism by which foreign investors participate in privatisation to be complicate a pledge by Presi-

The decision was certain to munication industries.

and security service.

reviewed.

nomies into two blocs.

WIEV (R) - Ukraine's selling and leasing with buy-franc zone countries,"

"Beyond this effort of eco-

Mr. Balladur said CFA

situation, cannot absorb all of 50 per cent by the year 2000 unless the state subsidies systhe national labour." Sheikh Rodhan seaid. tem was reformed. Telephone charges are also

The budget proposed for the 1994/95 fiscal year from expected to go up for households with more than one July 1 would produce a deficit telephone line. of 1.8 billion dinars ($6.2 It was not immediately billion) compared to a projected deficit in 1993/94 of clear if the plan included introduction of charges for 1.22 billion ($4.1 billion). health services, presently free of charge to all Kuwaitis and Sheikb Rodhan told parliament last week that among Gulf Arabs. Sheikh Rodhan said lowother proposals being studied income families would not be effected by the changes.

was imposition of income tax. Gulf war-related expenses, including repair of oilfields cost Kuwait more than $30

tee said recently the budget. billion. deficit would grow by almost Filipino investments abroad surge 864%

MANILA (AFP) — Invest-ments by Filipinos in other countries rose by 864 per cent in 1993 due to the liberalisation of foreign exchange regulations, the Philippine Central Bank statistics office has

A state economic commit-

Outward investments from the Philippines, both in stock portfolios and in capital, amounted to $1.167 billion in 1993 compared to $121 million in 1992, the Central

Bank said This was attributed to the government's decision in September, 1992, to allow Filipinos to invest as much as $1 million overseas without central bank

Portfolio investments abroad reached $1.061 billion while capital investments reached $106 million in 1993 compared to $115 million in portfolio and $16 million in capital investments abroad in

The bulk of Filipino investment overseas went to the United States which received $667 million in portfolio investments and $6.19 million in capital investments.

dent Leonid Kuchma to introduce market reforms to economy. Mr. Kuchma this week met International

Monetary Fund (IMF) chief

Michel Camdessus, who promised the IMF would work with the Ukrainian leadership on an economic reform programme that could open the way for $4 billion in promised Western aid.

efforts have barely started more than 2-1/2 years after the collapse of the former Soviet Union, lagging far behind neighbouring Russia.

Reform-oriented deputies said the resolution was a blow to market reforms and would hurt vital industries which need domestic and foreign investment to survive. Industrial output in Ukraine

Ukraine's privatisation

The west and central Africa CFA regions have pledged In contrast, foreign investto work towards greater inments in the Philippines tegration of their diverse ecoamounted to $2.59 billion in 1993, of which $2,257 billion

Exraine's parliament puts ban on privatisation went into portfolio invest-ments and $334 million went into capital investments. The United States was the main source of this capital, bringing in $1.49 billion. Meanwhile, Philippine export earnings for the first five months of 1994 climbed 16.1 per cent on a yearly basis to $4.96 billion despite the stronger peso. Export receipts for the month of May likewise rose 16.1 per cent over the same period in 1993 to $150.35 million and exceeded the previous month's level by 13,1 per cent. The National Statistics Office did not give figures for imports, but these have traditionally outsprinted exports. The cumulative trade deficit stood at $2.477 billion by end-April, up 28.8 per cent over the comparable period in 1993.

Electronics and components continued to be the country's leading products, accounting for 25.4 per cent of total exports in May, This was followed by apparel and clothing accessories with 19.4

The United States remained the country's biggest market.

declined 36 per cent in the first half of 1994 compared to the same period last year. boost Ukraine's collapsing "The socialists and communists in parliament don't have some great model in mind for privatisation. They want to restrict and stop this process," said Volodymyr Lanovy, an economist and former deputy prime minister. 'This act has pushed Ukraine's international authority still lower. Most of the parliament wants Ukraine to be isolated behind a fence, to create a communist heaven," he added. But parliament chairman Olexander Moroz, a socialist, said the resolution did not

has not yet recovered to the amount before the recession

Rays of growth shine on European vacationers

PARIS (AFP) — Europeans will return from summer holidays in a month's time to find that rays of strong economic growth have risen over their three main economies, in Germany, Britain and France, according to the latest figures.

Britain is expecting growth this year of about 2.75 per cent, France 2.0 per cent and Germany more than 1.5 per cent, statistics have sbowed.

The green shoots of recovery have long been announced, but yet to show in Britain and France, although in Germany they have burst through with astonishing speed.

The main unknown quanti- and threat to continuation of strong surge in activity, is the future of long-term interest rates.

Each country, too, bas its own particular weakness. In Germany it is the high cost of production and the strength of the mark. In Britain the threat in past recoveries has come from a propensity to import for consumption, resulting in a 'boom and bust" cycle.

In France unemployment is high, and Prime Minister Balladur warned that public deficits must be reduced to avert an increase in interest

In Britain official figures showed that the economy had grown by 0.9 per cent in the second quarter from the figure for the first quarter in the strongest quarterly performance on record, 1t bad also grown by 3.3 per cent from the figure for the quarter of last year, exceeding a growth rate of 3.0 per cent for the first time since the first quarter of 1989. The government recently increased its figure for expected growth this year to 2.75 per cent from 2.5 per cent forecast initially. At the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce economist David Coleman said that the target was now realistic. Chancellor of the Exchequer Kenneth Clarke commented that be wanted to, prevent the economy from falling again into a cycle of

"boom and bust." In the last 12 months industrial output bad risen by 4.5 per cent, retail sales bad risen by 4.0 per cent and exports by 9.0 per cent while the number of people without work had fallen by 270,000.

Official figures published in France showed that French manufactured output had increased by 2.2 per cent in May from the figure in April. The total amount of output

India announces stern steps to reform loss- making state firms

NEW DELHI (R) — Indian Prime Minister P.V. Narasimha Rao Saturday announced stern steps to reform loss-making state firms. telling them to employ fewer workers and modernise their technologies, officials said.

They quoted him as telling chief executives of state companies as saying the govern-ment would cut hudgetary support to them.

Mr. Rao told them not to rely on "spoon-feeding" two weeks after he told a Congress Party rally state-run companies would bave to perform or close.

Labour Minister Purno Sangma told the meeting that wage rises would be possible only if the number of workers shrank. "Wage revision should not impact in terms of increased unit cost of labour," he said, adding the government would not yield. The entire wage structure has to be linked to productiv-

Public sector reforms are considered a tough political challenge for Mr. Rao, who launched a radical economic reform programme in 1991. Surplus labour is a major issue in the companies, which have highly-organised labour unions. Pranab Mukherjee, head of the government's Planning Commission, said state companies would have to fend for themselves by raising more funds from the market. "A substantial portion of disinvestment should be reinvested in modernisation," he said. "If reform has one message, it is improvement of efficiency down the line." The government has begun selling off minority stakes in some state-run companies as part of a partial privatisation programme Some 104 of India's 237 state companies lost 40 billion rupees ($1.3 billion) in the 1992/93 (April-March) financial year. Cumulative investments of ,400 billion rupees ($44 bil-

"Once capital outlays are approved for an enterprise, the raising of money from domestic resources could be left to these enterprises within the framework of the companies act," said Rajinder Singb, chairman of the National Thermal Power

The chief executives

wanted more autonomy for managers and less bureaucratic interference, which they said was necessary to make state companies perform bet-billion) in 1992/93.

Corporation (NTPC).
Mr. Singh accepted closure of unviable companies as inevitable. "The loss-making public sector enterprises will face closure if no feasible restructuring scheme to make it viable is devised," he said. S.K. Chowdhury, chief of Coal India Limited, said state companies must be allowed to hire labour on contract. which is not allowed at present. He wanted wages to be linked to the performance of

Cash, manpower shortages hamper Iran's gas sector

lion) yielded a post-tax profit of just 34 billion rupees ($1

TEHRAN (R) - Lack of funds and shortage of skilled manpower hampered Iran's gas industry, causing it to fall short of targets set in its five-year plan ended March 20, Iran's top gas official was quoted as saying Thursday. Asadollah Salehiforuz, head of the National Iranian Gas Co., was quoted by Resalat newspaper as saying shortage of funds had delayed a major project to complete the gas network in the capital.

On the average, about 80 per cent of the goals of the first plan in the gas sector cash and skilled manpower shortages and a new regulation requiring the company to buy some of the land along pipeline routes.

Mr. Salehiforuz listed the number of power plants converted to gas and households hooked up to the gas network among the areas which lagged behind target.

Over the past five years Iran's daily gas refining pacity has risen to 95 mil lion cubic metres (3.36 billion cubic feet) from 28 million (989 million cubic feet), he

It would increase by a further 60 million cubic metres (2.12 billion cubic feet) when the Vali-e Asr refinery at Kangan near the Gulf coast came on stream by the end of 1994, he added. Daily gas production in the last Iranian year ended on March 20 averaged 82.3 miltion cubic metres (2.91 billion cubic feet), but it could rise by up to 50 per cent during periods of peak consumption.

he said The report did not mention gas exports, which are minimal despite the fact that Iran has the world's second biggest reserves after Russia: Iran has set up a consortium with several major European gas companies to study multi-billion-dollar plans to ship or pipe natural gas to Europe to supplement its oil export revenue.

Mr. Salehiforuz said the had to look elsewhere for 200 billion riyals ($114 million) for investment.

It also meant that the government would pay 1.2 tril-lion rials ($686 million) in subsidies for an estimated 32 billion cubic metres (1.13 trillion cubic feet) of gas to be consumed domestically in the year, he said. Mr. Salehiforuz said it now looked unlikely that the government could fulfil its goal parmament's veto of any domestic fuel price rises this year meant that the gas sector of eliminating all subsidies for gas and selling it at cost by 1999.

HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY JULY 31, 1994 By Thomas S. Pierson, Astrologer, Carroll Righter Foundation

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This last day of the month can best be spent in relaxation and entertaining friends for it is one of this month's best days. Why don't you plan to have a party and see the people you miss and really care about. ARIES: (March 21 to April 19)

ing which would require change later. Study a new philosophy that could be helpful to you in the future. TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) Morning is not good for pursuing some personal aims but the evening is fine for social activities. Sidestep a foe who is out for blood.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Seek a spot early in the day where you can gain peace of mind. Don't force any issues with family members who are not behind you.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) A close tie could be carcless in the morning but don't let this bother you. Strive for increased happiness with your loved ones.

LEO: (July 22 to August 21) Be sure you don't irk someone in authority or you could re-gret it later. Plan the new week's activities wisely and make progress.

VIRGO: (August 22 to September 22) Wait until the afternoon before putling across any ideas to others, but use orthodox methods for best results on a new project.

LIBRA: (September 23 to October 22) Study your obliga-tions well and plan how best to handle them. The afternoon is best for having a serious talk with your loved one.

SCURPIU: November 21) Wait until later in the day before talking over a personal matter with loyal friends so you can get full benefit. Be poised at all times. SAGITTARIUS: (November 22 to December 21) This is a fine day for getting out and visiting long-time friends whom you have not seen for some time. Follow your bunches which are accurate now.

CAPRICORN: (December 22 to January 20) Morning plans are not very good but later they work out just fine for you. Show that you are understand-ing towards a friends troubles. AQUARIUS: (January 21 to February 19) The situation at home requires diplomacy in the morning. Make only changes now which are neces-

PISCES: (February 20 to March 20) A new project you have in mind needs, more study before you put it in operation. Make plans to improve your sary to get an assignment comanuts

BUT WHEN NAPOLEON PROCLAIMED HIMSELF EMPEROR, BEETHOVEN TORE UP THE DEDICATION

mean the end of privatisation, simply a means to inject

some order into an unclear

Andy Capp

Watt'n'Jeff

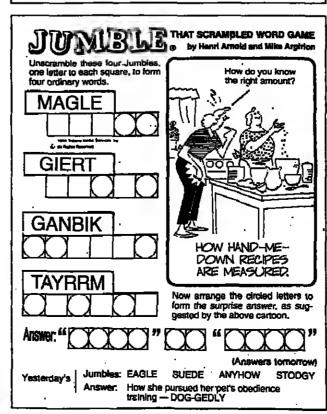

"If we were on Love Connection. would your description of me make the audience go 'wooooooooooo'?"

THE Daily Crossword by Richard Thornas

the Security Council form a mechanism for international action so that perpetrators of such bombings are not able to use diplomatic immunity to Sources close to the investigation in Buenos Aires linked Iranian diplomats to the bombing, an allegation denied by the Iranian embassy.

ambassador to Tehran and has twice summoned the Ira-

Aires to the foreign ministry

A news agency said

Argentine man was take into custody Friday in connection with the bomhing.

The government is new holding five people in the case, but none have been arrested or charged with a

Ariel Nitzchner, 28, owner of an anto renair shop outside

Buenos Aires, the Diarios Y

Noticias news agency said.

traffic minivan used in the attack was loaded with explosives at the shop, the report

Before Friday's detention, federal police chief Adrian

Pelacchi said that three ported.

and freed Thursday.

Police suspect the Renault

The man was identified as nian ambassador to Buenos

Argentina has recalled its

Iran 'ready' to cooperate against terrorism | China halts share issues,

(Continued from page 1) countries, including the United States, Britain and France.

Tehran hlamed the Mnjahedeen for a bomb attack at a shrine in Mashhad, eastern Iran, that killed 26 worshippers on Jnne 25. The group has denied the charges.

Friday's Security Council statement, read by Jamsheed Marker of Pakistan, expressed condolences to the victims, their families and the governments of Argentina and Britain.

The members of the Security Council demand an immediate end to all such terrorist attacks." the statement said.

They stress the need to strengthen international cooperation in order to take full and effective measures to prevent, combat and climinate all forms of terrorism. which affect the international community as a whole," it

Argentine Foreign Minis-ter Guido di Tella accused Hizbollah, a Lebanese-based group, of the Buenos Aires bombing in a speech pre-pared for delivery before the Security Council.

But when he made the speech, Mr. Di Tella omitted that assertion, suggesting only that the attack on the Argentine Jewish Mutual Association may bave been planned from outside the country. tioning Wednesday. "We are not going to ac-cuse anyone without evidence," Mr. Di Tella said in calling for "urgent and concerted action" by the international community to combat terrorism and racism.

He denied that Argentina was carrying out "any anti-Islamic campaign.

"We are fully confident that in a little more time, with the valuable cooperation of the governments that share our values of liberty and democracy, we can find the masterminds of this abberant act." be said. He recalled that Buenos Aires was the scene of a similar bombing March 17, 1992 that destroyed the Israeli embassy and killed 30

Mr. Di Tella proposed that yet cites a rosy future

BELIING (R) — Desperate to stop a freefall on the Shanshal hourse. China's stocks ency halted all share issues is year hut also began a good news" drive to keep foreigners from taking their money and running.

China Securities Regula-Commission Chairman Hongru issued the goslow edict late Friday, the icial People's Daily and her masor Chinesemage papers reported day in page-one stories. he decree suspends al!

e issues scheduled for 4 as well as those already delayed from 1993, salas not to further undermine the share prices on China's embattled stock markets. The suspension, applying to both experimental markets even casts doubt on 1995 "The scheduling of new share issues and listings next year must also be set in line with market conditions."

in Shanghai and-Shenzhen.

People's Daily said. The decree aims to ease the anger of investors in Shanghai, where the index of Chinese-held class-A shares has fallen by five per cent and sometimes even 10 per cent a day in recent weeks. The index dived another 2.19 per cent on Friday to a record low close of 328.84 points, only slightly better than the all-time intra-day low of 321.23 set in the morning.

It has crashed a staggering 80 per cent since peaking at 1,640.71 points on Feb. 16,

Yet in a Jekyll-and-Hyde twist reflecting fears of a worse market nightmare, the China Daily, published by the People's Daily in English and aimed chiefly at foreigners, contained no mention of the suspension of new shares.

Instead, it depicted Mr. Liu as waxing bullish about prospects for the share market experiments he oversees.

Oman sets up investment fund with British equity

ABU DHABI (AFP) — The Gulf state of Oman has set up its first investment fund with British equity and is studying an application from Japanese companies for a similar project. Omani bankers said Fnday.

The Oryx fund has a capital of 20 million riyals ($52 million) and has just started to trade its shares in Muscat and London.

"It is the first international fund to he traded in the Omani market as the government considers it a foreign venture because it does not bave a stake in it and it is not governed by Omani laws," a bank manager told AFP hy telephone from Muscat.
"I think it is a major step towards the internationalisation of the Muscat stock ex-

The Omani private sector owns 51 per cent of Oryx, which was established in Muscat at the request of a group of British companies seeking to take advantage of improved investment laws in Oman following large-scale economic reforms.

The remaining stake is held by Britisb and other Western investors.

Oryx, which has been fully subscribed, hegan trading last week and strong demand has pushed np the price of its share to 1.1 riyals ($2.86) from one riyal ($2.6). Bankers expect further increases in coming weeks.

Oman emharked on reforms three years ago to offset a decline in oil prices and diversify its economy. The reforms cover privatisation, improvement of the investment atmosphere and opening up its stock market. Officials said last week the drive would enable the pri-vate sector to play a leading role in the economy after decades of government monopoly.

They said emphasis would institutions is limited. "The government is considering a request from Japanese companies to set up an investment fund similar to the Oryx," a banker said, asking not to be named.

"I think there will be a positive response hut the government prefers to wait and see how the Oryx works before endorsing other foreign funds. According to my information, the requested fund is higger than the Oryx," he added.

Another joint venture was also set up with the United Arab Emirates (UAE) this year with a capital of 30 million rivals ($78 million).

Both Oryx and that fund will invest in projects cover-ing industry, farming, tourism, communications and other sectors. Oryx's activities will be limited to Oman, which will embark on its fifth five-year development plan in 1996.

The fourth plan has achieved its targetted growth rates although economic reforms were slow in its early stages, officials said.

From 7.6 per cent in 1991, the Gross Domestic Product in the non-oil sector surged by 12 per cent in 1992 and nine per cent in the first half of 1993, they said.

In a report from Muscat Friday, the UAE semi-offi-cial daily Al Ittihad said the establishment of Oryx had boosted activity in the already husy Muscat stock exchange, where nearly 65 banks and companies trade their sbares.

During the week ending Thursday, turnover hit a re-cord 3.9 million riyals ($10.1 million) and the 100-point stock index rose to 134 points, its highest level since the official floor was opened

Turnover in 1993 soared hy 66 per cent to $182 million from $109.2 million in 1992. Bankers attributed the

Lunch & Direct

7 days a week

SEA FOOD

Tel: 650093/4 Fax: 823864

Shmeisani-Near Babiche

Sanabel

FOR RENT

Deluxe Villas and Apertments

For further details please call

BANABEL REAL ESTATE

TEL: 864230 FAX 864231

in Asiman .

Real estate

Amman - Jordan

Baring Securities rates AFM high

By a Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN - A respected London-based international investment consultancy has given high marks to the Amman Stock Market (AFM) describing it as relatively sophisticated and wellmanaged despite its small

Baring Securities Limited said in a report released last week that the AFM was relatively cheap by current emerging market values and would benefit from a peace settlement in the Middle

The report, excerpts from which were carried by the Associated Press-Dow Jones service, said the shares at the AFM were trading at around 17 times 1994 earning, and at about 13 times if distorting factors are excluded.

The report came against a dramatic recovery in the AFM after more than four months of stagnation during which prices saw a decline of up to 25 per cent since the beginning of the year. The drop was attributed mainly to uncertainties of economic benefits for Jordan from the Middle East peace process, movement of capital from the tading floor to fresh issues and withdrawal of part of foreign capital from the mar-

Jordanian stocks were seen to be on the road to recovery with the dramatic progress made in the Jordanian-Israeli track of negotiations in the peace process. Prices shot up by nearly seven per cent in five days of trading two weeks ago, and latest indications are that the upward trend is likely to continue.

Baring Securities Limited is a London-hased firm whose advice is taken seriously by international in-

The firm's report on Jordan, which was drawn up hy analysts Angus Blair and Karen Bradley, notes that Arab-Israeli peace imitiatives are already stimulating local ign investment along with ... good economic fundamentals should drive the market

Further liberalisation of the financial infrastructure is planned and the government : is committed to encouraging foreign investment, the analysts point out, adding that they expect the Jordanian economy to register a six per cent growth in 1994 and seven per cent in 1997. At the end of 1993, the total capitalisation of the companies listed in the organised share market stood at around JD 3.4 billion at the end of June 1994 compared with JD 2.27 billion at the end of 1992 and JD 1.69 billion at the end of 1991.

The industrial sector accounted for JD 1.66 hillion, followed by commercial banks and financial institutions with JD 1.42 billion, the services sector with JD 670 billion and the insurance sector with JD 79.41 million, according to a summary re-leased by the AFM on market performance during the first half of this year.

The Baring report notes that the market capitalisation was on the lower end of the emerging markets scale, but notes that the AFM is one of the higgest regulated markets m the Arah World.

However, market capitalisation compared to the size of the economy is high, indicating a well-established stock market and a relatively high level of local trading, the report said.

Turnover during 1993 constituted 28 per cent of market capitalisation, around the same level as for Venezuela and Indonesia, the report

The analysts also noted that foreign investors were allowed to hold up to 49 per cent of a Jordanian company and the informal rule that a single foreign investor could not hold more than three per cent of the share capital of a company.

The Baring analysts also gave a list of shares that they recommend at the AFM: these included those of the Arah Aluminium Company, the Arah Bank Limited, Dar Al Dawa, the Industrial Development Bank and Jordan Cement Factories Companies and the Housing Bank.

Dubai sugar refinery to stake out regional. share

DUBAI (R) - A private Duhai company has been huilding a large sugar refinery that will seek to cash in on an enormous appetite for sugar in the Gulf region where demand is put at a probable world record of 30 kilogrammes per head.

It has taken a two- or three-year lead over a Saudi-British plant planned for Saudi Arabia, hut officials in each project said they thought the market was more than hig enough for both.

The Duhai unit is to bave annual capacity of ahout 800,000 tonnes, more than the entire 700,000-tonne market for sugar in the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC). which groups Saudi Arabia, the United Arah Emirates. Knwait, Oman, Qatar and Bahrain.

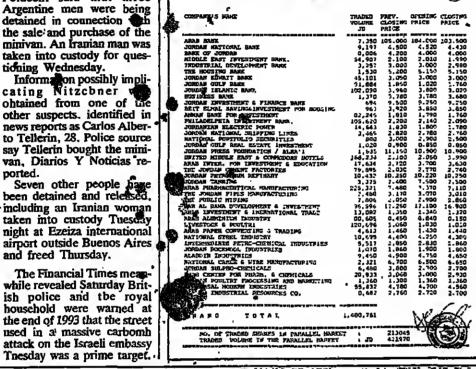

But while the 500,000 tonne per year Saudi plant will focus mainly on the 400,000 tonnes of Saudi demand, the refinery being built in Dubai's Jebel Ali free trade zone is considered an offshore refinery catering to the reexport market.

"The world is not the GCC," Jamal Al Ghurair, chairman and principal owner of the Dubai company, Al Khaleej Sugar, told Reuters.
"Dnhai does not live on the GCC only. We export to countries all over the world."

Mr. Ghur :7 is from a wellknown Dubai husiness family, and some of his relatives have also joined the project. He had originally considered hut decided against joining the Saudi pro-

That one is to be built in Saudi Arabia's Red Sea port of Jeddah as a joint venture between Saudi Arahia's cooking oil giant Savola Co. (51 per cent), Britain's Tate and Lyle Plc (15 per cent) and 13 Saudi sugar merchants (34 per cent).

The joint venture is named Umited Sugar Co. (USC) and the refinery is being huilt at a cost of about $120 million.

AMMAN FINANCIAL MARKET

Flat.O.Tel

SECURITY

Theers

Hamburgers+Pizzas ELITE CAFE

816690

863944

HOSPITALITY GASTRONOMY

TALK OF THE TOWN

DISCOTHEQUE

Open nightly From 9.00 P.M Except Tuesday closed

Monday: Drinks Af Night Long Buy One Get Two

A Menu of Delicious Snacks

Tel. 685211 Fax. 617779 Middle East Hotel - Shmelsar

Szechwan Gardens

CHINESE RESTAURANT

Typical Chinese Foods

Skilled Chinese Chefs

Open 11:30 - 3:30 & 6:00 - Midnight -

Take away is available

Shat Al-Arab Street Um Uthainah Commercial Centre

Tel.: 861174

Ence Tasted Always Loved

Extensive Travel Services for Businessmen and Expatriates

Phone 616217, Fax. 654769

O. Box 183764 Amman - Jordan

More reliable than a Camel I

The First Class Hotel in Ammon that has a Kitchenette in every room... "Satellite T.V. Reception"

DAROTEL

حاراوتيل

Amman - Tel. 607193 P.O.Box 9403 - Fax 602434

Telex 23888 DAROTL JO

ideal Residence For Expatriates and

Businesemen

Superior Hotel Services for Businessmen & Families & its

NéGrEsCo BaR

Good Drinks &

TeL, 810605/810609/810520 Fax: 8f0520 Budget السعودى للسياحة SAUDI TOURS Ghazi Saudi & Co,

FAR AND AWAY A BETTER DECISION TEL: 698131 FAX: 678312

FOR RENT & SALE

Many villas and apartments furnished or unfur-

Abdoun Real state

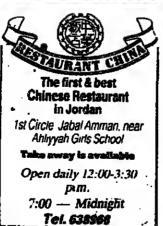

For moré details call;

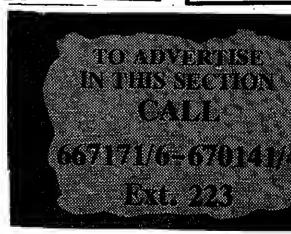

CHEN'S CHINESE RESTAURANT Engineers' Housing Estale, near Kilo Supermarket

Air Conditioned Hall

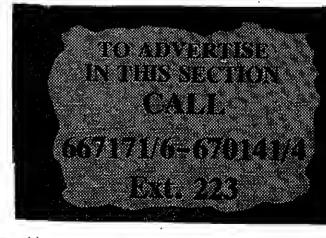

Mecca Street, Yarmouk Mongolian Barbeque for Lunch Faiday only Tel: 818216 Come and leste our specialities Open daily 12:00 - 3:30 p.m. 6:30 - Midment

La Vita Lounge 12:00 pm - v - Late The first & best Chinese Restaurant in Jordan 1st Circle Jabai Amman, near Ahlıyyah Gırlş School Take away is available Open daily 12:00-3:30 pam.

Swefieh tel: 823891

SMARTZ

International Cuiaine

TELEPHONE 81598

Summer Garden

Lunches

Dinners

Snacks

Drinks

Berger takes pole as Ferrari fill front row at German GP

HOCKENHEIM. Germany (R) .- Gerhard Berger claimed Ferrari's first pole position for nearly four years Saturday when he outpaced all his rivals in final qualifying for Sunday's German Grand

"Berger, who pushed his car torthe limit on the fast Hockentreim ring circuit, clocked a fastest time of one minute 43:582 seconds to secure the prime grid position for the - Jap race.

At was the Austrian's first pole since the Japanese Grand Prix at Suzuka in 1991, when he was with McLaren, and the first for any Ferrari driver since the Portuguese Grand Prix in September 1990.

To cap a perfect day for the revitalised Italian team, Frenchman Jean Alesi claimed second place on the grid in the second Ferrari. It was also the first all-

Ferrari front row since that day at Estoril when Nigel Mansell and Alain Prost. werel their drivers. Damon Hill, fastest Friday and hoping for his third successive pole, finished third in his Williams, ahead of local bero Michael Schumacher who failed to improve on fourtb place in his Benetton. Berger's time was nearly five seconda slower than Prost's pacestting effort at Hockenheim a year ago following the introduction of the latest set of safety regulations which require the cars to have a stepped-bottom by a 10m piece of wood.

Schumacher, driving under protest at the two-race ban imposed by the FIA Tuesday, made a buge but abortive effort to give the vast crowd the result they had hoped for. But with a Ford V8 engine in his Benetton. Schumacher was unable to compete on even terms with the vastly more powerful V12s of the Ferraris and the VIO of Hill's Renault-powered Williams.

GOODWILL GAMES

Cuba wins 6 boxing gold medals

(AP) - Cuba and Russia dominated boxing at the Goodwill Games with 11 of i2, gold medals, leaving the other gold Saturday for American Benjamin

Cuba won six golds to five for Russia, but the Russians von three of five gold-medal bouts against the Cubans. seeming to signal the return of Russia as a boxing power.

We had our boxers very well prepared for this event," said Russian Boxing Federation President Vladimir Ivanchenko. "As you know things are very difficult now, but step-by-step we're showing we stay even with the best in the world. That is Cuba." Cuba's highly successful coach Alcides Sagarra showed no disappointment at his team's few setbacks.

We're just now beginning to prepare ourselves for the world championships next year," Sagarra said. "Even Cuban fighters lose fights at

The 1995 world championships are in Berlin next

May. Two Cuban Olympic goldmedal winners lost in the two days of Goodwill finals. Joel Casamayor at 57 kilos (125 pounds) lost a 15-8 decision against Russian world bronze medallist Ramzi . Palyani, and Juan Carlos Lemus dropped a 15-7 decision to Rus-sian Sergei Karavakev at 71 kilos (156 pounds).

Cuba's best-known Olympic gold-medallist, 26-year-old beavyweight Felix Savon, won his gold with the only punch he threw in bis bout Friday, knocking out Russian Sergei Machalov in the first The United States was saved from a shutout by McDowell, a 24-year-old U.S. army enlisted man from Fort Bragg, N.C., who won a 9-7 decision at 81 kilos (178 pounds) over Cuban Dihosvany Vega.

"This is my biggest international win," McDowell said.
"I was the underdog and I like being the underdog. Maybe I can realistically think about the Olympics now, but first I want a vacation. I don't want to get burned out on boxing.

Cob county dropped from Olympics

ATLANTA (R) — Olympic organisers Friday said they will not stage preliminary vol-leyball competition for the 1996 summer games in an Atlanta suburb renowned for its condemnation of homosexuals.

Up to now, competition was set for a convention centre in Cobb County, a staunchly conservative community located just north of Atlanta, where government leaders have passed a resolution saying the gay lifestyle undermines family values.

The resolution, adopted by the Cobb County commission a year ago, triggered a storm of protest from gay activists who have spent months lobbying the Atlanta Committee for the Olympic Games (ACOG) to drop the site from its list of venues.

The controversy peaked this week when Cobb County commission chairman Bill Byrne said be was fed up with ACOG and wanted the organising group's reservations for volleyball practice in 1995 opened to others interested in renting the convention

ACOG said it will replace the Cobb County venue with the University of Georgia's coliseum in Athens, Georgia, about 60 miles (100 km) east of Atlanta.

Anti-gay | Agassi beats Bruguera at Canadian Open

TORONTO (R) — Eighth 'seed Andre Agassi was too good for top-seeded Spaniard Sergi Bruguera in a hardfought quarterfinal match at the $1.72 million Canadian Open late Friday, coming away with a 4-6, 7-6 (7-2), 6-1 victory.

"That's bigtime tennis." said the 20th-ranked Agassi of the one hour, 49 minute match. "Neither one of us could really hope to play better than that. fourth-seeded Jim Courier also looked fierce breezing past Thomas Enqvist of Sweden 6-2, 6-2, in another quarterfinal. The semifinal pairings pit Agassi against sixth-seeded

Wayne Ferreira of South Africa and Courier against unseeded Jason Stoltenberg of Australia. Ferreira beat 14th-seeded

Malivai Washington of the United States 4-6, 7-5, 7-5 in one quarterfinal. Stoltenberg upset 15th-seeded American Richey Reneberg 6-4, 6-2 in Agassi eventually overpowered the fourth-ranked Bruguera in a match where both players pounded the ball ferociously.

"It was a great match and we both played as hard as possible." Bruguera said. We put each other under a lot of pressure." The match turned decisively in Agassi's favour after Bruguera, down 2-0 in the final set, had the American on the ropes at 0-40 in the third game. But Agassi won the next five points to save the serve and lead 3-0, then captured three of the last four

"If I'm hitting the ball that good I let my opponent worry about me," Agassi said. "Mentally, I think he got a little discouraged after that third game.

Despite his quarterfinal loss, Bruguera will move to a career-high ranking of number three Monday. In all three sets Agassi took an early lead.

He led Bruguera 4-2 in the first set before the Spaniard broke even to 4-4. At 30-40 in the tenth game, Bruguera captured the first set when he smacked a vicious forehand right down the line.

Agassi had a 5-3 lead in the second set but Bruguera pulled even to force a tiebreaker.

At 2-2 in the tie-breaker, Agassi won the final five points to move the match into a final set. Bruguera double faulted on the last point of the tie-breaker.

Agassi now leads Bruguera 2-1 in career meetings. The 12th-ranked Courier who will move back into the top 10 Monday, played air-tight tennis Friday. He now has a 2-0 winning record over the 49th-ranked enqvist.

"Your game plan every match is to try and get up early and stay on top," Courier said. "Sometimes it worka and sometimea it doesn't. Today was a good day for that.

Courier lost only nine

ارول دروار دروار

*

Tur

14.46

Mill Mar Will

THE THE PARTY

an Same

~ (10)

distinct of الماخة

The Mark

Camponis

garde

and an a (daile in Arris

Bosco M

2.1 BATA ---N. 819

entit. strom \

ALC:

: Eurore

A 8 11

anth m

25 MAPA.

And the

...

letting and

Pus Pus Pas Pas

TYPIOS

I (Parios

I (

301.5

Tea

The :

Girls a teach subject:

I- K.

2- K.

 P_{refer}

 $Applic_{\ell}$

luesday

, ^{3,8},199,

the A

1689

APC part

Marie Veni

Andre Agassi

points in his eight service games, winning 24 of 27 firstservice points in the match. He never offered Enqvist a chance to break his serve in the 56-minute match.

The American was clearly dominant, racking in 25 outright winners to Enqvist's paltry seven in the match. Enqvist beld serve four times in the match - in the third and fifth games of the first set and the first and fifth games of the second set.

Majoli upsets Fernandez in Vermout

STRATTON MOUNTAIN, Vermont (R) - Iva Majoli of Croatia ensured that the semifinals of the $400,000 U.S. bardcourts will be an all-European affair when she upset American Mary Joe Fernandez in a long dnel late Friday.

The fifth-seeded Majoli, a 16-year-old ranked 23rd in the world, took advantage of three unforced errors in a third-set tie-breaker to edge tbe tbird-seeded, 11thranked Fernandez 6-3 5-7 7-6

Majoli's first victory in three matches with Fernandez put her in the semifinals against Spain's Arantxa Sanchez Vicario. Spaniard Concbita Martinez will play South African Amanda Coetzer in the other semifinal. The second-ranked San-

cbez Vicario, the French

Open champion, will carry a 1-0 record against Majoli. The third-ranked Martinez, champion at Wimbledon, has dropped only one set in five meetings with Coet-

Majoli and Fernandez each scored two service breaks in the third set before the Croatian took charge by running up a 5-1 lead in the tiebreaker.-

"I think I played the important points better," said Majoli. "I went for my shots on those points and they were dropping in. In the tie-breaker, I just didn't make any errors.

It was the second match of the day for Fernandez, who scored an easy 6-1 6-0 victory over Sonya Jeyaseelan of Canada to reach the quarter-

Sanchez Vicario and Coetzer

also each played two match-Sanchez Vicario, rushing to finish a second-round match, dropped a set on her way to a 6-4 3-6 6-1 victory over Sandra Cacic. Then in the quarterfinals, the Spaniard won the final eight games in ousting another American, Tami Whitlinger-Jones 6-3 6-0.

"I bad some ups and downs in the first match, but I controlled the second one," said Sanchez Vicario wbo teamed with Martinez to lead Spain to victory last week in the Federation Cup in Frankfurt.

Spurs promise more new players after signing Klinsmann

LONDON (R) - Tottenham are still looking to sign more new players following their spectacular swoop for World Cup stars Jurgen Klinsmann of Germany and Ilie Dumitrescu of Romania.

Klinsmann, rated one of the best strikers in the world over the last eight years, scored five goals in the World Cup finals — and for Tottenham to capture his signature from Monaco for just $2.0 million (£3.06 million) on a two-year contract represents a staggering coup for chairman Alan Sugar and his manager Ossie Ardiles.

The news of Klinsmann's arffval broke just 48 hours after Spurs signed Dumitrescuffrom Steaua Bucharest for $26 million (£3.97 million).

And Ardiles promised there would be at least one more top foreign player joining Spurs before the start. of the season although he seems to have lost out in his bid to tempt the Brazilian World Cnp defender Marcio Santos from Bordcaux to White Hart Lane. The the centreback is now "80 per cent certain" to join Fiorentina, according to his father.

Romania sweeper Gheorghe Popescu has also reportedly turned down Spurs. who had offered his club PSV Findhoven £2.5 million ($3.82 million), But Ardiles is still hopeful of signing Brazilian striker Muller for $1.4 million ($2.14 million) from world club champions Sao Paulo. The Tottenham boss pledged: "I am hoping to bring another player to the club. I'm practically sure that. before the season begins, there will be another foreign player here.'

Dumitrescu, who arrived in London for his medical Friday was eagerly anticipating the challenge of English "The fact that we have lost six points should mobilize us as a team," said the 26 yearold. "It is only two games. I believe in the value of teamwork. Together we will overcome that handicap. "I had offers from Bari. Padova and Monaco, and last night I had a telephone call from Atletico Madrid. But I chose Tottenham because I have a lot of respect for the club, they are a symbol of English football. The dramatic signing of Klinsmann, one of the biggest world names to come to English football since the arrival at Spurs of Ardiles himself in 1978, has overshadowed all the rest of the wheeling and dealing and was completed in cloack and dag-

FURNISHED APARTMENTS

IN AL-RASHID AREA

Roof-one bedroom, living room, kitchen, and 2 bath-rooms, lerrace, central heating, intercom.
 Studio of one bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, central

Call after 6:00 p.m. at 675287 - 668661

Sabroso

ger fashion by club chairman Sugar on his yacht off Monte Carlo.

Klinsmann, 30, was tempted to Spurs despite offers from Sampdoria and two Spanish clubs. He arrives in London Monday for the medical which will complete the formalities of the transfer from Monaco.

The blond German, a World Cup winner in 1990 wbo has appeared 62 times for his country, scoring 24 goals, said, "at first I was thinking of going back to Italy, then I was thinking more and more about Tottenham.

"They are a very prestigious club with a lot of tradition. It is a big challenge for me to play in the English premier league and I am looking forward to it."

Ardiles, who took no part in the actual negotiations, said, "Jurgen is a big, big signing. He is one of the best players in the world.

"Germany as a team did not have good World Cup, but Jurgen did. His signing shows the level of commitment we have here to return

this club to the top. It shows our ambition. "It is looking very exciting for us, especially up front. Going forward we are certainly going to be very, very strong. The arrival of attacking midfielder Dumitrescu and striker Klinsmann at Spurs almost certainly means that some of the present squad will be moving on. Vinny Samways looks certain to leave and is wanted by Everton, although they are baulking at Tottenham's asking price of £2.8 million

Mexicano

Jurgen Klinsmann

($4.28 million).

In the space of three days, Ardiles and Sugar have cleared much of the gloom that surrounding White Hart Lane this summer after the FA punished the club for irregular payments to players by banning them from the FA Cup next season and making them start 1994-95 with a following positions:

ORACLE:

experience.

photograph to:

six-point deficit. Klinsmann began his

Excellent Career Opportunity

A Management Consulting and Information Systems

Development firm is expanding its operations in Jordan and the region. It is recruiting candidates for the

SYS400: System Analysts and Designers with Gracie

Candidates should be fluent in English, and should be flexible in being assigned to projects in the region. A very attractive package is promised to successful

Interested candidates should address a cover letter (in English) stating the job reference above, CV, educational certificates, transcripts and a recent

P.O. BOX 830184,

Amman - Jordan

The Recruitment Manager / 01,

SYS300: Programmers: Oracle 6.0, 7.0

career with Stuttgarter Kickers, then moved to VFB Stuttgart, and in 1989 went to Italy and Inter Milan in a !£1.3 milion [52.0 million) deal. He claimed a UEFA Cup winners medal with Inter in 1991 then had a brief spell with Real Madrid the year after before joining Monaco.

Lang's goal upsets Monaco. PARIS (AFP) - Didier Alsace side hung on for the Lang's goal shocked French title challengers Monaco in their own stadium Friday as Metz won I-0. Metz, who finished just.

12th last season, earned their first three-point win in the French league with Lang's 22nd minute goal. And it was at the expense of last season's European signed striker Sonny Anderson and defender Eric Di Meco from Marseille. Franck Dumas fouled Robert Pires outside the area, and Lang made no mistake from the free-kick to beat keeper Fabian Piveteau and upset Arsene Wenger's In other matches, champions Paris Saint Germain drew 0-0 with Le Havre, fourth from bottom last season. Ten-man Strasbourg, boosted by the signings of Franck Sauzee from Atalanta and Xavier Gravelaine from PSG, played out a 1-1 draw with Cup Winners' Cup hopefuls Auxerre. Franck Sauzee, playing his first match since his disappointing year with Atalanta, relegated from Italy's Series A, opened the score for Strasbourg. From a Gravelaine corner. Sauzee headed home from the far post a muinute before half-But Bernard Diomede equalised a minute after the break with a powerful sbot. Then, eight minutes before time, Strasbourg's Pascal Baills was sent off, but the draw. Auxerre coach Guy Roux did well to grab a point considering-seven-players-were missing Franck Silvestre and Pascal Vahirua were suspended, and Bruno Martini, Moussa Saib, Christian Henna, Christophe Cocard, and Alain Goma were injured.

Nantes, coached by Jean-1-1 at home to Lyon with Patrice Loko scoring for Nantes and Florian Maurice equalising a minute later in the 54tb minute.

And Sochaux beat Caen, despite their signing of Sweden's World Cup star Kennet Andersson, with two late goals for a 2-0 victory.

Andersson joined Caen in May after following Lille coach Pierre Mankowski, but just last week, Benfica offered the Normandy club tbree million dollars for Andersson - about four times the amount Caen payed

"It's all very clear," Andersson said. "I signed a three-year contract here, and will stay at least till the end of the current season."

Andersson did not regret signing the Caen deal, though, after his goals for Sweden at the World Cup, he could have clinched a much

He even scored against Brazil in a I-1 draw in Group B, only one of two teams to beat Brazilian keeper Taffarel in seven matches at the World Cup finals.

FURNISHED LUXURIOUS APARTMENT FOR RENT

With an area of 335 sq.m., 2nd floor, 3 bedrooms, 4 bathrooms, dining room, salon, living room, modern kitchen, two large balconies, laundry room, maid room, car park, telephone, no water problem. Location: 4th Circle, very close to German, Greek and Korean embassies. Tel.: 666018, 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

FOR RENT

A distinguished apartment, furnished in American style. 3 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, 1 living room, 1 sitting room, 1 dining room, modern kitchen with balcony.

Located behind Umm Utheina Supermarket.

Please call tel. 825742

Jockey Piggott planning_ return

NEWMARKET (England) - Lester Piggott plans to return to the saddle as soon as he has recovered from his latest race riding fall.

As the racing world rallied to his defence to dismiss calls for his retirement, the 58year-old jockey was recuperating at home Friday.

Piggott suffered concussion and bruising when the saddle slipped from his mount Coffee 'N Cream at Goodwood Thursday.

Family friend Anna Ludlow said: "He is fine. He got back today and there are no problems. He is bound by the seven-day rule for concussion to take a break but he will be looking to return to action as soon as he is allowed."

Piggott could be back on the racetrack as early as next Friday but will need to be examined first.

Inevitably some are calling for Piggott to slip back into retirement, as he did between 1985 and 1990, but an overwhelming number of bis colleagues at Goodwood Friday back his decision to continue. Richard Hannon, the trainer of Coffee 'N Cream, said: "He should carry on if that's what he wants to do and he still enjoys it. The fall was just one of those things but he probably doesn't bounce as well as he used to." Jockeys association secret-ary Michael Caulfield said:

Certainly, he should not relire. He is a national treasure. Let's aooreciate every moment of his career." But Goodwood's clerk of the course Rod Fabricius believes retirement may not be too far away.

"Sooner or later in his own interests it would be best if he did consider retirement. But obviously the decision will not be easily made by him." ne said.

"I think probably it should be taken out of his hands at some stage bowever brutal that may sound.

"That's not to say his ability is wavening but Anno Domini will catch up with him eventually."

Jump jockey Mark' Richards said: "I don't think there is anything left for him to prove now. He will never retrieve the heady days of his illustrious career now.

"I still feel he is brilliant but he doesn't have the touch of flare he used to. It is a shame to see someone so brilliant just become the norm."

Hotel Inter-Continental Jordan would like to thank all those who look part in the competition to choose the name ... the forthcoming Mexican Restaurant. Mr. Majid Gussous from Aqaba was the lucky winner with ... Uniquely Inter•Continental Coming Soon ••• Coming Soon Coming Soon

Sports

ian Open*

idre Agassi

its in his eight service ies, winning 24 of 27 first. ice points in the match e never offered Enqvista uce to break his serve in 56-minute match. he American was clearly inant, racking in 25 our. winners to Enquisi's y seven in the match iqvist held serve four s in the match — in the and fifth games of the set and the first and fifth s of the second sel.

mout

each played two match.

nchez Vicario rushing inish a second round h, dropped a set on her to a 6-4 3-6 6-1 victory Sandra Cacic. Then in quarterfinals, the Spawon the final eight s in ousting another rican, Tami Whitlinger-6-3 6-0.

had some ups and downs first match, but I cond the second one," said ez Vicario who teamed Martinez to lead Spain nory last week in the ation Cup in Frankfurt.

ockey ggott anning

turn

MARKET (England) ster Piggott plans to to the saddle as soon has recovered from his race riding fall. he racing world rallied defence to dismiss calls s retirement, the 58d jockey was recuper-it home Friday. ott suffered concussion uising when the saddle from his mount Cof-Cream at Goodwood ily friend Anna Lud-"He is tine. He got day and there are no ns. He is bound by the lay rule for concussion a break but he will be to return to action as he is allowed. att could be back on track as early as next but will need to be ed first. tably some are calling gott to slip back into ent, as he did hetween id 1990, but an overng number of his colat Goodwood Friday decision to continue. rd Hannon, the trainoffee 'N Cream, said: buld carry on if that's wants to do and he oys it. The fall was of those things but ably doesn't hounce as he used to." ys association secrethael Caulfield said:

ily, he should not reis a national treat's appreciate every of his career. loodwood's clerk of se Rod Fabricius be-ttrement may not be er or later in his own it would he best if he der retirement. Bul the decision will sily made by him.

k probably it should out of his hands at ge however brutal sound not to say his abilavering but Anno will catch up with tually. jockey Mark said: "I don't think nything left for him now. He will never e heady days of his feel he is brilliant career now. sn't have the touch e used to. It is a see someone so just hecome the

NBA's Magic sign Horace Grant Jordan offers a dream challenge

ORLANDO. Florida (R) — The Orlando Magic announced Friday that they lenge." Earlier in the day, the Magic traded guard Scott Skiles to the Washington Bulhave signed Horace Grant, making the free-agent power lets, apparently to free no forward who won three NBA Skiles' salary slot of $2.1 miltitles with superstar Michael lion to help sign Grant. Jordan a teammate of the "We have been very forleague's brightest new martunate to have had the oppor-

quee player, Shaquille O'Neal. tunity to acquire a player of Horace Grant's calibre," Magic vice president of bas-Terms of the deal were not disclosed. ketball operations/player per-The 29-year-old Grant, sonnel John Gabriel said. who led the Bulls in rebound-What he can contribute to ing the last six seasons, played this team from his experience on all three of the Bulls' and leadership qualities, his championship teams from rebounding abilities, and his 1991-93 and has spent his playoff experience are going entire seven-year career in to be invaluable to this team. We're extremely excited to "Hopefully, with my prehave Horace as a part of our sence, we can go real far," said Grant, who made his future."

The 6-foot-10, 235-pound Grant was selected by Chicago in the first round of the 1987 draft with the 10th overall selection out of Clemson. He averaged 15.1 points and 11 rebounds in 70 games last season, while shooting 52 per

Turkey seeks Colak's extradition

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) -Turkey was seeking the ex-tradition of soccer star Tanjn Colak Saturday after he fled the country two days earlier just before a warrant for his arrest for car smnggling was first All-Star appearance this

"We have a very young, talented team. The nucleus is great and it's exciting for me to be a part of that. I'm definitely up for the chal-

Chicago.

The Istanbul daily Cumhuriyet quoted justice Minister Mehmet Mogultay Saturday saying officials had started legal proceedings for Colak's extradition from

However, Mogultay implied it may not be an easy process because Turkey did not have an extradition agreement with the newlyindependent Macedonia.

Colak, the leading scorer in European soccer in the 1987-88 season, faces 22 months in prison and a fine of 772 million liras ($24,000) for his involvement in the car

Both volnerable, South deals, NORTH

₩ 6 7 10 7 3

1 è Pass 1 NT Pass
2 è Pass 3 è Pass
Pass Pass
Opening lead: Six of è
In 1990 Joel Wooldridge of Wil-

In 1990 Joel Wooldridge of Wil-amswille, N.Y., at 11 years and 4-nonths became the youngest life asster ever. Three years later, a own-ament veteran at 14, he is competing against the country's est and showing signs of a bright titure.

was a one-round force—the rest of the auction was natural, except that South's diamond rebid could have

North East 1 NT Pass 3 ? Pass

"I am not sure if I will return to Turkey," Colak said earlier and added that he was waiting to have his sentence lifted by President Sulcyman Demirel.

The said he should be forgiven just as the Argentinian government forgave soccer superstar Diego Maradona for drug offences.

The sentence effectively marks the end of Colak's career. As Turkish sports regulations forbid anyone sentenced for certain crimes, including smuggling, from playing professionally again. Colak starred for the Istanbul team Galatasaray in the late 1980s and for Fenerbachce in the early 1990s. His career went into decline after legal and marital troubles and was fired from his first division club.

He was later transferred to Istanbulspor in the second

West led the six of clubs (the modern tendency is to lead third-best from four cards) and declarer ran that round to hand, winning with the nine. A low spade was led to the nine, king and ace and a club came back.

came back.

Declarer rose with the ace of clubs and drew trumps in three rounds, ending on the table. A low spade was led and, when East inserted the eight, South read the position or rectly (the mine of spades on the first lead had tipped the distribution) and played low from hand and West had to waste the queen of spades.

on air."

The rest was routine. The defense did what it could by cashing the suit.

Declarer ruffed in hand, discarded a heart on the jack of spades and then led a club from hand. The defanders could not get more than two spade tricks, one heart and one club.

Declarer's decision in the spade suit is known as Restricted Choice. Briefly, if West held a doubleton Q 9, the defender would have to follow with the low card. If West held a 109 doubleton, West could play either card on the first round of the suit.

Thus, the odds are two to one in favor of North's second card being the queen.

Grant, who has shot better than 50 per cent in each of his seven seasons, has averaged 12.6 points and 8.6 rebounds in his career. He grabbed a club-record 344 offensive rebounds during the 1991-92 season.

cent from the field.

"This signals one thing...a commitment by the own-ership to make the Magic a championship-calibre team, Magie coach Brian Hill said. "He's going to give so much to our team. He knows what it takes to win a championship. In May, the Bulls filed charges against the Magic for tampering with Grant, hat the charges were later dropped. Grant became an unrestricted free agent July 1, Bulls chairman Jerry Reinsdorf announced earlier Friday that they were no longer interested in re-signing Grant after he thought the two had reached a verbal agreement on a five-year, $20 million contract.

Reinsdorf said he and Grant met face-to-face, at the player's urging, and came to the verbal agreement, but Grant later changed his mind.

"It's never been all about money," Grant told a news conference. "I wanted to search for a good organisation. A good organisation consists of a family atmosphere. I truly believe I found it right here in Orlando."

NEW YORK (AFP) — Michael Jordan offered a challenge to members of Dream Team II, saying his original 1992 Olympic championship squad could beat the latest collection of National Baskethall Association

Jordan, who retired last year to begin a basehall career, told the New York Post that he would love to play in a charity game matching the first Dream Team against the latest group assembled to play at the world championships starting Thursday in Toronto.

Responding to comments by Dream Team II players that they would win such a show-down, Jordan said, "Those guys are on the right team, because they are definitely dreaming. Not only was Dream Team I better, but we could beat them right now.

Jordan said he could average 32 points a game after only a couple of weeks to prepare, but said pride prevents him from ever considering a return to the NBA.

The seven-times NBA scoring champion, who led the Chicago Bulls to three straight league crowns, ripped his former teammates for a lack of support and said his late father James wanted him to retire during his final season because "he felt my teammates didn't appreciate what I was doing for them."
"I had totally lost interest," Jordan said of his final season. "I knew I had to give it up."

They had no idea how much pressure and grief I had to put up with off the court while arrying them on the court," Jordan said. "Scottie (Pippen) found out the hard way what it's like to be under the microscope 24 hours a day. For the first half of the season he did great carrying the team. The second half, not so great. Jordan said Pippen made a grave mistake by taking bimself out of the final Bulls' playoff

Michael Jordan

"I don't think he will ever live that down." Jordan said

Jordan said he found squahhles of his teammates petty.
"I covered their asses when they got right at the end of games and I had to overcome fourth-quarter deficits all by myself," Jordan said. "It bothered my father a lot, just as it bothered me, to hear them bitching about not getting enough credit or not getting enough

Jordan said media examining of his gambling and inaccurate links between gambling and his father's killing pushed him to retire. game when Toni Kukoc was set to take the final shot while Pippen would have been a Jordan is batting .188 for a minor-league

McRae heading for 2nd world rally title

ROTORUA, New Zealand (R) — Scotsman Colin McRae was heading for his second victory in a world championship event Saturday after dominating the second day of the Rally of New

Winning the day's first five special stages in his Subaru Impreza, McRae, 25, stretch-ed his overnight lead, ending the day two minutes nine seconds ahead of world champion Juha Kankkunen of Finland "I just backed off in the last few stages today and I might back off a bit more tomorrow — we'll see what Juha does," McRae said. Kankkunen acknowledged the quality of McRae's per-formance. "I was trying ev-erything but he was going too fast," he said.

McRae now needs only to keep going through the re-latively short third day Sunday — eight special stages totalling 98km — to repeat last year's victory. In their efforts to combat McRae's devastating speed through the winding gravel roads of the east coast area, his closest pursuers all en-countered trouble during the long second day. Five top drivers hit roadside banks but managed to Former world champion Miki Biasion of Italy saw his frustrating rally come to an end when the engine of his Ford Escort Cosworth failed while he was lying sixth.

Auriol passed his Toyota

Didier Auriol of France, Mitsubishi team members Armin

Schwarz of Germany and

Sweden's Kenneth Eriksson

Less fortunate was young

British champion Richard

Burns, who upped the tempo

to climb to fifth but then skidded his Subaru at high speed into a rock face which furned out to be rather

He was fraced out, leaving

McRae as the sole surviving

Subaru team driver. Spaniard

Carlos Sainz and New

Zealander Possum Bourne

dropped out on day one.

and Finn Ari Vatanen.

teammate Kankkunen in the morning to claim second, but his crash and later mechanical woes — a hroken front differential and gearbox problems — dropped him to

Vatanen won four stages in a row in the afternoon. "This is better, I should have been going like this all the rally," the Finn said.

However, three minutes lost while he recovered from his crash dropped him to fourth behind Schwarz's Mitresume the contest — Toyota drivers Kankkunen and

It was Cowlings who was at the wheel of the white Ford

Bronco June 17 when police pursued the vehicle in a chase

that was nationally broadcast. The chase ended when Cowlings drove the car hack

to Simpson's home, where

California police, meanwhile, were looking for the thief who stole Simpson's

Heisman Trophy and his col-

both men were arrested.

O.J. Simpson trial date changed to Sept. 19

LOS ANGELES (R) - O.J. Simpson's date for trial on murder charges was changed late Friday to Sept. 19 when the judge presiding over the case realised he bad made a mathematical error. Superior court judge Lance Ito at first named Sept. 20, the 60th day following Simpson's arraignment last Friday, as the date for the start of the

But he later changed it to Sept. 19, noting that under California's "speedy trial" law Simpson was entitled to be tried within 60 days of being arraigned. Simpson has pleaded "absolutely, 100 per cent not guilty" to the murders of ex-wife Nicole Brown Simpson, 35, and her friend Ronald Goldman, a 25-year-old model. The two were stahbed and slashed to death outside Nicole Simpson's Brentwood apartment on the night of June 12, at a time when Simpson says he was at home waiting for a limousine to take him to the airport.

During a preliminary bearing marked by its civility, in sharp contrast to the heated conrtroom skirmishes of past hearings, the two sides agreed to meet informally to discuss exchanges of evidence rather than make repeated

Gerald Uelmen, a member of Simpson's defence team, complained in court that police were not following up leads fast enough and that the defence was not being given enough information.

He said that in police documents handed to the defence team last week, "there was a report of an eyewitness who as in the alleyway behind Nicole Simpson's house who reports hearing someone leaving from the back gate and then two men arguing."

Uelmen complained that the information was given in abbreviated form and did not include the witness's address or telephone number. Deputy district attorney

William Hodgman said the Los Angeles police department was making efforts to contact the witness and interview him.

Another defence attorney, Johnnie Cochran, said there was at least one other witness police interviewed some time ago, "who has given testimony or evidence that is totally inconsistent with the theory of a lone assailant and entirely inconsistent with the fact that Mr. Simpson is that assailant.

"To date, we have not received any report of that particular witness."

He added there were more witnesses "who have theories of multiple assailants of different ethnic backgrounds than Mr. Simpson that we think need to be pursued vigorous-

Hodgman assured the court that all leads and witnesses were being followed

Friday's hearing was on a defence motion asking for several specific items of information, including reports from hospitals in the area which may have treated someone for a dog hite wound on the night of the murders.

Nicole Simpson's large, white dog was found wandering loose following the

Responding to that request, Hodgman said the de-Al Sager Building (26).

09 902358 after 7:00 p.m.

First floor.

fence was trying to engage in "fishing expedition. 'If they want to go fishing,

I suggest they get their own pole and tackle box," he said. He did agree, however, to turn over tapes from the district attorney's "hot line" containing tips from the pub-

Uelmen said the defence would turn its "hot-line" tips over to the prosecution, and the judge said he had also receive telephone tips and letters which he would make available to both sides. "Some are more interesting than others," he said,

FURNISHED FLAT FOR RENT

Consisting of 2 bedrooms, salon, dining, 2

bathrooms, new furniture, a modern building.

Located at Tlaa Al Ali, behind Gardens Street, opposite Jabri Restaurants on the southern side

Those interested please call tel. 695055

from 8:00 a.m. and until 7:00 p.m. and tel.

In a rare moment of levity, laughter filled the courtroom several times when Ito noted "non-party filings — individuals who have attempted to join in this case (for) the decided whether to charge him with aiding and abetting "They're welcome, your the flight of a fugitive.

honour," lead defence attorney Robert Shapiro quipped. Ito, with a deadpan expression and delivery, also announced that he had received a check for $12 million as a filing fee.

"Did the check clear, your honour?" Cochran asked. 'I wouldn't be here if it did," Ito replied.

Practically the only person who did not laugh during the exchange was Simpson, who

lege football jersey from their remained sombre.
Hours after Simpson's hearing, his friend, Al Cowldisplay case at the University of Southern California. The Heisman Trophy is ings, appeared hefore a awarded annually to the best municipal judge to hear procollege foothall player in the secutors say they had not yet United States.

STENDERAPHER I TOUST WANTED

International firm requires the services of an ndividual that is fluent in Arabic and English and can take dictation at a minimum of 65 words per minute and type in both languages using IBM Microsoft Word at minimum rate of 35 words per minute.

Interested individuals may apply to following address: P.O.Bnn 851532

Al-Suweiftyeh 11185 8mmen

ALL APPLICATIONS SHOULD BE SUBMITTED ON OR BEFORE AUGUST 15, 1994

Teacher's Wanted

GOREN BRIDGE

YOUTH WILL BE SERVED

The Ahliyyah School For Girls announces the need for teacher's in the following subjects:

1- K.G. English teacher's 2- K.G. Music teacher's Preferably with experience Applications may be submitted Tuesday 2.8.1994 and Wednesday 3.8.1994 from 11-1.00 O'clock in the Ahliyyah Kindergarten

FURNISHED APARTMENT

CAR FOR SALE

MISTUBISHI COLT GLX 1989

55,000 KMS, AIR CONDITIONING,

GOOD CONDITION: WITH NO PROBLEMS

IN FOUR YEARS OF USE. DUTY: UNPAID

TELEPHONE: 636147/8 (W), 670454 (H)

Two bedrooms, salon...etc. -- beside Amra Hotel, seoarate entrance with telephone, central heating, hot water 24 Rent including central heating, hot water & electricity JD 350/month.

(Annual rent is preferred) Please call Marvet, tel.: 668425

CAR FOR SALE DUTY NOT PAID

1989 V.W. Jetta, 68000 kms, fully equipped. Available immediately.

Canadian Embassy 666124 Ext. 3300

APARTMENT TO RENT

A three-bedroom apartment (unfumished) with large dining and salon, large veranda. Total area 200 sq.

Location: Sweifieh, near Olympia Hotel. Interested, please call 634134

ALWATHEER Where style, good taste and quality We're opening today عهار البحيل المارة الكبلو شارع للمينة للنورة

		•
	Cinema Tel.: 634144 PHILADELPHIA	Ciriema Tel.: 699238	Cinema Tel.: 677420	AMMOUN	Tel.: 675571 Nabil Al Mashini Theatre	Nahil & Hisham's Tel.: 625155 AHLAN THEATRE
TODAY	Richard Gere/Sharon Stone in INTERSECTION	Sharihan-Mahmoud Hamideh — Hussein Fahmi in Woman's market Arabic	. GET AWAY	Cinema and Theatre THELMA AND LOUISE Shows: 12:30, 3:30, 6:00 Starting Aug. 15 the political play "SAHRA KANAUNIEH"	Today & Everyday Abu, Awwad in social comedy "PUNCTURED BAG"	Present their play: WHAT A PEACE! (Salar Ya Salam) Daily at 8:30 p.m. The theatre is closed on Tue days.
			. GET AWAY	Starting Aug. 15 the political play		Daily at 8:30 p.m. The It eatre is closed on T

NEWS IN BRIEF

55 injured in violence over Nasrin

DHAKA (AP) — Radicals demanding stiffer blaspberry laws and death to a feminist writer clashed with police and the author's supporters, leaving 55 people injured, reports said Saturday. Newspapers said the violence broke out overnight as nearly 50,000 Muslims dispersed after marching through Dhaka streets Friday to call for the execution of Taslima Nasrin, whom they accuse of insulting Islam.
The reports said 40 people were injured when Islamic activists threw crude home-made bombs and 15 others were hurt when police fired ruber bullets at the demonstrators near Dhaka's parliament building. Police made 16 arrests. A nationwide strike called by the opposition Awami League party and secular student groups halted traffic and closed buinesses in Dhaka on Saturday. The stoppage was a protest against the alleged killing of six people by supporters of the fundamentalist Jamaat-E-Islami party. The six died Tuesday in a clash between backers of fundamentalist leader Golam Azam and secular students in the southern port city of Chittagong. Bangladesh, where the population is 90 per cent Muslim, is being increasingly polarized by such disputes. Ms. Nasrin, 31, went into hiding June 4 after a court ordered her arrest on charges of violating a 19th-century law against hurting religious sentiments. An Indian newspaper had quoted the writer as calling for a revision of the Koran. She says she was misquoted and had actually called for greater rights for women under Islam.

Two N. Korean defectors nabbed in Russia

MOSCOW (AFP) - Two North Korean escapees from a Siberian logging camp were caught trying to cross the Russian border into China with the intention of heading to South Korea, the media reported here. The Russian army newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda said Friday the two had escaped the Chegdomyn camp and were caught "recently" by Khabarovsk border guards. The two set off an alarm and were picked up after a five-hour chase. The paper did not say what became of the would-be defectors. South Korea earlier this year said it would accept defectors from the Siberian camps where thousands of North Koreans are employed, on "humanitarian" grounds, sparking allega-tions of kidnapping from North Korea. Meanwhile, ITAR-TASS news agency Saturday said customs in the far-eastern Vladivostok region had arrested a 52-year-old North Korean who was attempting to smuggle opium into the

Detectives among 4 killed in Soweto

JOHANNESBURG (R) — Four people, including two detectives investigating a murder, died in a shootout at a flouse in Johannesburg's giant Soweto township early on Saturday, police said. A murder suspect and a bystander were also killed and a third policeman and a bystander were wounded in the shooting in Soweto's Orlando district, near the township home that President Nelson Mandela still owns. Police spokesman Hennie Oosthuizen said three officers were investigating the murder of a man whose throat was cut during the night. At least 330 South African policemen have been killed, mainly in the black townships, since the beginning of last year and about 1,000 have been

Maoist militants kill 16 in India

NEW DELHI (R) — A landmine planted by Maoist guerrillas killed 16 people on Saturday, most of them policemen, in the central Indian state of Madhya Pradesh, the United News of India reported. It said several other people travelling in a police vehicle were iojured in the explosion and that at least one was wounded by a bullet, indicating that militants had fired on survivours. The agency said the attack appeared to have been in revenge for the deaths of four militants in a gunbattle with police. Maoist militants, known in India as Naxalites after the town where their movement started in the 1960s, bad distributed pamphlets in the area promising revenge. The landmine is a favorite Naxalite weapon against police. They have used them previously in the southern state of Andhra Pradesh, where they are strongest, as well as in Madhya

Plutonium hidden in Switzerland

HAMBURG (AFP) - A German businessman in custody for possessing Russian plutonium which could be used to make nuclear weapons has offered to reveal another cache of the radioactive chemical hidden in Switzerland, the German weekly Der Spiegel reported Saturday. Adolf Jackle told the government he would reveal the exact whereabouts of the 60 grammes of plutonium in exchange for a relaxation of his conditions of detention, the magazine said io an extract of an article in the edition which goes on sale on Monday. Mr. Jackle said that apart from the six grammes of Russian plutonium 239 seized at his home in Tengen-Wiechs and the 60 grammes in Switzerland, he also knew of places in Germany and Austria where traffickers had hidden enriched uranium. He said he would only reveal details, names of suppliers and buyers once his demands were met. Spiegel reported. It did not say what these demands were. Police enquiries into the affair are following several leads to Saudi Arabia, Russia, Bulgaria and Asia and believe the plutonium seized at Mr. Jaekle's bome came from a Russian nuclear bomb factory. Russian authorities are angry that the Germans have not supplied them with a sample of the plutonium which would enable them to ascertain its origin. Der Spiegel said.

Front line welcomes new South Africa

WINDHOEK (AFP) The front line states formally dissolved Saturday and welcomed a reformed South Africa into a new political and economic organisation. Nathan Shamuyarira, Zimbabwe's foreign minister, said the frontline states would become the political and security wing of the South African Development Community, a regional group South Africa was to join in August. "The work of the front line states is now complete," Mr. Shamuyarira said after a meeting of southern African foreign ministers. The front-line states — Angola, Bostswana, Mozambique, Tanzama, Namibia, Zambia and Zimbabwe — helped lead international opposition to white minority rule in South Africa. A black-led government took over South Africa after the country's first all-race elections were held in April. South African Foreign Minister Alfred Nzo attended Saturday's meeting in Windhoek.

Israell coach says he was detained

TEL AVIV (AP) — A leading Israeli soccer coach said Saturday that he and two colleagues were detained by Dutch police in connection with the recent bombings of Jewish targets in London. "We didn't know if to laugh or to cry," Avraham Grant, coach of cupwinner Maccabi Tel Aviv, told army radio after four hours in custody at Amsterdam's Schiphol airport. Mr. Grant said be and team officials Shimon Korek and Avraham Lev were seized upon arrival Friday. Despite protestations that they were Israeli. he said, they were searched and marched across the terminal to separate tiny detention rooms. "I gave them my business card and asked, 'let us make a phone call, we're pretty famous in Israel, but nothing. It was humiliating, Mr. Grant said. Dutch military police spokesman Alek de Jong said three men and a woman from KLM's flight KL120 from London were detained for a few hours Friday afternoon, but refused to disclose identies. Another passenger thought be recognised them from composite drawings of suspects made by British police, Mr. De Jong said. The Israelis were en route from Iceland to summer training camp in Germany and had only changed planes in London, Mr. Grant said. Eventually an officer returned their passports and freed them with apologies Mr. Grant said, adding he "will not let this slide."

N. Korean premier seen unhurt by defection

TOKYO (Agencies) — North Korean Prime Minister Kang Song-San attended mourning rites for an old colleague, suggesting he was unharmed by the recent defection to South Korea of a man claiming to be his son-in-

The official Korean Central News Agency (KCNA), monitored in Tokyo on Saturday, listed Mr. Kang in second place behind Communist Party Standing Committee kingpin O Jio-U among the mourners for De-puty Prime Minister Kang Hui-Won, who died this

The rites took place on Friday, KCNA said. Kang Hui-Won's funeral was set for Saturday.

Kim Jong-II, son of the late President Kim Il-Sung who died on July 8 and his father's presumed successor, did not

Premier Kang's position in the ruling bierarchy was un-changed from that revealed in the make-up of Kim II-Sung's funeral committee. The Tokyo-based Korea-

watch agency Radiopress said Premier Kang's involvement in this weekend's funeral rites for Kang Hui-Won indicated he was politically secure despite the defection of Kang Myong-Do, revealed on

The defector, who said he was Premier Kang's son-inlaw, told a news conference in Seoul that his country had developed five nuclear warbeads, contradicting North Korea's insistence it has no nuclear arms programme.

Pyongyaog said Kang Myong-Do is unrelated to Prime Minister Kang Song-San, and called him a criminal whn embezzled public funds and then fled to the South to avaid punishment.

The U.S. government, which is spearheading international efforts to discover the truth about Pyongyang's ouclear ambitions, bas said it is seeking more information from South Korea on the defector's reliability.

Kang Hoi-Woo was the second high-ranking North Korean official to die since the July 8 death of the Stalinist state's founder

Official media reported on Thursday the death of General Jo Myong-Son, a prominent military and party figure who last served as viceminister at the key public security ministry.

While South Korea officials seem convinced of the defector's entity, officials have cast doubt on the reliability of his information, which he says he got through conversations with the intelligence chief responsible for Yongbyon, the country's main nuclear complex.

Atomic Energy Agency, which has been monitoring North Korea's nuclear prog-ramme, said Friday the claim to five warheads was doubt-"Based on information

The U.N. International

currently available to (the IAEA), the statement made by the defector is not judged to be plausible," the agency said io a statement.

Also on Friday, South Korea moved to dismiss the assertion as "transitory intelligence.

"We reaffirm that the defector's testimony has not been supported by solid proof," said Kim Hyong-Ki, spokesman of South Korea's Unification Ministry. Vice-Prime Minister Lee Hong-Koo and other senior South Korean officials held consultations Friday and decided that the latest assertion won't affect Seoul's policy towards North Korea.

South Korean government prosecutors have ordered a nationwide police roundup of 120 student leaders suspected of sympathising with North Korea.

The dragnet was a part of an ongoing crackdown since the July 8 death of Kim Il Sung on students and other activists suspected of being pro-North Korea.

South Korea's strict national security law pro-hibits sympathy with North Korean ideology, but dissidents have demanded that the government send condolences to the rival North. The government has refused, and bas threatened to severely punish any who do.

Studeots have hung ban-ners and passed out pamphlets eulogising the late Kim as a great leader who led Korea out of Japanese colonialism. Some of the wanted students are suspected of baving held ancestral worsbip

rites to pay their respects to

Most South Koreans blame Kim for having started the 1950-53 Korean war, and many have questioned the students' demands for condo-

Conservatives have accused the student groups of being infiltrated by North Korean spies.

Hanyang University in Seoul kicked out a student organisatioo accused of being pro-North Korea from its campus earlier this week. North Korea, meanwhile, slammed South Korea for its crackdown. 'The anti-North confrontation campaign is a desperate effort—of those who are driven to a tight corner."

KCNA said Friday, quoting an editorial in the ruling party's Rodong Sbinmun.

No room at dinner table

for ex-president

NICOSIA (R) — Former

Cyprus President George

assiliou turned out for an official dinner with visiting

Israeli Foreign Minister Shi-

a lo visit

wile areas

A STATE OF THE STA

Provide the state of the state

grav vo si vi

girebel chi

ans cil firm

The limit

D MA SAN

Mena with h

SIN N

THE ALL SAN

in Spirit

is in Sec.

(⊈_ahgau ia ta

The state

and the

a Elim

and all the appleant to affade Vi

2 sould : '.

Ass their tyle

22 W ...

TEL CLORU

⊞S Arabia

S. T.177

D44 PT ...

EDEC 50:

HOLD A. Y.

202 14

STA PORT !

空外位 是正

ALCU ...

kiláber;....

2 303 12.5

S 102 441 Pc ...

≥ efficia.

a-ia 2710° v :-

Sty William ...

Canal Africa year

MODEL ANDEL

Belief and Kalings

wind Sund Vi.

THE ALL BULL

Group claims

o Minya poli

URO (AF)

and Al Games and distance G

adamed research

amboth in a co

med here the same and the re-terest on the re-terest of the re-

the policyment and one per value then fleet the state of the state of Acher Communication of the com

maper Chicago

in of Sw

_{jakoni} EN

Adjust N. N. Adjust Land ... Adjust the land ... A bas a bas and a bas a

ERAN, GET

mon Peres — only to find that there was no seat for him. A furious Vassiliou who left the reception without saying goodbye to the holiday island's distinguished guest, demanded a public apology Friday from President Glafcos Clerides, the man who defeated him in a presidential election last year. "What is really provocative is that I was invited to the official reception but not the dinner," Mr. Vassi-liou told Reuters on the morning after. "I was talking to Mr. Peres and then walked towards the official dinner to find out that there was no seat reserved for me," he said. "When I turned around and told the (Cypriot) Foreign Minister (Alecos Michaelides) that I couldn't see my name anywhere, be said: "You can't see it because you are not invited." Mr. Vassilious who described the snub as a blunt violation of the country's protocol said he would meet Mr. Peres Saturday in the coastal resort town of Paphos and would explain why he left without saying goodnight to him.
What happened was really a disgrace. I demand a public apology from President Clerides." Mr. Vassiliou said. Mr. Peres arrived in Cyprus Thursday for a three-day official visit to strengthen ties between the Mediterranean neighbours.

Images of caravan trails released in ancient lost city

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) -Radar images captured in space of caravan trails near the lost city of Ubar on the Arabian peninsula have been released by scientists. The trails are buried under the sand in Oman said Mary Hardin, a spokeswoman for the Jet Propulsion Laboratory. which collected the radar images from the U.S. space shuttle programme. The images taken during an April shuttle mission gives scientists better data and a higher resolution image than they have ever had before, Ms. Hardin said. The ancient city was discovered in 1992 with the aid of remote sensing data. Archaeologists believe Ubar existed from about 2800 B.C., to about 300 A.D. It was a remote desert outpost where caravans were assembled for the transport of frankincense across the desert. The image-collecting mission is part of an ongoing programme to get pictures from hundreds of sites around the Earth, Ms. Hardin said. "By imaging the Earth with radar, we are able to study how the Earth is changing, she said. Other images recorded during the mission include a crater on the Yucatan peninsula of Mexico caused by an asteroid. The asteroid purportedly hit 65 million years ago and wiped out the dinosaurs, scientists said. Another image was a volcano in Colombia that is normally under heavy cloud cover, making it hard to study. The radar equip-ment will be taken back into space on Aug. 18 for a 10-day trip on the space shuttle. Arad was captured by Sbiite Muslim zealots after Indian woman his plane was shot down in South Lebanon in 1986. sentenced to Israeli leaders say they have death reasonable evidence showing Arad was still alive although for bride burning

NEW DELHI (R) - An

Indian woman has been sentenced to death for burning her daughter-in-law alive because of an insufficient dowry, newspapers reported Saturday. The person who perpetrates a barbaric crime without any human consideration must be given the extreme penalty." the newspapers quoted Judge Dinesh Dayal as saving when he sentenced the woman. The woman, named as Chandravati, was accused of killing her 20-year-old daughter-inlaw by pouring kerosene over her and setting her alight in Delhi six years ago. Ms. Chandravati claimed the daughter-in-law died in an accident in the kitchen, where, as in many Indian homes, cooking was done on kerosene stoves. Scores of such deaths are reported each year in India, where demanding dowries is officially illegal but widely practised.

U.S. to give 50 F-16 warplanes to Israel WASHINGTON (USIA) -

The Department of Defence released the following memorandum on Friday: The U.S. Air Force will deliver the first of 50 F-16A/ B aircraft to the government of Israel Monday. August 1. 1994. at Hatzor Air Base. Israel.

The transfer of the 50 aircraft was promised to Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin by President Clinton in November 1993 to support the Middle East peace process. The authority for the transfer comes from Presidemial Determination 94-20 igned March 31, 1994. The PDD directs the drawdown of $161.9 million in defence articles and services by the Department of Defence.

These funds will cover the first 35 aircraft which are scheduled to be delivered to Israel this year. The last 15 aircraft will be funded by an additional $75 million special drawdown authority noi vei designated by Congress.

The transfer of these F-16 aircraft supports the Middle East peace process by shoring up Israel's security, thereby reducing the risks inherent in achieving a lasting peace. The Department of Defence and the U.S. Air Force looks forward to continuing its close relationship with the Israeli Air Force.

HONOUR GUARD: Honorary guards on Saturday march past the coffins of those killed in a bomb attack in Madrid on Friday. The victims included a general (AFP photo).

Unemployment put at 18% in Jordan

AMMAN (J.T.) - The Department of Statistics Saturday said the total workforce in the Kingdom stood at 859,300 and the rate of unemployment was running at 18.8 per cent of the workforce.

According to a departmeot statement, nearly 763,000 people are employed, of whom 434,806 are working in social and public administration services. The second largest employer is the trade and restaurants and hotel sec tor which employs 129,754 people, followed by the mining sector with 91,086 people, the statement said.

It said the total oumber of job seekers as registered with the Civil Service Commission (CSC), which oormally recruits candidates for working in government offices, now stands at 96,765. In November, the government endorsed a development plan for 1993-1997 period entailing an ambitious programme to curb unemployment and reduce its rate to 9.6 per cent by the end of 1997.

The Ministry of Planning said then that the plan provides for investments in the economic and social and infrastructure sectors that wonk create 224,000 additional According to the department statistics' statement Saturday, non-Jordanian workers with valid work permits now hving and working in the Kingdom are 53,021, of whom 37,960 are Egyp-

— $671 million for migra-

- $359 million for Eastern

$220 million for the

tion and refugee assistance.

Europe and the Baltic states.

U.S. Peace Corps program-

- $105 million for interna-

- $50 million for United Nations family plaoning

tional narcotics control.

programmes.

'probably dead.'

Saharan Africa.

Jordan reiterates stand

(Continued from page 1) seini to Jordan to discuss the future of Jerusalem in the light of the Washington Declaration. "Out of concern for good relations with Jordan, the Palestine National Authority decided in its meeting today to send a delegation to Amman soon," PNA Secretary-General Al Tayyeb Abdul

Rahim was quoted as saying in a Reuter dispatch from The delegation will "pave the way for a high-level meeting between the Jordanian and Palestinian leadership," said Mr. Abdul Rahim, the former Palestinian ambassador to Jordan and expected to be in the delegation.

He said the delegation would discuss with the Jordanian government the latest developments and set future coordination in all fields between the two

PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat, who is also head of the PNA, meanwhile sent a message to U.S. Secretary of State Warren Christopher "stressing the PLO's opposition" to the clause on Jerusalem in the Washington Declaration, Agence France Presse (AFP) reported.

The news agency, quoting Arafat aide Nabil Abu Rodeina, said the message said "any attack on the Palestinian rights threatens the whole peace process."

Jerusalem "is an integral part of the occupied territories, and its status must be discussed during negotiations on the final status" of the territories, the letter reportedly said.

The letter, sent to Mr. Christopher through the American consulate in East Jerusalem, also praised American efforts to establish peace in the region. AFP

On Tuesday Mr. Arafat contacted several Arab lead-ers in a bid to gain backing for the Palestinian position on Jerusalem

In Jeddah, Hamid Al Ghabid, head of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference (OIC), told an OIC meeting: The definitive status of Jerusalem should be defined according to the terms of the Israeli-Palestinian accord."

The OIC session also agreed to a PLO request for a $2 million loan for the Palestinians.

PLO Representative at the United Nations Nasser Al Kidwa meanwhile informed the U.N. of the organisation's opposition to the Israeli pledge, in a message conveyed Friday to Secretary General Boutros Ghali and Security Council acting President Jamsheed Marker from Pakistan, the PLO news agency. WAFA, reported. "The PLO calls on Israel to stand by its commitments oo this issue as stated in the declaration of principles", the message said. "Any legislation or action that might hamper the activities of Palestinian institutions in East Jerusalem would be a clear vinlation of the text and spirit of the declaration of principles, and would harm the peace process."

U.S. Congress clears way for debt relief

Mr. Obey said earmarks make his committee vulner-able "for the kind of demagoguery we bave to undergo every day" from members demanding budget cots while seeking mooey for their own pet programme.

administration, Mr. Obey softened the language to read hat the government "should" provide $150 millioo to Ukraine, at least $75 million for Armenia and $50 million for Georgia.

The total package of $13.7 billion is more than $600 million less than was budgeted for 1994. The compromise bill must still be approved on the Senate and House floors

The bill maintains military for the perennial big two -

BBC reporter kidnapped, slain in Kabul

KABUL (AP) - The bullet-riddled body of a British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) reporter was found Saturday on the southern edge of Kabul, a day after be was kidnapped by masked gunmen. Mir Weis Jaleel, 26, was kidnapped on his way back to the Afghan capital after interviewing the country's renegade prime minister, according to Ettore Mo, an Italian journalist travelling with him. Mr. Mo said four gunmen, their faces wrapped in scarves, dragged Jaleel out of his car and shoved him into their vehicle. "He said to me, 'mister Mo, they're arresting me'," Mr. Mo said. "But what could I do?" Jaleel, an Afghan national, was a reporter for the BBC's services in Pashto and Persian, the two main languages spoken in Afghanistan.

Egypt $2.1 billion. It earmarks $80 million for refugees from the former Soviet Uoion and East

Europe resettling in Israel.

International Development

Association, the wing of the World Bank which provides soft loans for poorer nations.

- $802 million for Sub-

bill were:

Among other items in the

- $1.235 billion for the (Continued from page 1) million in bumanitarian and economic aid It also provided $850 million for the former Soviet republics, but, with strong pressure from Hoose Appropriations Committee Chairman Dave Obey, rejected Senate attempts to 'earmark" or provide specific amounts for some coun-

Instead of obligating the explosion to justify a major before going to the president.

and economic aid amounts Israel again this year is budgeted $3 billion and

Lebanese on alert against attack (Continued from page 1)

Israeli airman Ron Arad was clare that these charges are without any grain of truth. We are true Muslims and Islam does not allow the killing of civilians, women or children," Sheikh Tufeili said in a Friday sermon at a mosque in the suburbs of south Beirut. He said his men would fight unto death to repel any major attack Israel mounts in Lebanon. "Israel is insisting on hold-ing Iran and Hizbollah responsible for the Argentine aggression in Lebanon," he "Let everyone throughout the world be informed we will fight unto death and will seek to kill every Israeli who enters Lebanese soil as an aggressor." Sheikh Tufeili

In the l'Orient-le Jour interview, the 46-year-old Tufeili said that missing

they know nothing about his current whereabouts. "Iran and Syria have undertaken determined efforts to find this airman to no avail," Sheikh Tufeili

"If this man is not in the bands of the fundamentalists. the Iranians or the Syrians. where will he be and what's the reason for holding him all this time?" the cleric added. "It seems obvious to me that Ron Arad is probably dead. He might have died in an accident and this is why not even his body has appeared," be said

Save water....
every drop counts